Preserving Cucumbers for Winter use.
—Put one pound of alum and three quarts of salt to one barrel of pickles—water sufficient to cover them, and lay a cloth on top. There will a scum rise on top, which take off with the cloth and rinse it in cold water. When you wish to use them, soak over night, or, if you like them pretty salt, just rinse them off, scald the vinegar and pour it upon them.

To Color Drab.—Take plum tree sprouts and boil an hour or more, then add copperas according to the shade you wish your articles to be. White ribbons take a very pretty color in this dye.

Cream Pies.—One cup of cream; one of sugar; two eggs; half teacup vinegar; large teaspoonful spice. Bake between two rich crusts. This will make two excellent and cheap pies.

Poley White's Sticking Salve.—Two ounces beeswax; 2oz. tallow—mutton is the best—4 ounces Burgundy pitch; 6 ounces rosin—a little Canada balsam is an improvement.

Snaps.—2 cups of molasses; 1 1/2 of butter and lard melted together; wine glass of milk; little ginger; 1 tablespoon saleratus.

Vinegar.—One quart of molasses; 5 gallons of rain water; 1 pint of yeast—let it stand four weeks.

Sponge Cake.—2 cups of sugar; six eggs; 1 cup of flour; 1 teaspoonful cream tartar.

Miscellaneous.

BREVITIES.

An Englishman's Lunch—a slice of 'am' six hegges, and quart of hale.

What word is that to which if you add a syllable, it will make it shorter? Short.

A Dutchman thinks 'honesty is the best policy, but it keeps a man shocking poor.'

A Lady is sometimes much struck with a man before marriage, and by him afterward.

Detting is immoral; but how can the man who bets he worse than the one who is no better?

'What did you give for that horse, neighbor?' 'My note.' 'Well, that was cheap enough.'

A man ceases to be a 'good fellow' the moment he refuses to do precisely what other people want him to do.

To prevent the smell or cooking in a house—have nothing for breakfast, and warm it over for dinner and supper.

What one of the planets is supposed to have the most specie? The moon; because she is continually changing quarters.

The times are said to be so hard in a town up the river that the editors of the newspapers published there, smoke the same cigar—taking it by turns.

'Mother,' said Jimena Spray to her venerable maternal relative, 'Sam Flint wants to come a courting me to night.'—'Well, you jade, what did you tell him?'—'Oh, I told him he might come; I wanted to see how the fool would act.'

Timber Steeds.—'We have a span of horses,' said the economic the other day, 'on our farm that support themselves without cost.'

'Why, how is that?' exclaimed a listener.

'Why, you see,' remarked the questioned, 'one is a 'saw horse' and the other a 'clothes-horse.'

Horrible Affair.—We learn by a gentleman from Mt. Vernon, that a few days ago, some boys in that vicinity went to a neighbor's house to get some peaches, and on arriving at the house they asked the children "how all the folks were." The children replied that they were all well except their mother—that she had been lying dead on the floor for three days. The boys ran home and told what they had heard, and some persons immediately went to the house, and on making search, found the dead body of the woman in the most horrible state of mutilation. The hips and thighs were burnt to a cinder, and her hands were burnt almost off, and all appearances seemed to indicate that she must have been held on the stove by some person until she was burnt to death! The sheriff arrested the husband on suspicion of having committed the fiendish murder.—Indiana Inquirer.

More Than 500,000 Bottles SOLD IN THE NEW ENGLAND STATES In One Year.

THE RESTORATIVE of Prof. O. J. Wood for restoring the hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume has been given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and on only remedy heretofore known has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again for Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fall. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her hair was now covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before. It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that has heretofore. It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance, then it seems may differ in regard to the way of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative for the last season for one of your local agents, (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some State in the West, should you wish to make such an arrangement. As I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States for restoring the hair, I have been engaged in the drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretory organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours. Being fully convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN
Wayland, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard to try the article prepared by you to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which I have effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly three bottles.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES!

Consumption of Smoke & Gas & Saving of Fuel!

THE subscriber takes pleasure in offering to his customers a new Patented Gas-burning Cooking Stove, undoubtedly the best stove made. It is well known that all inflammable matter requires a certain amount of air to support combustion, and if the supply is insufficient it is impossible to produce a flame. The heat of the fire, in ordinary cooking stoves, decomposes the fuel, and as all the fresh air is admitted under the grate, its oxygen is exhausted before it has passed through the fire chamber. The close flues at the top of the stove then act as an extinguisher, tending to put out the fire instead of assisting the combustion. A large portion of the fuel, therefore, passes off in the shape of smoke, clogging up the flues of the stove so as to impede the draft and interfere with the baking,—or of invisible gas which combines with the fuel, and so destroys the mortar of the chimneys, loosening the bricks, and exposing the dwellings to the danger of fire.

The introduction of an additional supply of cold air would cool the gas below the igniting temperature, but by the proper application above the fire air previously heated to a temperature of several hundred degrees (which is one of the prominent features of the patent) the gases are inflated in numerous jets, and their combustion is sufficient to heat the oven, even if the draft through the fire chamber is entirely closed. In addition to the ordinary direct draft under the grate and through the fire chamber, the gas-burner has an additional draft through the top plates, which is of itself sufficient to maintain combustion. The upper draft not only consumes the gases, but it helps to strengthen and preserve the centre pieces which are most exposed to the direct action of the fire, and which are made double instead of the usual single plates. By means of this draft alone, all the operations of cooking can be carried on when the fuel is but partially ignited, and the fuel consequently burns more slowly and more economically. A sufficient evidence of the effect of the gases in heating the oven is found in the fact that the oven will be ready for baking even before the fire is thoroughly kindled, and much sooner than in any other.

There is scarcely a doubt that before long the Gas-burning Cooking Stoves will supersede all others. The operation is so perfect and its consumption of fuel so small in comparison with other cooking stoves, and its heat so easily regulated, (burning more or less as desired,) that every one who uses one of these stoves will have nothing else. WEST'S Patent Galvanic Cement

For Roofing.

THE undersigned having purchased the right for this Cement in Mifflin and Centre counties, are now prepared to furnish and put it on roofing wherever desired—the roof being sheeted by the owner. Scientific men under the direction of government, and architects and builders in various parts of the country, for years have been studying and experimenting to discover some composition or article for roofing, which would resist the changes of our climate, and would unite the qualities of Impermeableness to Water, Incombustibility, Durability and Cheapness.

Shingles are not fire proof, and cannot be used upon flat roofs. Slate can only be used upon steep roofs. The contraction, expansion and rusting of metallic roofs are so great in this changeable climate that they soon become worthless, or the repairs will cost more than a new roof. The various cements and compositions which have been introduced, can be supplied only to very flat roofs, and they are all affected by the action of the weather crack in winter, and in a short time become crumbly and worthless. The inventor of the Galvanic Cement has labored twenty years to obviate these difficulties, and it is believed by those who have had opportunities to test the matter, that he has entirely succeeded. As now applied,

First—It is completely impervious to water. Water may continually stand upon the roof without affecting it in the least.

Second—It is fire-proof. It is so incombustible that it will afford ample and perfect protection against fire, sparks and burning shingles from another building immediately adjoining.

Third—It is durable. It is not injured by atmospheric changes, having been tested for several years by the Patentee, at Syracuse, New York.

Fourth—It is cheap. Roofs will be put on for about half the cost of tin, and will last much longer.

Fifth—Repairs are easily and cheaply made.

Sixth—It is sufficiently elastic to entirely resist the expansion and contraction by heat and cold, and will remain perfect and solid in the warmest and coldest weather.

Seventh—It is adapted to all kinds of roofs, either flat or steep.

Eighth—It is valuable for repairing old roofs. Old shingle roofs may be covered without removing the shingles. Old metallic roofs can be made perfectly tight and secure.

Ninth—It is especially adapted to all kinds of seaming around battlements, sky-lights and chimneys, and for the lining of cave troughs and gutters. Roofs which have given trouble for years, and which have continued to leak in spite of all efforts, can be made perfectly secure by this cement.

Tenth—It has been proved to be the best article ever used for covering car tops and steamboat decks.

Eleventh—This cement applied to new tin roofs preserves them from rusting, by furnishing a coat which is at once impervious to water and an almost perfect non-conductor of heat.

Twelfth—It is the only roofing material patented which contains India rubber and gutta percha.

For particulars of this cement, owners of property will please address E. LOCKE, ap15 Locke's Mills, Mifflin Co., Pa.

DYSPEPSIA,

As shown by the statements of the Board of Health of a New York, caused the death of 76 persons out of 611 deaths in one week, and 121 deaths by consumption induced by dyspepsia. As it is a well attested fact that dyspepsia is the origin of the sufferings of a large portion of those who die of consumption, it becomes the duty of every one to use such precautions against and remedies for dyspepsia as science and experience have placed before them, and which have proved to be efficacious. Of this character is DR. WILLIAMS' ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXIR, in corroboration of which read the following testimonials:

From Mr. R. D'Arni, New York.
Dear Sir—My wife had been suffering with Dyspepsia very severely for a long time, and has been attended by two physicians for about six weeks, from which attendance she received no relief. I recently procured your Elixir for her, and after taking one bottle she is completely cured. I can safely say I never knew of a medicine having so quick an effect in so short a time.

Very respectfully yours, RUDOLPH D'ARNI, Teacher of Drawing and Music, 207 Broadway, N. Y.

Extract of a letter from Mr. H. N. Winans, New York, to his friend in Philadelphia.
Do you recollect that bottle of Williams' Elixir that was looking in your trunk, and you gave me to get rid of it? Well, for curiosity, I thought I would try it, and it relieved me of the Dyspepsia, which I have had for some time, and for which it is recommended, and I am happy to say it has quite cured me, and would recommend it to any one similarly afflicted. Signed,
H. N. WINANS, 91 Water st., N. Y.

Dr. J. Williams.—After suffering from Dyspepsia for a considerable time, and failing to obtain any permanent relief, I was induced to try your Elixir. I must confess I had not much confidence at first, but in about two weeks was most agreeably surprised to find I was rapidly improving in health; I am now much better than ever before and I am in as good if not better health than I ever was in my life. Very truly yours, &c.
WILLIAM YARD, 6 City Row.

An Invaluable Remedy for Dyspepsia.
Read the testimony of the wife of Mr. John Stiles, on the Frankford Road, near the first toll gate.
FRANKFORD ROAD, Oct. 25, 1849.

Dr. James Williams.—Having recently understood that it was your intention to resume the preparing of your Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir, and being anxious that others may be benefited by its use as I have been, I herewith send you for publication, if you think proper, a statement of the effectual cure produced on me by it. For a number of years I have been suffering to such an extent that I became so much debilitated, and the digestive powers so much destroyed, that it was with difficulty I could take a considerable meal, and failing to obtain any permanent relief, I myself nor my friends were aware that my suffering proceeded from indigestion; in the year 1839 my attention was directed by my husband to your advertisement, at that time published in some of the city papers, explaining the causes and symptoms of dyspepsia, and confidently offering a remedy. I immediately procured and used some of your medicine with the most signal success; from a state of debility, languor, and nervousness, and complete loss of the power of digestion, so great that I could take at first only five drops of the Elixir at a dose, I was in a few days much relieved, and by continuing it a short time I have been restored to health, strength, and vigor, which I still retain. I take great pleasure, in making known the efficacy of your Anti-Dyspeptic Elixir, and sincerely hope it may be the means of inducing others to go and be benefited like myself.

Very respectfully, &c., HANNAH STILES.
The Elixir is sold in bottles at 8¢ each, or six bottles for 45¢. Proprietor, JAMES WILLIAMS, M. D., 211 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. No. 4 South Seventh street, Philadelphia. For sale by CHARLES RITZ, Lewistown. July 22
