Notices of New Advertisements.

Those desiorous of purchasing Fanay Goods, Toys, &c., are referred to the advertisement of W. Tiller. Philadelphia, a reliable dealer, who will fill orders with as much care as if the purchaser was present

R. F. Ellis don't make a noise about his goods, but, by the by, has just opened a large lot of well selected goods which are not to be f und everywhere. Kennedy Junkin, & Co., who have a deserved reputation for selling low and an extra stock of patience, are preparing for their new stock, and promise something worth looking at.

J. Fisher having completed a farge vault for Lager Beer, now offers a superior article at wholesale or retail. Barley and Rye purchased in any quantity. Wolff's Hanover Gloves can be procured only at R. F Ellis's store. A Manuscript Journal kept by William Maclay, when a Senator in Congress, is missing.

A number of papers in this State continue to advocate Gen. Simon Cameron as the next candidate for President. Gen C. is a man whose head would not be likely to be turned by elevation to such a post, and would therefore bring to Washington, what seenrs to be much needed, sound sense, practical business habits, a knowledge of the wants of our country, and intelligence and independence enough to be unshackled by the fillibusters and plunderers who are now depleting the treasury in the name of democracy.

Elections in November .- On the first of November the State and Congressional elections will occur in Louisiana. On the 2d. New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts. Michigan and Illinois are to elect State officers and members of the thirth-sixth Congress. On the 4th, Wisconsin votes, and on the 9th, Delaware. In New York there are four tickets in the field, but the contest will be chiefly between the Republicans, the Americans, and the Democrats. All profess to be sanguine of success.

Coming to their Senses.

The Richmond Enquirer, the leading organ of "Southern democracy" and formerly a decided opponent of protection, is advocating the manufacture of iron in that State instead of sending to England for it. Hear it :

"Our railroads will soon want 20,000 tons of rail per annum to keep them in running order, independent of the great quantity that will yet be required to complete those which are commenced and projected, constituting nearly 1,000 miles, and requiring not less than 100,000 tons, or 10.000 tons per annum if finished in ten years time. This amount of icon--30,000 tons-will cost but little less than $2.000,000 per annum if imported, and about the same if made at home under experienced management and at practical locali ties. But if imported we must pay the gold for it, which would be exported, and therefore we should be minus the amount of its cost or our circulating medium, the true standar of our available wealth, would be reduced in proportion. If, on the contrary, the above amount of iron be made at home from our own material and by the labor of our people, whether tative or foreign, if residing in the State, even if costing the same amount or more, our wealth would not be decreased, since ev would still circulate at home among just the same as if it were never used for the purpose designated, while the facilities rendered by our roads and improvements would be even greater than they can be or are under the exportation of our cur rency for the same purpose. If it is consti tutional for the State to construct public im provements, in the shape of railroads and canals, for the development of her internal resources as well as her external trade, we cannot see why it should not be constitutional as well as practical for her to furnish the material for their construction. If she buys the material out of the state it certainly imposer ishes the state to the amount paid, but if she makes the material or buys it at home it would neither impoverish the state nor diminish her ability to buy or make more."

"The Fallen Missionaries of China."-Rev. W. M. Wiley has recently completed a work published under the above title, which will be read with interest by his numerous friends here and elsewhere. For sale at the book store of H. W. Junkin. The November number of "Arthur's Iome Magazine," handsomely embellished with engravings and filled with choice lite rary matter, has been received. Terms, $2 a year, in advance, or four copies for $5. Address T. S. Arthur & Co., 323 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

"Clark's School Visitor," devoted to the interests of our public schools, is a neat paper, filled with matter pertinent to its object, published by Alexander Clark, at Pittsburgh, at 50 cents a year, or, to clubs, 25 cents. Among other features, "Uncle Edward's" reminiscences will much enhance its popularity. Peterson's Counterfeit Detector for Oc tober 15, notes 60 new counterfeits lately put in circulation.

The Tariff.

To the People of Pennsylvania. FELLOW CITIZENS :- A great victory having been achieved, we desire, on the part of the committee of 76, appointed at a meeting of the friends of the national industry in all its branches, held in this city on the 15th of June, to offer you our congratulations, not only for the triumph itself, but on the proof it furnishes of the following facts :

That, in the necessity for protecting the far-mer in his efforts for bringing to his door the market for his products, and thereby econo-mising the tax of transportation, Americans, Whigs, Democrats, and Republicans, have found the solid platform on which they may securely stand :

That men of all pursuits of life-farmers and mechanics-miners and furnace menlaborers and capitalists-traders and transporters-have arrived at the knowledge, that | Potter, they have a common interest in endeavoring so to diversify the demands for labor as to bring together the producers and consumers of the country : That they are awake to the destructive ten-

lencies of a system, which burthens the nation with a foreign debt that already counts by hundreds of millions-requiring the remittance of probably thirty millions of dollars, annually, for the payment of interest

That they are unwilling further to sustain policy which condemns their own coal and re to remain useless in the ground, while draining the country of the precious metals o pay for foreign iron:

That they do not desire longer to be compelled to pay for foreign labor, while Amer ican laborers are badly fed and clothed, be cause unemployed :

That the belief in a necessity for total change in our domestic and foreign policy is rapidly becoming general throughout the State :

That it needs but union among ourselves to secure the permanent adoption of a system that shall restore prosperity to the people, armony to the relations of the States, and dignity and character to the administration of the federal goverment.

The power to accomplish such a change, Westmoreland, fellow citizens, is in the hands of Pennsylvania, and it is needed only that she exercises it. Placed as she is, letween the nerth and south-great as she is in her natural resoures-powerful as she is, by reason of her wealth and population-she may, if she will, guide and direct the policy of the Union .-Biind, however, to her true interests, she has, Washington, out too often, bound herself to the car of Fayette some ambitious and unprincipled demagogue Greene, who, in consideration of favors to himself has helped to sacrifice her dearest interestslending his aid to the closing of her mills and furnaces, and to the expulsion of her work men, and thereby depriving her farmers of advantages resulting from having a market near at hand. The consequences exhibit themselves in the fact that she has had no real influence in the Union-her votes having been obtained by means of frauds, like that of "Polk, Dallas, and the tariff of 42." while she herself, when asking attention to her in-terests, has been treated as a mere pauper, seeking to be fed at the public cost. Such. fellow citizens, have been the effects of permitting herself to be led, when she should have placed berself in the lead-of endorsing the opinions of others, when she should boldhave proclaimed her own. The true Pennsylvania policy knows no North, no South, no East, no West-it being that which tends to promote the good of ail, whether farmers or planters, miners or manufacturers, makers of railroads or own ers of ships. It is that policy which seeks to obtain perfect freedom of commerce among ourselves, and with the world at large, by means of such measures of protection as shall ena-ble all to unite in the effort to increase the McKean, productiveness of the labor of each and all-Venango, there being a perfect harmony in the real Warren, and permanent interests of every section of the country and every portion of our popula-tion. That the existence of such harmony State for the productions of our mountains may have the chance of being fully demonstrated, but little is now required, except another long pull, another strong pull, and another pull all together, by the men of the Keystone State. To that end we invite your ss. Shade Mountain, which had escaped the ravages of fire for some years, commenced burning last week at the head of Roaring Run, and has since spread in dangerous proximity to the Jacks creek settlements. It presented a beautiful sight on Tuesday evening. The mountains to the west are also burning in all directions, so that, according to Espy's theory, we may soon look for heavy rains.

AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITIONS .--- Weare pleased to notice that there is a general disposition manifested to place the Agricultural Society in a condition to meet its wants; but this can only be done by prompt and decided action. The project now spoken of is to raise, by stock subscriptions of $5 per share, a sum sufficient to purchase a lot, the subscribers to constitute the Agricultural Society.

DEER KILLED .- Captain Ross and Dr. Marks had quite a windfall in the way of game on Saturday last, while out hunting pheasants near Granville Gap, about three miles from town, the former having killed a spike buck, which was probably started by a setter dog and passed near the Captain, with an ordinary load of shot. It was brought to town, cut up at Major & Shimp's slaughter house and weighed, dressed, 42 lbs. Since the coaling grounds have been abandoned and a few catamounts shot, there is a fine range for deer between Black Log Mountain and the river hills, and signs indicate that they are there in considerable numbers. Bears are also about, so that sportsmen have a fair prospect for " hunting."

We learn that a heifer belonging to Josh. Morrison was found in the Granville region, apparently killed by a bear.

LEWISTOWN, Oct. 26, 1858. Mr. Editor-In looking at the opportunities which are within the grasp of every young man, in this place. Any young man who attends the sessions of this associa tion may derive a double advantage by engaging in the exercises of debating, declaiming and composition, and would not in after life dispose of the knowledge he obtained in it for the "riches of Dives." There is connected with this institution a large and well selected library, from which any one who may so desire can acquire an amount of useful knowledge, and he will never regret that he made good use of opportunities offered by this library. It is composed of a vast number of works from the pens of the most ancient and modern writers, and additions are continually being made. There are a number of histories of our own and other countries, religious works in abundance &c., from which the most fastidious could not fail to make selections. In another article on the same subject, it says :

"If that money, however, was spent in the and the labor of our people, instead of being a drain on the currency of the State, it would, on the contrary, tend to increase it. Even suppose we should pay one third more for Vir giving than for English Iron, and spend $3,-00 up indexed $2000000 .00,000 instead of $2,000,000 yearly, would we not still be the gainer of $2,000,000 by the operation? As long as the money is in the state it is not spent. Suppose the iron for the Virginia and Tennessee railroad was made at Lynchburg-and it could have been made with profit for less than its actual cost delivcred-would not the millions of dollars of gold which were sent to England for that iron now be circulating in the mountains of Virginia, and would not our manufactures there be flourishing? But what is done cannot be undone; still that which is to come, and that which is still to be done, should be considered and done judiciously and understandingly, and the question is now appropriately brought before us

The Enquirer does not speak of a proteetive tariff, but as that will keep gold in this country and start American furnaces, forges, and rolling mills, we begin to have some hopes that even the present free trade Congress will be driven into a revision of the tariff by the recent elections.

Majority against Lecompton, warrant, of Horace Bell, on the fair grounds at New Albany, and his abduction to Ken tucky

The locofoco press is much exercised because the main part of the German vote was cast against free trade and Lecomptonism. Most of the Germans are laborers, and, as one of them said to us, "what matters it how cheap British goods are if I have no work and no money to buy them."
