Vegetable Soup .- Take one turnip, one potato, and one onion; let them be sliced, and boiled in one quart of water for an hour; add as much salt and parsley as is agreeable, and pour the whole on a slice of toasted bread.

Rice Jelly.-Boil a quarter of a pound of rice flour with half a pound of loaf sugar, in a quart of water, till the whole becomes one glutinous mass; then strain off the jelly, and let it stand to cool. This food is very nourishing and beneficial to in-

Egg Gruel .- Boil a pint of new milk; beat two new-laid eggs to a light froth, and pour in while the milk boils: stir it together thoroughly, but do not let them boil; sweeten it with the best of loaf-sugar, and grate in a whole nutmeg; add a little salt, if you like it. Drink half of it while it warm, and the other half in two hours. It is said to be good for the dysentery, as well as nourishing.

Arrow-root Jelly.—Take one spoonful of arrow-root, and cold water sufficient to form a paste; add one pint of boiling water: stir it briskly, and boil it a few minutes, when it will become a smooth, clear jelly. ### West's Patent GALVADIO GEMENT LF or LL oofing

THE undersigned having purchased the right for the Cement in Mifflin and Centre counties, is a roof being sheeted by the owner. Scientific men un the direction of government, and architects and build in various parts of the country, for years have be studying and experimenting to discover some composition article for roofies, which would resist the changes our climate, and would unite the qualities of impervious No article now in use possesses these qualities. Shin are not fire proof, and cannot be used on flat roofs. S can only be used upon steep roofs. The contraction, the repairs will cost more than a new roof. The vacements and compositions which have been introduce can be supplied only to very flat roofs, and they are all affected by the action of the weather that they will and run in summer and crack in winter, and in a short time become crumbly and worthless. The inventor of the Galvane Cement has labored twenty years to obviate these difficulties, and it is believed by those who have had opportunities to test the matter, that he has entirely succeeded. As now applied,

First—It is completely impervious to water. Water may continually stand upon the roof without affecting it in the least.

Second—It is fire proof. It is so incombustible that it
