There will be German preaching in the Lecture Room of the Lutheran Church on Sunday afternoon next, at 2 o'clock.

RELIGIOUS .- The annual Protracted Meeting of the Lutheran Church commenced in this place on Sunday morning last, on which occasion Rev. H. Baker delivered an exhortation on the duties of professing christians. with pertinent remarks as to others. These meetings will probably continue for some weeks, and as from the commencement they have been largely attended, we look for good peculis to many who seemingly forget God, and that it is appointed for all living, perhaps in a few hours, a few days, a few months, or a few years to die. Was each one to bear in mind constantly the injunction

"A charge to keep I have— A God to glorify; A never dying soul to save And fit it for the sky"— how different would this world be from what it is? How many profane oaths would be checked almost as soon as conceived-how much of injury and wrong to our fellow-beings avoided?

CAMERON CLUB .- This Club met in the Town Hall on Friday evening, January 13th, pursuant to adjournment-James McCord in the chair, Geo. W. Soult, Secretary pro tem. The committee on resolutions reported the following, which were adopted:

WHEREAS, From the course that political events are now assuming, it behooves us as good citizens to look forward with unusual thought and judgment to the person who will next occupy the Presidential chair of this great nation. In selecting a candidate we should be careful that upon all questions important to the growth and stability of our Union such person be steadfast and worth of the great responsibility and trust placed in him-one who knows and cares for the interests of all, and the Union forever. Therefore, Resolved, That in Simon Cameron, of Pennsylvania, we have such a man-a stern, unbending patriot, devoted to the Union-one who will harmonize the North with the South, allowing to each their respective rights and privileges as guaranteed by the Constitution; strongly conservative; not tinctured with the bitter feuds now raging between the North and South; but will restore our beloved country, now so terribly prostrated by the imbecile administration of James Buchanan, to its once prominent position among the nations of the

Resolved, That in Simon Cameron we have the friend and advocate of Pennsylvania's new greatest necessity, always her interest, Protection—who has unflinchingly insisted upon her claims in the Hall of the Senate of the U. S., and when his brother Senator, fearing the frowns of a tyrannical Administration, was hushed in quiet, his voice rang like a clarion blast, silencing all others, in advocacy of Protection.

Resolved, That it shall be our constant aim, by all honorable and fair means, to elevate him to the seat once occupied by Washington, Jefferson and Jackson, and that in doing so we fully believe in his ability to administer the govnerment of our great country with justice, energy and credit, and that he will reflect honor upon the old Keystone State from which he hails.

Resolved, That this association shall be known under the name of the Lewistown Cameron Club, and that we bind ourselves to use all honorable means for the nomination of Simon Cameron for the Presidency, at the Convention to be held at Chicago, on the 13th

Fire-Two Children Burnt.

The following letter came to hand after a small part of our edition had been worked off.

Locke's Mills, 4 a.m., Jan. 18. Mr. Frysinger—This morning, at 1 o'clock, we were aroused from our slumbers by the alarming cry of "Fire!" and springing out of bed and as hastily as possible throwing on my clothing, I met at my door the wife of week Judge Wilson was anxious to dispose of one of my neighbors, Michael Garrity, in her a number of other cases, which were centinused on account of the illness of one of the attorneys.

The first alarm was given to the family by a little daughter of Mr. Garrity, who says she was awakened by the fire burning her arm. She was sleeping with her brother of about ten, and sister of about five years of age, both of whom perished in the flames. On awaking, she aroused her brother Patrick who was in an adjoining room, and finding it impossible to descend the stairway, they made their escape by jumping out of the second-story window. They say that the two little children were both smothered and burning before they and Magill for use vs. McManigil's Admr., they with great exertions got them out of the burning building. They have been a sorely afflicted family during the past year, and this additional affliction will bear heavily upon them.

Young Patrick acted nobly in saving his parents, as at the time he entered their room they were both asleep and surrounded by the flames. He did not save the clothes he had laid aside on retiring. He made an effort to get to the two children after he had rescued his parents, but found after climbing the post the largest stock in the county, at prices that and getting on the shed, where a window cannot fail to be satisfactory, opened to the room in which they lay, that the bed was entirely consumed, and he could not see anything of them. It is not known how the fire originated. Patrick and his sister both say it commenced in the room where she and the two children slept, and Judy says she blew out the lamp when going to bed, and Oil made, east or west, and is more economi-
