

State Convention.

The Citizens of Philadelphia and of the several counties of the Commonwealth opposed to the "Lecompton Swindle," and the despotic policy of the National Administration in forcing upon the people of Kansas a Constitution in defiance of their known wishes, and in subversion of the great right of self-government; and in favor of a Sound American policy in opposition to the policy and intrigues of foreign governments, are requested to send Delegates, equal in number to their Representatives and Senators, in the State Legislatures, to meet in Convention at Harrisburg, in the Hall of the House of Representatives, on THURSDAY, the 8th day of July, 1858, at 2 o'clock, p. m., to nominate State Officers, and transact such other business as the exigencies may demand.

By order of the State Committee.
LEMUEL TODD, Chairman.
Attest:—EDWARD McPHERSON, Sec'y.
May 27, 1858.

Notices of New Advertisements.

Mr. Cummings offers his services to military companies now forming as Professor of Military Tactics.

The attention of farmers is invited to the advertisement of Manny's Mower and Reaper. P. F. Loop has disposed of his boot and shoe establishment to E. C. Hamilton, who will carry on the business at the old stand. Cubbison's ice wagon will commence serving customers on Saturday.

State Convention.

By a call in our paper of to-day, it will be seen that there will be a State Convention of the Opposition at Harrisburg, on Thursday, the 8th day of July, for the nomination of State Officers and the transaction of such other business as may be deemed expedient. The call embraces all who are opposed to the Lecompton swindle and the despotic policy of the National Administration in forcing upon the people of Kansas a Constitution in defiance of their known wishes, and in subversion of the great right of self-government. The ground upon which action is desired, and co-operation invited, is broad and comprehensive. There is in it no policy broached that should not secure for it a hearty and general response, and that is not eminently just, conservative and national.

The Philadelphia Daily News takes ground against the movement, though as no sacrifice of principle is asked from any one it is difficult to conceive from what motive. For our part, we hope the opposition of this county will see proper to have a representative at the convention, and not find fault with it before it is held.

Democracy South and North.

The Montgomery (Alabama) Mail of May 12, in an article on reopening the slave trade, says:

"We consider that slaves are property as much as mules or horses, that we have a right to buy property wherever we can obtain it cheapest, that our eloquent Alabamian well remarks, the federal navy has no more right to restrict the importation of slaves than it has that of Maltese Jacks, and that the laws which allow yankee traders to import jacks and forbid Southern planters from importing slaves are a statutory reminder of Southern degradation and dishonor. We believe that those laws are unconstitutional and tyrannical, and that it should be the endeavor of every Southern Representative to obtain their repeal.

If negroes in Africa may be stolen or sold by those who have no right but might to sell are property, this argument is reasonable enough; but what says the Democrat to such a doctrine? Is democracy here and in Alabama the same?

The Americans of Blair county met in convention on Thursday last and nominated the following ticket:

- Assembly—Jacob Barley, of Tyrone.
- Sheriff—James Funk.
- Prothonotary—Joseph Baldrige.
- Commissioner—Enos M. Jones.
- Poor Director—John B. Riddle.
- Coroner—William Fox.
- Auditor—J. S. Nickodemus.

A republican convention is to meet to-day, which we hope will unite with the above so as to make young Blair sound again on the goose question.

A communication on the Poor House question, in answer to some of Justice's statements, and particularly relating to the sale of the farm, costs of doctors' bills, &c. was received at too late an hour for our paper this week.

The Danville Intelligencer of a late date says the Trustees of the Montour Iron Company started another furnace last week. All the Danville iron works are now in operation except the new wing of the Montour mill and one furnace. The employees are furnished with the necessities of life, but receive no money for their labor.

An arrival at New York reports an exciting scene in the harbor of Sagua la Grande, Cuba. The commander of the British gunboat Buzzard attempted to compel Capt. Bartlett, of the American ship Clarendon, to exhibit his papers. The ship was first fired at with blank cartridges and then the British officer with one hundred men proceeded to board her. Capt. Bartlett refused to allow any but the officer to come on board, and he was forced finally to leave without examining the ship's papers.

Wholesale Denunciation of our Citizens.

The Democrat of this place some weeks ago gave currency to a rumor, brought here by an employee of the Railroad Company at Patterson, that the shops, &c. at that place were to be removed to Lewistown Station. The Juniata Register of last week, in its anxiety to defend the twin cities below the Narrows, published the following characteristic production:

"The idea of the removal of the shops from Patterson to Lewistown, suggested in the Democrat, originated with the editor, in whom no doubt, the wish was father to the thought. Although there is not one word of truth in the above 'information,' yet so firmly is it believed in Lewistown that all the old ladies are wearing new caps on the head of it. If the Democrat, in the fullness of its information, had stated a few of the 'several reasons' which make the removal of the Machine Shops necessary, it would have been more satisfactory to the public, and might have had the appearance of truth; as it is, the only reason assigned, the 'insufficiency of ground for buildings,' appears laughable and ridiculous to all persons except those who see everything through the magnifying influence of a 'wild cat' bank. The location of the Machine Shops at Patterson has long been a terrible eyesore to 'old town,' and since the Commonwealth has disposed of her canals and public improvements, it is 'essentially necessary' to the existence of the 'dilapidated village' that she derive bread, butter and support from the Railroad Company or a rag paper factory. Indeed, the anxiety to obtain the shops at the 'most desirable point between Harrisburg and Pittsburg' has been so great in the 'desirable point,' as we have been informed from a credible source, that it was proposed to the P. R. R. Co. that if they would remove the shops from Patterson, the new buildings and improvements would be put up at the 'desirable point,' free of all cost and expense to the Company, and that the next Legislature would remove the Tonnage tax. The proposition of a 'one-horse town' on the Juniata to put up shops and improvements at a cost of over half a million dollars, when it has not money enough to build a decent pig-pen, is decidedly the richest joke of the season. If the rumor be true, and we believe it, that a subscription is now being taken for that purpose, we suggest for the credit of the 'concern,' that the money be applied to the payment of honest debts, in the redemption of bank notes, and the balance, if any there be, to postpone the inevitable bankruptcy that must ensue in case the weevil should again visit the wheat of the Big Valley. The climax of brazen impudence was certainly reached when the offer was made to take the contract for the removal of the Tonnage tax. They ought to have the contract! particularly after getting all the 'augers,' 'borers' and 'pumps' in the State of Pennsylvania, they couldn't engineer a bank bill through the Legislature. There is one thing certain, that if the P. R. R. Co. want the Tonnage tax removed, they will never go to Lewistown for assistance. Last Winter when the Lewistown bank bill was before the Legislature a friend of the measure approached a member of the House and asked his vote and influence in behalf of the bank bill. The member replied that he did not intend to support it. 'Why,' said the friend, 'the bill is a good one—note holders secured by State stocks and real estate. Have you examined it?' The member said that he had not and did not intend to examine it, for the name and place would kill it."

With all that relates to the Democrat we have nothing to do, but with the wholesale libel of our citizens by this "pig-pen" gentleman and his "cow-stable" brother of the Sentinel, we have so much to do that we shall at least make known that the former is Adam J. Greer, an apostate politician who has gone through the chrysaline stages of a whig, a know-nothing, a republican, and a red-mouthed locofoco in the space of four years, and is therefore a fit representative of that rare class who, to gratify some petty malevolence will revile many citizens of his native county with low and ungentlemanly abuse. The Sentinel has an article so similar in tone, merely substituting "cow-stable" for Greer's pig-pen, that the conclusion is almost irresistible they were concocted at one and the same time in just two such places. The latter we do not know, and as he has shown his aptitude for being one of the blackguards of the profession, have no desire to know.

Our town, it is true, has suffered much from the depression of business incident to the times, from the failure of the Lewistown Bank, and more recently by the crash of the Lancaster, and we have undoubtedly had, and still have, what is denominated hard times; but this is by no means confined to the town, as the agricultural community in reality suffer more from the want of money than we do here. A few failures have taken place, but the combined failures hardly amount to a recent single one in Juniata county—and notwithstanding the assertion of these hirelings of our poverty, applications for money loans by citizens of Juniata county are by no means "few or far between." Besides our one-horse population is so much greater than the magnificent village with more gravestones on its hills than inhabitants, that the ordinary business of a day here causes a circulation of more money than the product of a week there—at least we judge so from the fact that a gentleman from Juniata county a few months ago stated in Russell's Banking House that if "it were not for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company we (the people of Mifflintown and Patterson) would starve!" We say this from no disrespect to the citizens of that county, for although like all communities infested with some scoundrels, their want of means and produce does not render them the less honest or respectable.

The acts of a few men ought not always to be shouldered on the many. That the Lewistown Bank failed was more the fault of a loose banking system than any other; that the Lancaster Bank failed, may be attributed to the same cause, and not to the communities deceived by their management. In both cases the people of Lancaster and Lewistown placed faith in those who controlled those institutions, and to such an extent that thousands of dollars were taken in payments up to the hour of closing their doors; and in the case of Mr. Russell, who was then only partially paying out Lancaster money, $8000 were received at his Banking House on deposit and in payment of notes not due, on a day when all believed the bank had failed—every dollar of which he has since repaid. Many others who have been or are now in business—and they number hundreds—are known in most places in and out of the cities as men of integrity and ability, who have never failed to meet their obligations, yet all these are set down by two mountebanks, neither of whom probably owns a pig-pen or a cow-stable, as poverty stricken to such a degree that they could not build such outhouses.

When either of these gentlemen next sets foot in a decent house in Lewistown, the owner would be doing no more than justice by kicking him out of doors. We do not know what motive could prompt Greer and his "noble brother" to attack the "wild cat" bank for which a charter was sought last winter. We were not its special advocate, yet as it had the merit of requiring mortgages on valuable real estate, stock security, and a specie basis for the redemption of its notes, we were willing that the experiment should be tried, and supposed that as none but those who would thus encumber their property could well be the losers, even anti-bank democrats could not object to an experiment which might test the possibility of securing note-holders—a feature which individual liability and all other bank inventions has thus far failed to secure. We leave them however in the hands of the "wild cat" gentlemen who took part in the concern, some of whom may possibly send Greer their dogtags on an occasion when he may not desire to see them.

Except a desire that such removal should take place, the whole story of promises, subscriptions, tonnage tax, and their accompaniments, are the coinage of dissembling brains, the owners of which are rather to be pitied than condemned for their muddled condition. A party of men from Williamsport lately attempted to cut away the boom at Lock Haven. Several were arrested and held to bail. T. C. McDowell has been elected President of the Central Bank of Hollidaysburg. Didn't Tom make some anti-bank speeches here in front of the National some years ago? Wm. T. Barnitz, A. M., who has organized a flourishing classical institute at Hanover, Pa., has been elected an honorary member of the Philomathean Society of Pennsylvania College. Catharine Bronk, a young lady of Albany, aged fourteen years, took a small dose of arsenic, recently, for the purpose of beautifying her complexion, and on Sunday morning was arrayed in a shroud for the grave.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—The dispenser, which manifest themselves externally, destroying comeliness as well as inflicting immeasurable agony, are readily controlled by the Ointment. Salt rheum, ring worm, tetter, scald head, scurvy, whiteswelling, and all ordinary eruptions, are not only immediately relieved by this preparation, but permanently removed. The pores should first be opened by fomenting the surface with warm water, and then the Ointment rubbed into the skin thus prepared to absorb it. It will at once strike into the muscular system that underlies the cuticle, and extinguish the fibrile elements in the blood which create and keep up the exterior irritation. This result is inevitable, and the cure will be entire and permanent. The Pills will be found a useful auxiliary in all external disorders.

Consumption can be Cured. Sir James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and one of the most learned and skillful men of the age, in his "Treatise" on Consumption, says—"That Pulmonary Consumption admits of a cure is no longer a matter of doubt; it has been clearly demonstrated by the researches of Laennec and other modern Pathologists." The mere fact that such a disease is ever curable, attested by such an impeccable authority, should inspire hope and reanimate courage in the heart of every sufferer from this disease. The remedy which we offer has cured thousands. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry not only emanates from a regular physician, but has been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The right side and hand of Judge Wilson were paralyzed a few weeks ago, which prevented him from attending court in Union county at the regular session. He has however nearly recovered from its effects. Twenty-nine years ago he was affected in the same way on one side of his face.

Delicate Operation.—Drs. VanValzah and Worrall performed an operation on the eye of Miss Amelia Major on Monday morning last which, with care promises a restoration of her sight. She has been afflicted with cataract to such an extent as to deprive her of the use of one organ altogether.

TREASURER'S SALE.—Property holders are requested to examine the list of unseated lands and of lots, &c. entered according to act of assembly for non-payment of taxes, as published on our outside to-day. The period covered by this sale goes back for ten years, so that property which has repeatedly changed owners in that time might prove to be in the list under a former owner's name, and thus may be sold without the present one being aware of the incumbrance. In town we know of several instances where this has occurred, the present owners having been totally unconscious of the fact until their attention was drawn to it, and the same thing may occur in other parts of the county. Our readers therefore will do well to examine the list closely, and save both trouble and expense by paying the tax and charges before the sale, should their property be in it under the name of a former owner.

The Military Spirit.—The recent militia law has had the effect of stirring up quite a military fever among the young and middle aged, two companies, one of infantry and one of cavalry, being already in progress of organization. The law allows $1.50 to each "sogger" for six days training, to which may be added a regimental training, and to cavalry $2 per day for each horse in addition. At first sight this expense does not seem unreasonable, but in our opinion our $700 per session legislature must have been blind or d—k when they passed the bill, as any one can figure out. Suppose, for instance, four companies of 50 men each should be formed in this county, two of cavalry and two of infantry, with a regimental training, the average expense for each man would be about $20; making the snug sum of $4000 per annum to be paid in this county for "soggering!" At present the pay is to come out of the military fund, but as this will not be sufficient, we suppose the State treasury will be attacked. A muss will also probably be kicked up should an attempt be made to enforce the collection of militia tax from minors between the ages of 18 and 21, who are made liable to pay 50 cents per annum. Dr. Bower, our member, and Mr. Fetter, our Senator, both voted for this bill, and it is therefore we presume thoroughly democratic, and to the liking of heavy democratic taxpayers, who will at least have to aid in footing the bills. If they are content, we are.

BOLD ROBBERIES.—A number of dwellings were entered on Monday night by some experienced thief or thieves, who from the confidence with which houses are entered probably use ether, chloroform, or some other influence to quiet sleepers. At Mrs. McKee's house, on Main Street, the thief was discovered on the balcony by some of the inmates and ejected with the supposition that he was a prowler seeking a place to sleep. At Charles S. McCoy's he entered at the back door, made his way to the bed room, took therefrom Mr. McCoy's clothing, which he carried into the parlor below, rifled two portmanteaus of their contents, consisting of a ten dollar Erie bank note, two fives, and four or five dollars of other money, leaving everything else undisturbed. At Mr. Benedict's he also succeeded in rifling a pocket book in the same way, but of what amount we do not know. Mr. Willis's house was also entered, and probably several others, as some one was heard in various yards and buildings. Two men who left here in the down train were arrested at Harrisburg on their arrival there, but succeeded in clearing their skirts of the charge. Two others, probably the parties, left town on foot about seven o'clock, inquiring their way to Pittsburg. At Mifflintown we hear similar feats were performed, the pocket book of Hon. A. Parker having been abstracted in the same way. At Altoona last week quite a number of pocket books were rifled in one night, making it pretty clear that some experienced hands are going backwards and forwards on the Railroad between Harrisburg and Pittsburg.

An attempt was made to enter the store of Blymyer & Brisbin on Tuesday night, which was frustrated by Mrs. B. being up nursing a sick child. She raised a window on hearing some noise, which caused the thief to decamp.

The weather continues wet and very unfavorable to corn planters as well as to already planted. Rain continues to fall almost daily, with now and then a heavy shower. The streams are all high.

GIFT ENTERPRISE.—Messrs. Smith & Sibley opened their gift enterprise establishment last week, a few doors west of Mays' Hotel, and have been distributing quite a lot of prizes with their books.—Watches, clocks, coal, breast pins, &c. appear to be plenty as blackberries in August.

Our agricultural friends are referred to the advertisement of Manny's Reaper and Mower, with Wood's improvement, which is acknowledged on all hands to be one of the best machines ever invented. It requires but little practice to make a farmer familiar with its operation, and when that knowledge is once obtained it is no more likely that he will lay it aside for the scythe, sickle, or cradle than he will resort to the spade instead of the plough. F. G. Francisus is agent for its sale.

From a marked paper sent us, we presume that we were right last week in surmising that the conductor named Irwin, killed on the Lafayette and Indianapolis Railroad, was James W. Irwin, formerly of this county. The unfortunate young man was seated near the door when the cars crashed through the bridge, and was struck on the head by a heavy piece of timber which was forced through the car in which he was. He died shortly after the occurrence of the accident, the only words uttered by him having been "Oh! Jesus!"

DROWNED.—A colored child of Lewis Thomas, about four years of age, was drowned in Kishacoquillas creek, at this place, on Friday last, by falling from a skiff. The body was recovered a short time after falling in, but life was extinct.

The Philharmonic String Band, of this place, gave a concert in the Town Hall, last evening, for the benefit of George Nymann, who is disabled, on account of ill health, from following his profession, and has a large family dependent upon him for support. Another entertainment will be given by the Band this (Thursday) evening.

Cubbison will commence the delivery of ice on Saturday next.

For the Gazette.

The knowing young man of the Press does not seem to know what he publishes from one week to another. In his last Scrouger he defies me to show that he ever dreamt of meaning Mr. Peachey, for whom he professes the utmost respect! That's just what Jimmy said of the tavernkeepers, about the time he was publishing liquor sellers as a sort of murderers. Now Jimmy read this, which I have hunted up for your benefit—it is in your paper of the first of this month:

"From the Independent Press, May 14.
"We have not a doubt but that our intelligent friend, 'an old student,' has received a small fee from his Minto client for writing those articles which have lately appeared over his signature. However, were we to give him a cool five, we know from the character he sustains he would willingly accept the bribe and hold his peace."

You charged somebody here with having received a fee—you say somebody from Minto gave it. Mr. Peachey lives in Union, not in Minto, but he is the man who was defended by an Old Student, the only man who was spoken of in the valley by either side, and if you didn't mean him who did you mean? Somebody who wasn't talked about at all, or somebody that was? Don't sneak out of this by telling how much you know—I admit your acquaintances. They are a century ahead of the times. Your ability admitted, please tell us if you didn't mean Mr. Peachey, who did you mean, when you charged an Old Student with having received a fee for defending Mr. P., and I'll acknowledge at once that black is white, that the Juniata runs towards the Pacific ocean, that Brigham Young has but one wife, or anything else you may father.

TRUTH.

The "Elixir" prepared by Dr. James Williams, for the cure of Dyspepsy, and nothing but Dyspepsy, (as advertised in another column,) has by its own merits obtained for itself so high a reputation in Philadelphia, that physicians acquainted with its properties are using it themselves and prescribing it to their patients, convinced by observation of its great efficacy in restoring the disordered digestive organs to a healthy function. Numerous cases of dyspepsy of the most aggravated character, which were abandoned as incurable by some of the medical faculty, have by the use of this Elixir been restored to perfect health, as attested certificates testify. For sale by Charles Ritz, Lewistown.

Married According to Law.—Some of the respectable and order-loving citizens of Sterling, Mass., having learned that two of their young people had been living in such relation as to render the ceremony of marriage proper, surprised them about 10 o'clock on Friday evening of last week, took them by force and arms to a magistrate, and had them married according to law. The magistrate gave the fee to the bride, and the crowd presented the bridegroom with a new hat. We have some here who might undergo the same operation.

TO INVALIDS!
DR. HARDMAN,
PHYSICIAN FOR DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, THROAT AND HEART—formerly Physician to Cincinnati Marine Hospital and Invalids' Retreat—Corresponding Member of the London Medical Society of Observation—Author of "Letters to Invalids," &c.
IS COMING.

MAY APPOINTMENT.
Dr. Hardman, Formerly Physician to the Cincinnati Marine Hospital, MAY BE CONSULTED AT Lewistown, National Hotel, Thursday, May 29, Huntingdon, May 26.
DR. HARDMAN treats Consumption, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Asthma, and all diseases of the Throat by MEDICATED INHALATION.
The great point in the treatment of all human maladies is to get at the disease in a direct manner. All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organs requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which the success of the Inhalation depends. If the stomach is diseased, we take medicine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into the lungs. The reason why Consumption and disease of the Lungs have heretofore resisted all treatment, has been because they were not approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to be local, and yet they were so administered that they could only act constitutionally, depending their immediate action upon the stomach. It is the foul ulcers within the Lungs which occasion the halitosis brings the medicine into direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action upon the stomach.
