THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

been recently removed from the Secretary of Kansas Territory, under somes which imply severe censure on tof the President, and having had no normation of my removal, nor any ity for explanation or defence, I demed it necessary to present to the sof the United States a brief statement and in rindication of my motives, and in n of the results of the act for Libare been condemned.

My acceptance of it under all ces, was a proof of strong ahip for the President, and of unboun nce in the firmness and faithfulwhich he would adhere to the line deliberately agreed upon between by defiberately agreed upon between is whole Cabinet, and Gov. I supposed the on of slavery to be the only cause of son and difficulty among the people; my brief inaugural address of the 17th is my brief this as the chief subject of treated this as the chief subject of nee upon which a submission to the ould be likely to be demanded. I and, however, that this view was altotoo limited, and did not reach the true of of controversy. The great mass of induition of the Territory were dissatwhat the local government, and earnest-stith the local government, and earnestning that the previous Legislature had forced upon them by the fraud and vioof a neighboring people, they proclaimments of legislative bodies thus believed illegitimate, and not entitled to obedi-

is was the condition of things when Gov. er came to the Territory in the latter of May. It was evident that the just of permitting the people to regulate we affairs could not be successfully ed out, unless they could be inspired a out, unless they could be inspired confidence in the agents of Government whom the result was to be effected. ere minority of the people had been lisatisfied and contumacious, they might by have been pronounced factious and ad as disturbers of the peace ; but when satisfaction was general, comprising the whole people, a more respectful ration was indispensable to a peaceadistment. It was evident that the polrepression-a rigid attempt to enforce ien without an effort at conciliationd inevitably result in a renewal of the war. With commendable anxiety to this contingency, Gev. Walker resolved among the people, to listen to their com s, to give them assurance of a fair and nistration of the Territorial Governand to induce them, if possible, to on their hostility, and to enter upon the wfal but decisive struggle of the ballot-I was often with the Governor when ressed the people, and gave my best is in aid of the great purpose of concilimet again in Lecompton to resume its labors. Many of the members of that body were bitterly hostile to the Governor and Secretary. on account of their rejection of the Oxford and McGee frauds, in which some of the members and officers of the Convention had a direct participation. In fact, this body, with some honorable exceptions, well represented the minority party in the Territory, and were fully imbued with the same spirit and designs. It was obviously not their desire to secure to the real people of Kansas the control of their own affairs. In the Con-stitution soon afterwards adopted, they endea-vored to supercede the Legislature which had been elected by the people, by providing, in the second section of the schedule, that "all laws now of force in the Territory shall continue to be of force until altered, amended, or repealed by a Legislature under the provisions of this Constitution." They pro-vided still more effectually, as they supposed, for the perpetuation of their minority government, by adopting the Oxford fraud as the basis of their apportionment, giving a great preponderance of representation to the counties on the Missouri border, and affording, at the same time, every possible facility for the introduction of spurious votes. The President of the Convention was clothed with unlimited power in conducting the elections and receiving the returns, while the officers are not required to take the usual oath to secure fair and honest dealing. The elections were hurried on in midwinter—the 21st December and the 4th January-when emigrants could only come from the immediate borders, under the qualification which invited to the ballot box every white male inhabitant " in the Ter-ritory on that day." The same man who did this had previously denounced Gov. Walker for the suggestion in his inaugural address, and in his Topeka speech, that the constitution should be submitted to all the bona fide inhabitants, although he invariably stated, when asked for explanation, that some reasonable length of residence ought to be required as evidence of the bona fide character of inhabitancy. It was apparent that all the machinery had been artfully prepared for a repetition of gross frauds, similar to those which had been ttempted in October; and it was in view of all hese facts, after the adjournment of the Convention, that the people of the Territory, by an almost unanimous demand, called upon me, as the acting Governor, to convene an extra session of the Legislature in order to enable them peaceably to protect themselves against the wrongs evidently contemplated by the adoption of this constitution. There was no law to punish frauds in election returns. The people were intensely excited, and it was the opinion of the coolest heads in the Territory, that, without a call of the Legislature, the elections under the constitution could not have taken place without collision and bloodshed. The meeting of the Legislature divert ed the attention of the people from the schemes of violence upon which they were brooding, substituted the excitement of debate and investigation for that of fierce and warlike hatred, and enabled their representatives o devise means for counteracting the wrongs which they justly apprehend.

Recent events have shown that their apprehensions were well founded. Enormous frauds have been perpetrated at the precincts of Ox-ford, Shawnee and Kickapoo; and it may well be believed that this result was actually de signed by the artful leaders who devised the plan and framework of the Lecompton Contitution. I have lately been at Shawnee, and I have seen and conversed with persons who were at Oxford on the day of election. The frauds committed are notorious; and though dishonest persons may deny them, and may fill the channels of public information with shameless representations to the contrary, they can be easily established beyond all controversy. It was to enable the people to shield them.

selves from these frauds, and to give legal expression to their hatred and rejection of the instrument which permitted them, and was to be carried by them, that I called the Legislature together.

In my judgment, the people had a fair claim to be heard on this subject through the mine whether I have not chosen the only honorable course which the circumstances allowed me to pursue. FRED P. STANTON.

WASHINGTON, January 29, 1858.

Letter from Philadelphia. On Thursday afternoon Mr. John S. Lentz late a commission merchant, at No. 401 Com-merce street, was arraigned before Alderman Enue on a charge of misdemeanor, in having, as a factor, fraudulently deposited, as collateral for the raising of money, a quantity of merchandise consigned to him by the firm of Byce Richards & Co., glass manufacturers, at Pittsburgh. Mr. Bennet said, in behalf of his client, that the goods had been in every instance sold to the defendant. His delinquency, therefore, was occasioned by inability to pay and not through fraud. David Paul Brown appeared for the prosecution. He said that the case was palpably a case of fraud, than which nothing could be stronger, as the act of the defendant was clearly within the meaning of the act. The magistrate de-cided to hold Mr. Lentz in $5,000 bail, which was entered by Mr. Fricke, of Germantown.

There is manifestly a great revival in prog ress amongst the religious community at the present time in various sections of the city. Especially is this the case with the Baptist persuasion. At Sansom Street Church the preaching of Rev. T. L. Breckenridge has been attended by great multitudes, and num bers have united with the church.

The Rev. William Ramsey, D. D., who for wenty years officiated in connection with the ledar street Presbyterian Church, died on Tuesday, in the 55th year of his age. The Rev. Dr. was born in Juniata county, in this State, and studied theology at Princeton, New Jersey. The decensed was engaged for four years in India, in the service of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. The Rev. Dr. leaves two daughters, his wife having died while he was in India.

A collossal figure of Henry Clay is to be placed to-day upon the summit of Messrs. Wood & Perot's foundry at Spring Garden. The statue is the original model of the iren effigy of the great statesman which surmounts the monument at Pottsville.

There is an unusual degree of excitement amongst the politicians in Philadelphia in reference to the next Democratic candidate for judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsyl-vania. The cry of Sharswood and Porter seems to overshadow everything else politically, and a number of warm debates have already taken place upon the merits of the two candidates seeking the nomination. The contest in the primary movements is likely to be a very warm one. About noon yesterday, a man and woman, rather fashionably attired, while passing Fourth and Walnut streets, were startled by the sudden appearance of a female, supposed to be the wife of the former, who made a violent assault upon the latter, tearing her bonnet and disordering her dress very much. During the attack the man made a hasty retreat, seeming to think that discretion was the better part of valor. When the female had exhausted her rage and strength also, she walked in the direction taken by the man. The scene occupied but a minute or two, yet it was witnessed by a number of persons, none of whom, however, attempted to inter fere.

Huntingdon, Jackson's Hotel February 16. Dr. HARDNAN treats Consumption, Bronchits, Laryng-tis, Asthma, and all diseases of the Throat by MEDICA-TED INHALATION. The great point in the treatment of all human maladies is to get at the disease in a direct manner. All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased, we take medicine directly into the stomach. If the langs are diseased, herathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into them.— The reason why Consumption and diseases of the Lungs have heretofore resisted all / reatment, has been because it ev were not approached i' a direct manner by medicine. It ey were not approached i'ca direct manner by medicine. They were intended to be local, and yet they were so ad ministered that they could only act constitutionally, expending their insteadiate action upon the stomach, whilst the foal ulcers within the Lungs were unmolested. In halation brings the medicine into direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action Its application is so simple that it may be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid. Legislature. The organic act confided to me the discretion of convening that body in extra ession. The President of the United States and no rightful authority to exercise that discretion for me. He had the power of removal, and such control as that power gives him. But I would cheerfully have submitted to removal and consequent loss of favor with the President, rather than recupy the position of Governor and refuse to the people an oppurtunity to protect themselves against the basest frauds and wrongs ever attempted upon an

Not having been informed of the grounds of my removal, I know them only through the newspaper reports, to the effect that, in calling the Legislature, I disobeyed the in structions of the President. I had no instructions bearing on the subject, and there was no time to obtain them, even if I had felt bound to substitute the President's will for that discretion which the organic act confided to me. The convening of the Legislature undoubtedly prevented difficulty and secured peace. Were it important, I am confident I could establish this position by the most indubitable facts; but it is sufficient now to say that the peace of the Territory was not in fact disturbed, and whatever approaches were made towards such a result rere wholly attributable to the policy of the Administration in censuring my acts and removing me from office.

The measure for which I have been unjustly condemned has enabled the people of Kansas to make known their real will in regard to the Lecompton Constitution. This affords the Democratic party an opportunity to defend the true principles of constitutional liberty, and to save itself from disastrous division and utter overthrow. If Congress will heed the voice of the people, and not force upon them a government which they have rejected by a vote of four to one, the whole country will be satisfied, and Kansas will quietly settle her own affairs without the least difficulty, and without any danger to the Confederacy. The Southern States, which are supposed to have a deep interest in the matter, will be saved from the supreme folly of standing up in defence of so wicked and dishonest a contrivance as the Lecompton Constitution. The moral part of their position will not be weakened by a vain and useless defence of wrong, when it is perfectly certain they will gain nothing even by success in the present attempt.

The extra session of the Legislature has done good, also, by giving means to expose and punish the menstreus frauds which have been perpetrated, and doubtless, also, by preventing others which would have been attempted. It has driven the guilty miscreants engaged in them to become fugitives from justice, and has rendered it impossible for the peace of the Territory hereafter to be endangered by similar occurrences. In view of these facts and results, I willingly accept the rebuke conveyed in my peremp-tory dismissal from office, but I appeal to the deliberate judgment of the people to deter-
