who had carried him forward into the Presi dency after twenty years of hard, unremitting and chivalric toil.

Photograph of Mr. Buchanan in an Appealing Attitude.

I visited Washington early in December of 1857, and had an interview of somethree hours with Mr. Busynan on the first day of the meeting of Congress at its late session.

What the object of that interview was, may be imagined from the fact that no other subject could have been discussed between the parties, for, as I have said in these remarks, and as the columns of the Press will show, I had no cause of public difference with Mr. Buchanan beyond that of Kansas. We had long since ceased to talk about private matters.

Not only did the conversation as detailed take place, but, as the many friends to whom I related it after I left the President's mansion will remember, many other things were omitted in the statement which I gave at Tarrytown. Among others, the President said to me, "If you and Walker and Douglas will unite in support of my Kansas policy, the people of Kansas will vote at the election weich is to come off on the 21st December,' (that election, it will be remembered, having been called under the auspices of the minority Legislature, for the purpose of putting through the Lecompton Constitution, and was held under circumstances of fraud and infamy, which will not soon be forgotten.) He said further, "I know that you have the strong side of this question. I know that you can carry off the people, but I appeal to you to stand with me, because if I do not adhere to my new policy, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi will probably secede from the Union." It is probable that the memory of Mr. Buchanan will be stimulated when he reads these sentences. As for the Washington Union, whether it speaks for him or not, in the above extract, I am unable to say. If it does, the memery of the President is most defective.

As to my offering advice to Mr. Buchanan, I have only to remark: while Mr. Wendell of the Washington Union, was unknown in the political world, and while editors of that same paper were ceining calumnies against the President, my advice and counsel to him were not only gladly and kindly received, but earnestly solicited. I spoke as freely to him at all times when he was not President, as I did after his election and installation.

Another fact in connection with this interview with the President I may mention, and it is this: that one or two days after it transpired, I returned to Philadelphia and whilst sitting in my office in Chestnut street, was visited by an old friend from Southern New York, whom I had met in Washington, and who called on me to say that he had been de sired by the President to stop over and see me, and to assure me that he (the President) intended to make his Kansas policy a test upon the Democratic party, and that no man would be tolerated by his Administration who did not approve and support his policy.

The Comet.-O. M. Mitchell, of the Cincinnati Observatory, communicates to the Daily Gazette a very interesting paper regarding the Comet which now makes so fine a display in our western heavens at night. It was discovered by Professor Donati of Florence, Italy, nearly four months ago, and for a large portion of the time since it was detected, has been steadily approaching the earth, and in a direction so nearly coincident with the visual ray, that but for the computations of astronomers, might excite anticipations of collision with our planet. Indeed, throughout the present month it seems to have been plunging downward so exactly toward the earth that it scarcely changed its apparent place among the fixed stars by a quantity larger than two or three times the diameter of the moon.

It will reach its nearest approach to the un in a few days. Its brilliancy will inhidden from notoriety, was ruthlessly are to the vulgar gaze. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.

We cannot too earnestly recommend to the attention of our aged friends, or others who have been so unfortunate as to lose their hair, the restoring properties of Prof. Wood's won derful discovery. Certificates of its efficacy are constantly coming in, and a village can hardly be found in the west, where living witnesses cannot be found to testify from expressions. perience that it will not only restore gray hair to its original color, but will restore to the bald head the locks of youth and beauty, thus furnishing an effectual antidote for the ravages of time and disease. Among those who certify positively to its efficacy in accomplishing its work, is Judge Breese, of this Circuit, together with other responsible witnesses. Gray headed bachelors and widowers who desire to make their market, and all others afflicted as above described, deserve to bear their misfortunes without sympathy, if they will not avail themselves of the offered remedy. Wistar's Balsam of Wile Cherry.

From Ex Alderman Perkins:
BOSTON, February 3, 1853.
Dr. S. W. Fowle—Dear Sir—For several ms most infamous, relentless and savage days I had been suffering from the effects of a severe cold, accompanied by a very sore written to the proprietor of the paper throat and sick headache, which completely incapacitated me for business. I had taken but a small portion of a single bottle of this Balsam, when I experienced immediate relief. My cough was broken up at once, and my lungs entirely relieved from the pressure which had become so painful. I attribute this entirely to the good effects of your Wild Cherry, as I took no other medicine whatever. I cordially recommend it to all my friends.

Respectfully yours, SAM'L S PERKINS.

Mr. Editor-Being one of those present at the Teachers' Institute held last month in McVeytown, it may not be amiss to say a word concerning it in your columns. pened on Monday, Sept. 20th, and continued till Friday afternoon of the same week. Its origin and success were unquestionably due to the energy and perseverance of our worthy County Superintendent, Mr. Hawn, while at the same time the valuable services of Prof. F. A. Allen and Dr. Lambert cannot be to highly appreciated, nor would we forget others of our own county, who added not a little to that intellectual feast. The fact that so many teachers were present goes far to prove those who have undertaken the instruction of the youth of this county feel an increased interest in their vocation. The sessions during the day were taken up with instructions in the various branches usually taught in our common schools, together with discussions on many subjects connected with them. The evening sessions were devoted to lectures from different persons, among whom your fellow townsman, G. W. Elder, Esq., occupied a prominent place, while through the whole exercises there was diffused that spirit of kindness and good feeling toward one another which gave so much zest to the Institute, and was of itself worth the whole outlay of time required. But while it is pleasant to speak of these exercises, it is no less a duty than a privilege to speak of the reception given by the citizens of MeVeytown and vicinity to the members of the Institute. Every one threw open their doors and seemed willing to make every sacrifice for their comfort, and it | Franklin and Marshall College, was only after the town was crowded with the influx of strangers that any had to take up Williamson, Rev. Geo. Elliot, Reedsville, Pa.; their lodging at the hotel, and even there, in Rev. S. R. Fisher, D. D., Chambersburg, Pa.; the enjoyment of every comfort, if not of Rev. S. H. Guery, Hagerstown, Md.; Rev. S. of the innocent and helpless dead, and into the eyes of the startled public, sechich even Mr. Buchanan's friends did the famous Comet of Halley, at its last retwork in the exercises. The pressure of the times has left its foot prints on almost all else This comet, Professor Mitchell says, "will around and about us, but the hospitality and intelligence of the citizens of McVeytown stand alike unharmed and unsurpassed. That both temporal and spiritual prosperity may both temporal and spiritual processing always be their lot is the wish of your humble correspondent.

In One Year. THE RESTORATIVE of Prof. O. J. Wood for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the creeker and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

THE HAIR .- People have for centuries been afflicted The HAR.—People have for centuries been afflicted, with bald heads, and the only remedy heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tookse of different them. cause they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling Silver PENCIL CASES, and GOLD PENS had been before. It is also without doubt one of the best of every description, offer their goods direct articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it to the country trade at the prices others charge the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to. It about 20 per cent, which they would have to pay the dealers if bought from them. Our chiest is to call for each to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head. object is to sell for each at one profit over the of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be Cohocton, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856. O. J. Wood & Co - Gents: As I have been engaged its selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents, (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experi-• No. 26 Maiden Lane, New York, offers his stock, consisting of a general assortment of Lockets, Chains, &c., which are offered at the lowest cash prices. Great inducements to as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the Uni ted States for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours. Being fully convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S T. STOCKMAN. Wayland, Mass., Feb. 5. 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard to try the article prepared by you to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly three bottles.

Yours, &c., JAS. FRANCIS.
