

From Forney's Press, Sept. 22. The Centre Congressional District. Both parties have made their nominations in this district. The Leocompton candidate is Hon. Allison White, the present member, a lawyer of Lock Haven, Clinton county. He has been a silent member, and but for his votes on the Leocompton and English swindle would never have been heard of out of his own district. Having misrepresented the views of a large majority of his constituents, he would probably have sunk into a quiet political grave, had not the office-holders bolstered him up and nominated him. His defeat is certain, as the people of this district can never sustain Leocomptonism in any form.

The People's candidate is the Hon. Jas. T. Hale, of Bellefonte. Judge Hale is a native of Bradford county. He was brought up on a farm near Towanda, and, like many of the hardy sons of the North, he frequently rafted lumber down the river to Marietta and Columbia, returning home on foot. From Bradford county he came to Mifflin county in 1831, and studied law in the office of his uncle, Elias W. Hale, for many years the leading lawyer of central Pennsylvania. On the death of his uncle, he entered into copartnership with the present Judge Wilson, and was appointed Deputy Attorney General for Mifflin county by Hon. Ellis Lewis, then Attorney General of Pennsylvania. In 1835, Mr. Hale married the daughter of Judge Huston, of the Supreme Court, and removed to Bellefonte the same year. Here he speedily rose to distinction at the bar, and, on a vacancy occurring on the bench, was appointed president judge. This office he held for about a year, and then returned to the bar. Judge Hale is about forty-eight years of age, in full vigor of life and health. As a lawyer he is no superior. In the Supreme Court no one is listened to by the judges more attentively, but the great arena of his triumph is in trying causes before a jury. Here his legal learning and practical knowledge of every kind of business, from the construction of the most intricate machinery to the ordinary pursuits of life, backed up by a ready command of language, winning address, and persuasive oratory, carry the jury with him whenever the court leaves a loop-hole for him to do so. In politics Judge Hale may be called a Democratic Whig. He commenced life as a Democrat, but joined the Whig party on the tariff and currency questions. He is now, and ever has been, really and more thoroughly identified with the masses than the tenths of those who profess to be Democrats. Living in the iron county of Centre, he has ever been a strong advocate of protection. Judge Hale, through sunshine and storm, has stood by the great iron interest of Pennsylvania. When he commenced political life, all parties were for the tariff. He has lived to see all parties come back and take up this great principle, so vital to Pennsylvania.

Need it be said that he loathes and despises the Leocompton fraud and English swindle? Such a man, brought up from boyhood among the people, the architect of his own fortunes, from a lumberman on the river to the judicial bench, always sympathizing with, and beloved and respected by, the people, could not tamely look on and see their rights trampled in the dust. Every court house in his district has heard his voice proclaiming the indignation of a freeman against this cruel outrage, while his opponent, basely bowing to the knee of power, betrayed by his votes those who trusted him. The second Tuesday of October will bring in the verdict of freedom in the ignominious defeat of Allison White, and the triumphant election of Judge Hale.

Burning of the steamer Austria --an awful catastrophe. Telegraphic despatches from Halifax announce that the burning steamer seen on the 15th inst. was the Austria, and announces a terrible wholesale destruction of life among her crew and passengers. Of nearly six hundred persons on board the ill-fated steamer only sixty-seven are said to have escaped. Twelve of the saved have arrived at Halifax in the bark Lotus, and have communicated intelligence of a calamity almost unparalleled in the destruction of life and the frightful circumstances under which it occurred. The fire broke out in the stowage on the afternoon of the 13th. It spread with great rapidity, causing in its progress the explosion of the powder magazine, and apparently cutting off at once the escape of the passengers from below. The greater number of those on board perished miserably between decks, either suffocated or burnt to death, and unable to reach the upper deck, where, perhaps, their chance of final escape would have been improved. Some few were pulled up through ventilators. The flames in the meantime spread so that even those on deck were forced by twos and threes to plunge into the sea, whilst others and the majority of those saved, took refuge on the bowsprit, from whence, after some hours of exposure, they were rescued by the French bark Maurice. Others were picked up from the water, and twenty-two who had got in one of the metallic boats, were subsequently rescued. Two of the boats were lost in the attempt to use them. As it is understood the steamer had eight metallic boats on board, it is possible that some others were launched, and there is, therefore, still a slight chance that a number of saved may be yet increased. For the large proportion of the passengers who were below there is, however, no hope. Shut up in a furnace of flame and smoke, a brief but terrible interval of suffering must have ended the existence of hundreds under circumstances of horror which it is well for shuddering humanity no living eye witnessed. Of the remnant saved, a number are shockingly burned. Six women only were rescued, and three of these are terribly burned.

See advertisement of Dr. Sanford's LIVER INVIGORATOR in another column. Got the "negro fever" --The Democrat of this week.

The self-styled democratic papers are always down on political judges except when the judges are democrats --then it's all right. As there are no "ifs" in our positions, the Democrat acknowledges that we proved White and Bower to be no democrats.

Both the senior and junior of the Democrat are this week whistling to keep their courage up.

The Bellefonte papers give full particulars of the military encampment at that place. Fifteen companies were in attendance, and several thousand visitors.

The Washington Union publishes some resolutions passed in Iowa denouncing Douglas as a traitor no better than Judas. The Buchananites are quite complimentary to anti-Leocompton democrats.

We notice in Peterson's Detector for Oct. 1 that "Mifflin county Certificates" are classed among the broken and worthless concerns. We will take all the genuine they can rake or scrape together at par for subscription, advertising or job work.

We have excluded a good deal of matter to make room for Forney's exposition of Buchanan's treachery to those who elected him. We commend it especially to those who hear Mr. White's lame apologies for his course on this question.

Allison White it is said apologizes for Missourians voting in Kansas by supposing that they were voting in Missouri. As a river divides the two and the elections did not occur on the same day, this is a "powerful argument" for his support of the Leocompton frauds.

A frightful accident occurred at the State Fair ground, in Sandusky, Ohio, on the 13th. An excited horse on exhibition, in a contest for the prizes, broke through the barriers of the arena, and dashed in among the people, injuring five persons, two so badly that they died soon after the accident.

The wild pigeons are departing, but in their place we have the usual influx of Washington office holders, who come to regulate the people. The anti-Leocomptonites are getting their guns ready and will probably shoot a considerable number of this game, as our laws do not protect "birds of passage."

THE RESTORATIVE of Prof. O. J. Wood for restoring the hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative, but read the circular and you cannot doubt, read also the following:

THE HAIR. --People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy heretofore known has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as a fall. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had before. It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to. It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance, and in some ways differ in regard to the ways of doing it, but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration. --Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR. Prepared by DR. SANFORD. Compounded entirely from GUMS.

IS one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and when taken daily in moderate doses will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when well the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the liver for the proper performance of its functions; and when the stomach is in fault the bowels are almost sure to suffer in consequence. LIVER --having ceased to perform its duty, the consequence of one organ -- the do its duty. For the dis-ease of one organ -- the consequence of one organ -- the do its duty. For the dis-ease of one organ -- the consequence of one organ -- the do its duty.

It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and when taken daily in moderate doses will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when well the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the liver for the proper performance of its functions; and when the stomach is in fault the bowels are almost sure to suffer in consequence. LIVER --having ceased to perform its duty, the consequence of one organ -- the do its duty. For the dis-ease of one organ -- the consequence of one organ -- the do its duty.

To prove that this rem-edy is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and when taken daily in moderate doses will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.
