Good Veal Stuffing .- Take equal quantities of Beef suet and crumbs of bread; chop the suet very finely; chop lemon rind, thyme, marjoram, and parsley very finely, and add them, also a teaspoonful of grated lemon peel, a little grated ginger, and some pepper and salt; mix well together with egg. It will be an improvement to beat the whole in a mortar.

Excellent Directions for Stewing .- Stewing consists in subjecting meat for a considerable time to a moderate heat in a small quantity of water. No good stew for an early dinner can be made the day it is wanted. The plan recommended is, to cut the meat in pieces of the required size, pack them closely together, covering them with cold water, or, what is preferable, broth; place the stewpan where it will gradually warm, and keep it for some hours at heat considerably short of boiling. The albumen is thus dissolved, and the fibres so far softened and separated that the toughest parts become tender and digestible. The stew should be put away in an open vessel until the next day, when the fat should be removed from the top, vegetables and seasoning added; it may be thickened with flour or meal, if required. Vinegar is sometimes employed in the process of stewing; it acts by softening the fibrin, and so renders the meat more tender and digesti-

Hot Slaw .- Cut a good cabbage in half, and, with a sharp knife, slice it finely; put it into a stewpan with a piece of butter, and salt and pepper to taste; pour in just water enough to prevent it sticking to the pan; cover it closely, and let it stew; stir it frequently, and when it is quite tender, add a little vinegar, and serve it hot.

From Peterson's Magazine for April. Baker's Gingerbread .- The ingredients are: One quart of molasses, two teaspoonsful of saleratus dissolved in a pint of sweet milk, half a pound of melted butter, (pour the butter into the molasses,) three ounces of ginger, a piece of alum the size of a cherry, and enough flour to thicken it properly. The alum is to be added in, last of all the ingredients.

Pint Cake .- The ingredients are: One pint of dough, one teacupful of sugar, one teacupful of butter, three eggs, one teaspoonful of pearlash, raisins and spices.

Crullers .- The ingredients are: Half a pound of butter, two pounds of sugar, twelve eggs, a wineglassful of brandy, a wineglassful of wine, a wineglassful of rose water, a teaspoonful of nutmeg and cinnamon, and three pounds of flour. Roll the paste out very thin; cut out the cakes, and boil them in lard.

Lemon Drops .- Dip a lump of treble refined loaf sugar in water; boil it till it becomes stiff, take it off the fire, rub it with the back of a silver spoon to the side of your pan; then grate in some lemon peel; boil it up, and drop it on paper.

Waffles-Made with Bread .- Soak half a loaf of bakers' bread in a pint of milk, add sufficient flour to make a tolerably thin batter, also some salt; lastly, put in three eggs, beaten very lightly. Bake in waffle Silver Cake.-The ingredients are One pound of sugar, three-quarters of a pound of butter, mace and citron to your liking, the whites of fourteen eggs, one pound of flour. A very nice cake indeed.

Cocoanut Cake .- The ingredients are : Three-quarters of a pound of almonds, two cocoanuts, grated, one pound and a half of sugar, and some whites of eggs. The almonds are not to be too fine.

From Milliette's Magazine for March. Orange Shrub .- To every five bottles of rum put the juice of thirty Seville oranges, eight or ten lemons, the peel of eight oranges and four lemons cut very thin, and three pounds of loaf sugar. Stir this well twice or three times a day for three or four days, then strain it through a jelly-bag and bottle it, and it will be fit for use.

has none of those faults; on the contrary it is so arranged as to condense perfectly, and there-by retain all the rich fragrance and strength of the Coffee, giving a most delicious beverage at a quarter less expense, and yet is so perfectly simple that it is actually impossible to make any mistake. A child can comprehend the whole thing perfectly. All who have used this Coffee Pot are delighted with its great simplicity and excellence.
