Who are the Friends of Protection?

In the U.S. Senate the vote on the new Tariff Bill stood as follows : VOTE IN PAVOR OF A PROTECTIVE TARIFF

AGAINST A PROTECTIVE TARIFF :

In the House of Representatives it was: Americans Anti-Lecomp. Democrate

Total Against the Bill-45 Democrats

A Few Plain Questions.

Will the Lewistown Democrat, which has always professed to be a great stickler for union-saving, answer the following

1st. Was not Douglas unanimously nomthe only body called to name a candidate

2d. Did it not declare it would support the "regular democratic nominee," and did it not, in pursuance of that declaration. put up the names of Douglas and Johnson?

who put in nomination Breckenridge and Lane, OPEN AND AVOWED DISUNIONISTS? 4th. Ought a majority of a convention hold bolters and disorganizers as their equals, and treat with them as such? 5th. If Douglas is the regular democratic nominee, are not Breckenridge and his friends disorganizers? We write the above at the suggestion of a Douglasite, who says he cannot underone man for President, and advocating the almost direct support of another for the

The Disunion Candidates.

The Philadelphia Press, in noticing the position taken by a number of supporters of Breckenridge and Lane who openly state their chief reason for advocating the Secession nominees to be that they believe such a course to be best calculated to secure a dissolution of the confederacy, says: "This is the first ticket ever presented for suffrages of the American people claiming to have a reasonable prospect of securing a single electoral vote, which has been boldly sustained by any body of men as a disunion ticket. The old Abolition Presidential tickets that were run in the Northern States previous to the formation of the Republican party might also properly be considered disunion tickets, and most of those who sustained them freely acknowledged destroying needlework, might not only that they desired a dissolution of the Un- earn a livelihood for themselves but some ion, and even petitioned Congress on the thing to lay by for a future day. Joseph subject-but they did not receive more than | Harrison, Esq., is President of the institua few thousand votes in any State. Decatur was regularly chiseled out of the nomination for Commissioner on Monday in the democratic convention. When asked why that township was thus slighted, one of the old canal tribe said something like the following: "Oh, it don't matter muchthe Dutch down there will think its all right, and vote for anybody we put on the which no deduction will be made, except ticket; and besides, we'll put some of 'em on in cases of protracted sickness. Excepfor President or Vice President at a demo- tional Class, $24 per term. For further cratic meeting, and that will tickle 'em long information address, Thomas Braidwood, enough to keep up their democracy until we Principal, 1334 Chestnut street, Philadelcan promise something else."

The Gazette's refusal to publish the Tariff votes of the Senate and House of Representatives in full, is of course to be understood as a tacit admission that the figures which it publishes every week so prominently under the head of "Who are the friends of Protection ?" ARR NOT CORRECT.

It is by such absurd, we might almost say silly, paragraphs like the above that the Lewistown Democrat desires to make some of its readers believe that the patent democracy, as a party, favor protection to American Industry; it does this too in the face of the fact that leading democrats in this county openly advocate the doctrine of free trade as promulgated in the both factions of that party at Charleston and Baltimore. In reference to publishing hundreds of names merely to expose the to keep up a tariff idea, we have only to say that before it is much older we shall from which there will be no escape. In these recommendations are carried out: the mean time, if more than two patent democrats in the Senate and two in the West Ward-D. Bearley and C. Dufur. House voted for Morrill's tariff bill, we call upon it to name them, or if our list is in- Comfort and R. H. McClintic. correct, we challenge it to publish one that it calls correct. We hope democratic tariff men will mark its course as regards this proposition-a perfectly fair one-from which no honest politician ought to shrink.

We repeat, what we have often said. and members of the Legislature who will considerable injury to both locomotives. yards.

An Arnold Burr Democrat.

The principal leader in the bolting movement at Charleston and Baltimore, which resulted in the nomination of Breckenridge inated by the regular democratic convention, and Lane, has avowed the following treasonable letter to be genuine, but attempts to screen himself now under the plea that it was hastily written and did not mean disunion. We commend it to those unionsaving domocrats who in 1856 were so fearful of Fremont, as showing the com-3d. Were not the majority of bolters, pany they are in now: MONTGOMERY, June 15.

DEAR SIR :- Your kind favor of the 15th is received. I hardly agree with you that a general movement can be made that will clear out the Augean stable. If the Democracy is overthrown, it would result in giving place to a greater and hungrier swarm of flies. The remedy of the South is not in such a process. it is in a diligent organization of her true men for prompt resistance to the next aggression. It must come in the nature of things. No national power can save us: no sectional party can ever do it; but if we do as our fathers did, organize committees of safety all stand the Democrat's course in putting up over the cotton States, and it is only in them that we can hope for an effective movementwe shall fire the Southern heart, instruct the southern mind, give courage to each other, and at the proper moment, by one organized, con ceried action, we can precipitate the cotton states into a revolution. The idea has been shadowed forth in the South by Mr. Ruffin, and has been taken up and recommended in the Advertiser (the Montgomery organ of Mr. Yanunder the name of "The League of United Southerners," who, keeping up their old party relations on all other questions, will hold the Southern issues paramount, and will influence parties, Legislatures and statesmed. I have no time to enlarge, but to suggest

On the morning the accident occurred, the passenger train was behind time, which caused both freight trains to lay over the usual time-half an hour-after that train had passed, one at McVeytown and the other here. Unless the schedule directs these trains to lay over at Anderson's, it will be readily perceived that in such cases as the above accidents are likely to occur, as neither can make the station east or west of Anderson's without running at a speed of over 20 miles an hour.

> TEMPERANCE SERMON .- Rev. H. Baker delivered a temperance sermon in the Lutheran Church on Sunday afternoon, taking for his text the commandment "Thou shalt not kill." He took the ground, in his argument, that it mattered little in the civil law how people were killed, whether suddenly or by a slow process-it was murand abuse of intoxicating liquors annually cause the death of at least 30,000 persons in the United States, then all concerned in the manufacture and sale of an article which produces such a result, will not be held guiltless. He called upon the churches to rid themselves of all connected with the traffic, and feelingly referred to the past few years consigned to a drunkard's grave those who might have lived and died honored and respected but for this foul stain upon our laws, than which Satan Eimself could not ask for a more powerful auxiliary to carry on his work on earth, namely, that of causing discord, poverty, disease, wretchedness of all shades, profanity and vice, and ultimately the misery of neverdying souls. Rev. Mr. Kepler made a few explanatory remarks of the position held by the Methodist church, which repudiates liquor sellers and dealers in the article-a position held by most churches, though few of them are perhaps as rigid in carrying out that doctrine as the Methodist.

This temperance movement is regarded with much favor by the public-a similar sermon having been recently delivered by Rev. Mr. Kepler-and we hear the hope expressed that engagements will be made by the different ministers so as to have a lecture on that subject every three or four

The weather since Saturday last has been extremely warm, with the thermometer ranging from 90 to 100 in the middle of the day. We have had but one slight shower of rain in four weeks, and as may be imagined the prospects for corn and potatoes are daily dwindling away.

COUNTY CONVENTION .- A mixture of parties, difficult to tell of what principles eomposed, assembled in the Town Hall on Monday last, but calling themselves demoeratic, proceeded to nominate a county ticket. This of course was an easy task, as most of those desirous of obtaining office, having no expectation of being elected this fall, wisely determined to let such get skinned as hankered after the spoils even when only visible in the dim distance. Dr. R. Martin was called to preside over the al of the taxpayers of Mifflin county. mum assembly, with Jas. Sheehan and George Weiler Vice Presidents, and John Strunk and H. J. Walters Secretaries. Douglas with his papacy nor Breckenridge with his niggers might be suffered to show their heads in that august body-that the "divine" institution of slavery, with all its attending blessings, might be spread over this "land of the free and home of a purer quality so is not to kill off so many faithful; that the spoils of office might remain in the hands of those who are ever ready to cry, "the ayes have it," no matter what new doctrine slaveholders may advance; and finally that grace might be given them so as to know whether it is true democracy to support the disorganizer Breckenridge or the regular nominee Douglas, the convention proceeded to nominate and ballot with the following result:

Assembly-George Bates. Sheriff-James F. McNear.

Register and Recorder-Jos. S. Waream, Commissioner-Thos. Cunningham. Auditor-Andrew J. M'Kee. Congressional Conferees-John Hays, N.

J. Rudisill, Jas. C. Dysart.

There was little opposition to any one on this ticket except for Commissioner, and as it had been generally conceded that according to usage Decatur had a claim to that office, much surprise was expressed that two or three good men in that region were so unceremoniously overlooked.

There was no effort made to introduce the Presidential question, but we learn that the two factions were watching each other like cats, and had one but said "m-e-ow," there would have been an explosion that might have endangered the building.

Our proposition to nominate Judge Hale for Congress without the formality of a regular district conferee meeting, in case there was no opposition, continues to disturb the pat- ced prices by ent democratic editors-the Sullivan county Democrat, published at Laporte, being the latest in the ring.
