The final trial of the steam fire engine iladelphia, preparatory to going into seron Thursday morning, in ant of Rev. Mr. Wadworth's Church, Arch reet, above Tenth. Long before the engine ached the ground, Arch street, in the immeiate vicinity of the scene of trial, was crowdd with persons anxious to witness it. At a parter before eleven o'clock, the engine, with mean already raised, made its appearance, mwn by two horses. Water was taken, and about ten minutes a stream of water was frown down Arch street, giving a number of column, who thought themselves a suffi nt distance off, a perfect soaking. Trials were made with different sized nozzles. With inch, and an inch and a quarter nozzle. greams were thrown to the vane on the spire the church, a distance of 158 feet. This hat was received with cheers by the crowd. An average of about 65lbs. of steam was used being the performance of the engine. A man having but one arm was observed about one o'clock yesterday morning to emerge from an alley near Spruce street sharf. He staggered very much, as though intexicated, and a moment afterwards took a tring leap into the river. An officer rushed the edge of the pier and threw in a bench. but the man sunk like a stone. He was dead when drawn to the dock. A colored woman named Hannah Allen, 60 pars of age, died from privation and expo-are on Thursday, at No. 1110 Tenth street. The collars now worn by young gentlemen re decidedly unique. They are shaped like small section of store pipe, and encircle the teck in such a manner as to have earned for em the above title. We observe also that peg-top style of pants is being revived. eculiarity of these garments is, that y give to the nether limbs the shape of y fall carrots-very small at the bottom, remarkably bulbous about the top. The shions are growing slightly ridiculous, and bould be attended to.

The cars on the Fifth and Sixth street Pasenger Railway carried over twenty thousand ersons on Wednesday last-the first day that e railway went into operation. Already empetition with the empibuses has had the effect of reducing the fare on Second treet, from Kensington to the Navy Yard, five cents. Another effect of the introduc ion of the passengers has been to cause Dock treet to be less obstructed with omnibuses. During the past week the highest range of mometer was 52, the lowest 21, one gree below the freezing point. The arrangements for establishing a clearig house in this city for the daily settlement balances between the various banks of the etty, are progressing, and will soon be com-plete. A committee of bank presidents visited New York and Boston, for the purpose of becoming familiar with the different systems pursued in those cities. A preference is givin to the New York plan, and its principal feature will be pursued.

A number of the iron foundries and mills. both cotton and woolen, located in the old district of Kensington, have resumed operations, and we may expect, in a short time, to see that enterprising district recovering from the effects of the financial embarrassment of the country, and the pleasant sound of the loom and anvil will once more be heard by the inhabitants of the northeastern portion of the city. James B. Sheridan, one of the inspectors of the port, has been removed from the Custom House by Collector Baker. It is generally understood that the cause of his dismissal was the fact that he has warmly espoused the cause of Judge Douglas and Gov. Walker. BURNING CORN FOR FUEL .- The Chicago Iribune says: "We used to hear that among the wenders of 'the West,' the practice, in times of little prices and much hog, of burning bacon on the river steamers, as the cheapest fuel was not the least. Laterally we have supposed that Western men had outgrown the decessity of what would ordinarily be crimihal waste, but a gentleman who has just retried from a trip on the Illinois Central, tells us that at Kankakee, only a few hours' ride from this city, he found a man burning good sound corn in the ear in his stove. Inquiring the reason of what was to him shame-fal, he was told that while poor coal was worth o cents per 100 lbs. at the depot, unthrashed corn was dull at 25 cents for the same weight." him.

Despatches from Col. Johnston,

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 .- Despatches have been received at the War Department from Col. Johnston, dated Nov. 80th, which confirm the previous reports of excessive suffering and great loss of the draught animals, by snew storms, cold and starvation. A suffi cient number of oxen, though poor, have been saved to supply the proportions of the rations for six days in the week, and there is on band bacon sufficient for one day in each week for seven months. There is also flour

The storms dealt roughly with Col. Cook's command. He lost half of his horses, besides a number of mules. A further advance toward Salt Lake City cannot be made without a new supply of such animals, to procure which Capt. Marcy has been despatched to New Mexico, for use in the early spring, when the army with a volunteer force of 2000 men will resume the march as soon as supplied with horses and mules, and the grass on the mountains is sufficient to supply them.

Two volunteer companies have been mus-tered into service for nine months, and it is expected that in a few days two more companies will be mustered in.

The troops have borne the dangers and privations of the march with patience and cheerfulness, and are in fine health, though some of the regiments are still suffering from frost

Another letter from an officer of the army says that the Mormons are afraid of the mounted men. They are a set of cowards, like all assassins and robbers, and he fears that their leaders and those who have no claim in the valley will run away, requiring their deluded followers to destroy their property, lest it may benefit the army.

Conviction of the Lancaster Murderers. Alexander Anderson and Henry Richards have both been convicted of the murder of Mrs. Garber and Mrs. Ream, in Lancaster co., Pa. After the conviction, Anderson made : rope out of some carpet chain, intending to hang himself, but it was taken from him .-Whenever either of them are taken out and returned to their cells they are closely examined, so that they cannot get hold of the means of either escape or suicide. Ever since they have been in prison they have been sha ved by one of the prisoners, as it has not been deemed advisable to trust them with a razor. Anderson now evidently fully realizes his true position; but Richards thinks he will not be hung, as he says he only held the door while his comrade murdered the women.

The Lancaster Times, of Thursday morn ing, describes the reception of the death sentence by the murderers. Richards received the sentence with tears but Anderson was perfectly cool.

They both were then taken away by the Sheriff, but the District Attorney announced that the question "if they had anything to say why sentence of death should not be pronounced upon them," had not been asked .-Upon this the two men were brought back again. The question was then repeated to Richards first. He, perhaps not understanding it, or thinking that by reiterating his false confession might escape, began a story, commencing with the day when he started from Lebaron, until he came to the house of Mrs. Garber. The whole of the story is contained in Col. Harris' address. After he had finished Anderson took up the tale, and gave an account of himself and how he became entangled in this fiendish outrage.

They both concluded their remarks by say ing they were "innocent men, that they will die innocent, that they never killed the women," &c., but these did not have much effect upon the spectators or the judges. The sentences were then repeated, amid the most profound silence.

While the two were speaking, occasional murmars of disapprobation from the bystanders would break out, other times there was no attempt at disturbance or disorder.

After the sentences had been prenounced several persons showed a disposition to applaud, in token of their approval.

Public School Building Burned.

Public School Building No. 14, of Brooklyn, N. Y., corner of Concord and Navy streets, was discovered to be on tire one day last week. There were nearly 900 pupils present at the time the fire broke out, and in the excitement attending their exit from the building, seven boys between the ages of six and ten years, were crushed and suffocated by their companions on the middle landing of the lower stairway. The structure was in the form of an L, with a front of 97 feet on Concord street, and the same on Navy street, fronting the Park, and 35 feet deep. It was built of brick, three stories high. The ground floor was used for a play ground, the second floor for the primary department, and the third floor for the grammar department.

The fire was first discovered about 23 o'clo

as near as can be ascertained, by Miss H. M. Bebee, a teacher in the primary department, second story, in a lathed and plastered partition wall, through which passed the tin heat-It was undoubtedly from these heaters that the fire was communicated to the wood work. Miss Bebee, with great presence of mind, locked the door and informed the Principal privately of the fire. In this manner the presence of the fire was made known to all the teachers, and without creating any alarm. Miss Bebee had sixty small children under her charge, and after having notified the Principal, she dismissed them, and they, taking their clothes and books, left the premises in very good order and without accident. All of the children in this end of the building escaped without difficulty. The fire spread with great rapidity towards Navy street. A few of the children jumped from the windows; only one of these however was injured, and this one had one of his legs broken. Not very many minutes had elapsed after the first general alarm before there was a panic among the scholars in the Navy street end of the building. By this time many of the boys had gained the street, and had been going out in good order, chedient to the orders f the teachers, but when the smoke came drifting up the stairway, and it was noised about what the trouble was, the boys who behind became unmanageable, and rushed in every direction to escape—a few to the windows, but the majority to the Navy street stairway. The great rush was on the stairs immediately leading to the street.— These were filled with small boys; the older ones, in their anxiety to escape, rushed upon them until the whole space was packed with Of course the little ones were pressed down under the weight, and here seven boys lost their lives-not by fire or smoke, but actually smothered to death.

Making Maple Sugar in January.-Some of the farmers in Michigan, deeming the present extraordinary weather for the season favorable to the running of sap, have recently tapped their maple trees to try the experiment, and succeeded in making quite a quantity of maple sugar. Burglars were busy in Johnstown, Pa., on the night of the 18th. The store of John Brady was entered, through the cellar, and an overcoat worth ten dollars, about eight dollars in change and scrip, some tea, candles, tobacco and other things taken, altogether worth about twenty dollars. The private residences of C. L. Pershing, Henry A. Boggs and Joseph Crouse were also entered. Messrs Pershing and Boggs are absent from home. Mr. Crouse heard the intruders in his house, and got up to see who they were, when they suddenly decamped.

Holloway's Pills .- When the great internal organs perform their functions irregularly, ife seldem reaches its ordinary limit, and vigorous old age is impossible. All spasmode action of the socretive apparatus is productive of premature decay, and the lethargy and shness of the stumach and the liver is equally unfavorable to langevity. One of the most inestimable properties of these pills is their regulating power. Their operation va-ries according to the condition of the system, being restrictive where there is too much excitement, and stimulative where torpidity exists. They produce a wenderful effect upon the pulse, improving it when feeble, and calming it down when too full and rapid. To bring the whole system into perfect harmony with the laws of health is the object they are designed to fulfill, and they accomplish it.

Letter from a Well-known Physician.

HAVERHILL, Mass., June 1, 1856. suffering from dyspensia some years since and trying almost everything for its removal without any benefit, I was accidentally led to make use of the Oxygenated Bitters, and after a short trial of them, found my health improving, and in time my disease radically removed. Since then I have used them in my practice, and generally with good success. I cure of dyspepsia, in many of its aggravated forms. I have seen the most stubborn cases, which had resisted almost all the preparations commonly used for indigestion, yield as by magic upon the administration of a few dos of these Bitters. Such results have increased my confidence in their medicinal powers, and strengthened my convictions of their superiority over all other instrumentalities, in the treatment of the complaints for which they are recommended. I would certainly advise those troubled with dyspepsia to use the Bitters, and I am confident all who do so will reap great benefit if there is nothing to contraindicate their use. A. R. PORTER, M. is to get at the disease in a direct manner. Att medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased, we take me licine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly but them.—The reason why Consumption and diseases of the Lungs the reason way Consumption and assessed in a Langs have heretofore resisted all treatment, has been because hey were not approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to be local, and yet they were so ad-ministered that sthey could only act constitutionally, ex-pending their immediate action upon the stomach, whilst the foul ulcers within the Langs were unmolested. In halation brings the mediche into direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action its application is so simple that it may be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid.
