A wealthy merchant of St. Louis, has made himself very ridiculous by marrying a woman about whom he knew nothing more than that she was captivating, and who was ubsequently discovered to be a common prosfrom Chicago, known there as Anna titute The husband had three children Wilson. who kindly received their new mother, till the mortifying denouement took place, which caused intense excitement and distress. She is said to have been told that she was the man's lawful wife, and could claim all rights in that capacity, but she appears to be in great trouble about the matter and laments most sincerely the imprudence which has involved her and many innocent and respectable peonle in such a disgraceful predicament. The husband had bought a splendid piano and a fine pony before he discovered his folly, when he left for Baltimore, and she went back to her own home, dreading the vengeance of his relations .- Exchange Paper.

There is something strange in the pertinacity with which a fallen woman is pursued. For aught we know this one may have formed a sincere attachment to this merchant, and not only might have been reclaimed from her evil ways but become happy and virtuous. But no! popular opinion and the "vengeance of relations" would not let her-on the first utterance of the word by some one with more evil than good in his heart, she is driven away, and of course will now sink deeper into scenes of degradation until liquor, laudanum, or perhaps a dagger, will send her soul before its Maker. How different would it have been had the case been reversed. This merchant might have kept his forty mistresses, and except an occasional sneering remark, it would have been passed over as a venal fault, and at the same time some of these relations, if distantly so, would no doubt have grasped at an offer of his hand to any of their daughters without a thought that his sins cast a stain on her. Like too many of both sexes, the merchant was foolish in committing himself to an unknown party -but once consummated, milder means might have been adopted than again driving her to crime. It proves however that the saying that "when a woman falls, she falls to rise no more," is regarded as gospel, and that if one even desires to be decent, "ewilization" won't let her.

SOMETHING FOR OUR LAWYERS. The following paragraph relative to a reent rule adopted in England, deserves atention on this side of the water :--

"The English lords of the bench decided at Westminster, about a month ago, that it was a principle of common law that a counin questioning a witness, should adress him in ordinary tones and in language f respect, such as is employed by one gen leman in conversation with another; that such lawyer has no right to question the pri vate business or moral character of a witess, any farther than it is apparent they absolulely affect his reliability or touch the ease in hand; and that a witness is not bound to answer questions put to him in an insulting or bull dogish manner. If forced to answer by the court he will have his remedy in damages.

The receipts into the United States Treasury, for the quarter ending the 30th of June, is over $23,000,000, including $9,850, 000 from the customs, and $12,629,000 from the sale of treasury notes. The expenditures during the quarter were $22,730,000, including nearly $4,000,000 for interest on the public debt and payment of treasury notes.

Repentance .--- The Mollidaysburg Whig states that the mother of the child born under such mysterious circumstances, at the Temperance House, Hollidaysburg, and left by her in such an unnatural and unfeeling manner, has returned and taken possession of her babe. We thought the cries and sebs of the little innocent would ring in her ears, and cause her heart strings to pull tighter and tighter until she would relent.

The purchasers of the West Branch and Susquehanna canal have determined to dispense with about one-half of the officers employed by the State. There will be but one Superintendent to take charge of the entire line from Farrandsville to the junction, and but six foremen instead of thirteen heretofore employed. This is the difference between State and individual management.

Telegraphic Messages for London .- The Boston Traveller reports that two business messages from New York merchants to their correspondents in England passed through the American Telegraph office on Thursday, en route for London. One of them containing fifty-seven words, paid through, fifty-seven dollars, and the other twenty-seven words, for which twenty-seven dollars were paid.

The Columbia Spy last week set afloat a silly but malicious story that a disease called Psora was depopulating the town of York. Psora is the "itch," but among those who do not know the meaning of the word, and will hear the story but not the explanation, instead of a senseless joke it will carry with it a dread that will injure the business of that place for some time, and prevent others from going there.

Fraser River Over the Plains .- Telegraphic despatches announce that several trains and companies are organizing in St. Louis, to go overland by the plains to Fraser river. The first party of emigrants by the Minnesota route left St. Paul on the 26th ult. According to the representation nearly all that is needed. The whole route is stocked plentifully with game; at this season grouse are abundant, and ducks are numerous in the lakes and rivers. When the buffalo country is reached, a plentiful supply of the choicest viands may be had with little trouble. Other persons of experience say it is too late in the season to go overland. and parties who attempt it must be prepared to endure a great deal of hardship and some very severe weather.

a Jew, formerly living in Columbia, several months ago came to this city and procured purchase the property, and to know whether it had a clear title. Immediately on his return to Columbia with a copy of the deed, he forged a mortgage on the property to the amount of $3000, and with a person, who represented himself as Wm. A. Eckert, Jr., owner of the property, he went before F. H. Ebur, Esq., and had the deed legally acknowledged. The mortgage was regularly drawn, and signed by J. W. Fisher and F. H. Ebur as witnesses. . The mortgage shortly after was recorded in the Recorder's office, the receipt in the entry book signed Frederick A. Miller. The systematic manner in which Miller proceeded in the business, having the aid of legal counsellors all through the transaction, created no suspicion in the minds of those with whom he was dealing. With the mortgage thus legally acknowledged, Miller went to Philadelphia and offered to sell it to a jeweler, but some delay taking place, the jeweler wrote to a lawyer in this city to ascertain the validity of the mortgage, and whether there were any other encumbrances on the property. The reply to this was that the property was worth mills, &c. $10,000 and that Miller's was the only in- Also, 3 cumbrance resting on it. The jeweler accepted the mortgage and Miller got nearly the full amount of it in jewelry, (between two and three thousand dollars' worth,) since which time nothing has been heard of him

In the town of Parma, near Cleveland, three men who dissected cows, to ascertain the nature of the disease, have been attacked by it, and are now dangerously sick. The disease first made its appearance on the back of the hands, in the shape of a small boil or pimple, swelling gradually to the greatest possible extent, even cracking open. Two or three others have been slightly affected, who were present during the examination of the dead cattle.

> A Sentimental Suicide .- The Indiana polis Journal says a young woman in that city committed suicide by taking strychnine, giving as a reason that she had been in better circumstances and could not bear to be working in the kitchen for a living. Among her effects were found scraps of poetry, snatches of love songs, and eleven daguerreotypes, nine of which were men.

From Utah .- The New York Times through its correspondent, has a week's later news from Utah. The new mail arrangements are working with commendable celerity, the dates from Great Salt Lake City by this arrival being to the 10th July. The news is not hopeful of peace prospects. The temper of the Mormons continues hostile, the old grudge against the Gentiles is but imperfectly covered by the existing armistice, and there is reason to apprehend a fresh outbreak at any moment. Brigham Young is reported to be in a cross and sullen humor ; his followers refuse the commonest courtesies to Gentile visiters; the Peace Commissioneers have retired disgusted; and none of the Federal officials are regarded with favor except Governor Cumming, whose course is singular. The Mormons were returning in a body to Salt Lake City, bringing their wives and children with them, and the place was resuming its wonted aspect. The letter also confirms the report that the Mormons intend to make an earnest effort for the admission of Utah into the Union as a State.

Killed while Praying .- The Wheeling Times says that a man was run over by the gravel train at Broad Tree tunnel on Sunay. He was kneeling on the track at the time, grieving and praying for a deceased friend, when the train appeared coming out of the tunnel, the engine backing, in consequence of which, the engineer did severing his head from his body.

The record shows that the mortgage was given on the 14th of June last, and the property, two tracts of land, one of 170 acres and the other of 35, lying in Salisbury township. Mr. Eckert being made aware of the facts as above stated, denies any knowledge of the transaction, never having signed such a mortage .- Lancaster Express, of Friday 6th.

A Bloody Fight-We learn from a gentleman just down from the Red River country, that a fierce and bloody battle occurred between bands of the Sioux and Chippewa Indians, near Big Stone Lake, in Minnesota, on the 14th of July. The Chippewas lay in ambush, and, when their enemies came within shooting distance, dropped twenty of them the first fire. A hand-to-hand encounter ensued, both parties not see him. The train passed over him, lost six more of their men, but killed eleven of the Chippewas. - Chicago Press.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF BIGH GLOSSY HAUB. TALK of beauty; it cannot exist without a fine head of hair. Then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. We would call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation which turns back to its original and color gray hair, covers the head with a luxuriant growth, removes the dandruff, liching, and all cutaneous eruptions, causes a continual flow of the natural fluids, and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from failing to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call than upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and aurely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks or the witching curl, eyst be without it. Its pringe is upon the tongue of thousands. The agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following latter in regard to the Restorative a few weeks since: DEEP Riven, CONN., July 22, 1856. Mr. Leavenworth—Sir i—I have been troubled with danderd for sourf on my head for more than a year, my ndruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about 'Wood's Hair Restorative' as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my sat isfaction it was the thing ; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow; it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place; you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, RUFUS PRATT.

I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative and now the top of my head is well studded with a prom ising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853. Prof. O. J. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and cnow. It entirely cleauses the hend of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's nair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a ealthy, soft and glossy appearance ; and all this without tecoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on whic drops.
