

Proceedings of Congress. Extracts from the Letters of Oliver Oldschool, published in the Philadelphia Daily News.

WASHINGTON, January 17, 1860. Why cannot a speaker be elected? One reason is, because there are fifteen or twenty members from the South, who really do not desire an organization.

Governor Pennington submitted a resolution on Friday, declaring that the body would not meet on Monday, and if no Speaker were elected, a vote should be taken at one o'clock on Monday, (yesterday,) when he should receive the highest vote should be Speaker.

Mr. Lewis, of Virginia, a secessionist, immediately raised a point of order, that this resolution could not be received.

Mr. Grow contended that it was only delectable to a limited extent.

Mr. Houston, of Alabama, said that as it is delectable, it was so to the same length and breadth as any other proposition before the House.

The Clerk said it would be for the House to determine the length and breadth of the debate admissible upon it.

Mr. Houston—exactly so; and the question of referring the subject to the House if also delectable.

The animus, or intention of Mr. Houston, stands out here so prominently and nakedly, that it cannot be mistaken. His object is confusion and anarchy. He virtually gives notice that upon a mere question of order, whether a resolution is admissible or not, he and those who are with him are determined to talk about "every thing and all things besides" all things upon the earth and all things under the earth; all things visible and all things invisible; all things true and all things false; all things pertinent and all things impertinent.

It has transpired that a debate took place in the Senate on Monday, in secret session, which was most intemperate and boisterous in its character.

Mr. Faulkner, of Va., as minister to France. Some one said that he understood that Mr. Faulkner was a disunionist.

The debate took place upon the nomination of Mr. Faulkner, of Va., as minister to France. Some one said that he understood that Mr. Faulkner was a disunionist.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Allow me to ask them whether if such a man as Mr. Bates, of Missouri, should be elected President, they would consider that as sufficient cause for dissolving the Union?

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

Mr. Curran, of Alabama, made what is here technically termed a "Spread Eagle Speech." He proclaimed himself for secession and disunion in case a "black Republican" is the habitual designation of the Republican party by Southern men—should be elected President.

ists, and would be rejoiced to see the Government broken up. That this is their feeling I have not the shadow of a doubt, and yet the Democrats from the North act cordially with them, and are really driven by them by the whip and goad like so many oxen or other working cattle.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22, 1860. It is conceded even by his political opponents, that he has no enemies, that Mr. Sherman's remarks, on Friday, in regard to the attitude he now stands in towards that body of men who may one of these days constitute the House of Representatives, were manly, dignified, and proper.

Mr. Clark, of Missouri, that if he would withdraw, even temporarily, his menacing resolution, declaring that any man who endorsed or recommended the Helper Book, was not fit to be Speaker of the House, he would give full explanations, and say how far he approved or disapproved of any and every passage from that book which might be read from the Clerk's table.

Mr. Clark refused to withdraw the offensive resolution, and thus showed that he does not desire a satisfactory explanation from Mr. Sherman; that his object is to give offence, and to prevent, not to promote an organization of the House.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Clark refused to withdraw the offensive resolution, and thus showed that he does not desire a satisfactory explanation from Mr. Sherman; that his object is to give offence, and to prevent, not to promote an organization of the House.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

Mr. Sherman raised himself in the estimation of all, even his warm political opponents. It is understood that his whole course in reference to this subject, is approved and commended by some gentlemen on the Democratic side, whose judgment, fairness and sense of propriety none will question; and among these I think I may venture to say is Gen. Millson, of Virginia—he, who to preserve the dignity of the house, felt it to be his duty to call his colleague, Mr. Pryor, to order, when he applied the term FALSE, in an offensive manner, to what Mr. Hickman had said.

6th Annual Announcement! CONTINUED SUCCESS OF THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.

FROM all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution (now in its sixth year,) are being received in a ratio unparalleled with that of any previous year.

1st. The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakespeare and His Friends,"

2d. A copy of the elegantly Illustrated Art Journal, one year.

3d. A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 545 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, over 400 valuable Works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Outlines, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

"Shakespeare and His Friends," is of a character to give unequalled pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever before placed within reach of the people at such a price.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

Subscriptions will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

EDWARD FRYSENGER, WHOLESALE DEALER & MANUFACTURER OF CIGARS, TOBACCO, SNUFF, &c., &c., LEWISTOWN, PA.

Christmas is Near at Hand! AND FELIX has just returned from the City with a splendid assortment of TOYS, China Ornamental Vases, Biscuits, Cups and Saucers, Pitchers, &c.

FRENCH CANDY TOYS, By the Box or Pound, FRESH FRUIT,

Peaches, Raisins, Currants, Figs, Prunes, Almonds, &c., &c.

Don't Forget Your Interests! 100,000 Men, Women and Children

Wanted to Buy BOOTS, SHOES & GAITERS AT LOW PRICES!

The subscriber would respectfully invite the community at large to call and examine his stock of Boots, Shoes and Gaiters, a large assortment of which he always has on hand.

Gentlemen, if you want a WATER PROOF BOOT, call at Thomas Cox's Home Boot and Shoe Store, as he is sole inventor of a composition which will make leather water-proof, smooth, soft and pliable, and will wear at least one third longer.

To the Ladies he would say, he uses the best oil dressed Morocco, which will keep the feet warm and dry, and is soft and pleasant.

Particular attention is paid to the city fashions, in order to get up first class work, equal to the best city work.

It is my intention to attend closely to business, make good work, sell cheap for cash, and thus help to be sustained by an appreciating public.

GREAT EXCITEMENT! NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS! JUST RECEIVED AT Kennedy & Junkin's CHEAP CASH STORE.

The undersigned has just received a choice selection of seasonable goods and CHEAPER THAN EVER.

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

As times are hard and money is scarce, we will make it an object to sell cheaper than the cheapest, (and no mistake.)

NEW GOODS FOR THE HOLIDAYS! BEN FIROVED (AT BUTLER'S STORE) HAS JUST RECEIVED A SPLENDID STOCK OF NEW GOODS VERY SUITABLE FOR HOLIDAY PRESENTS! FOR LADIES, GENTLEMEN, AND CHILDREN!

Which he will dispose of at low prices for Cash, to all who will favor him with their custom.

Call and Examine! Lewistown, December 22, 1859.

What Everybody Wants. EVERYBODY'S LAWYER And Counsellor in Business, BY FRANK CROSBY, OF THE PHILADELPHIA BAR.

IT TELLS YOU how to draw up Partnership Papers and gives general forms for Agreements of all kinds, Bills of Sale, Leases & Petitions.

IT TELLS YOU how to draw up Bonds and Mortgages, Affidavits, Powers of Attorney, Notes and Bills of Exchange, Receipts & Releases.

IT TELLS YOU the Law for the Collections of Debts, with the Statutes of Limitation, and amount and kind of property Exempt from Execution in every State.

IT TELLS YOU how to make an Assignment properly, with forms for Composition with Creditors, and the Insolvent Laws of every State.

IT TELLS YOU the legal relations existing between Guardian and Ward, Master and Apprentice, and Landlord and Tenant.

IT TELLS YOU what constitutes Libel and Slander, and the Law as to Marriage, Divorce, the Wife's Right in Property, Divorce & Alimony.

IT TELLS YOU the Law for Mechanics' Liens in every State, and the Naturalization Laws of this country, and how to comply with them.

IT TELLS YOU the law concerning Pensions and how to obtain one, and the Free Emption Laws to Public Lands.

IT TELLS YOU the law for Patents, with mode of procedure in obtaining one, with Interferences, Assignments and Table of Fees.

IT TELLS YOU how to make your Will, and how to Administer on an Estate, with the law and the requirements thereof in every State.

IT TELLS YOU the meaning of Law Terms in general use, and explains the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Powers of both the General and State Governments.

IT TELLS YOU how to keep out of law, by showing how to do your business legally, thus saving a vast amount of property, and vexatious litigation, by its timely consultation.

Single copies will be sent by mail, postage paid, to every Farmer, every Mechanic, every Man of Business, and everybody in every State, on receipt of $1, or law style of binding $1.25

$1000 A YEAR can be made by enterprising men everywhere in selling the above work, as our