MISCELLANEOUS,

Disunion Threats.

The Lewistown Democrat is one of those. papers famous for propagating disunion threats, made on the part of Southern democrats, whenever the offices at Washington People are at stake, but we are glad to perceive in its hast issue that it is appealing to its allies, the disunionists of the south, to take care what they are about, and actually copies Gen. Jackson's warning voice on that subject.

With a cotemporary, we think the most timid of that class of men who shape their politics to avert disunion which they are led to apprehend from the threats of Southern Pire Eaters, must surely begin to perceive that these threats are merely made for effect on men of their temperament. It is unnecessary to recur to the past-to the quiet backing down of the braggarts on the election of Speaker Banks, after they had fairly sworn against submission to such a "calamity"---to the more recent repetition of those threats, and a like quiet aquiescence, when Speaker Pennington, who had received Mr. Sherman's steady support, was elected, and proceded at once to make the detested Mr. Sherman the Leader of the house. Pass these by, and look at the course of the fierce Yancy and other political swash-bucklers, fairly swallowing their threats of disunion-of Vice President Breckinridge in hastening to the barbacue stump in Kentucky, to purge himself of the charge of conniving at disurion. And last of all, see Mr. Douglas, himself a Northern man, boldly .confronting the issue in the very hot bed of disunion fanaticism, and telling the slaveholders that the Union cannot be dissolved-that it is too strong to be imperilded by the wildly wicked designs of selfish, ambitious leaders-and he the while greeted with loud and reiterated applause, from throngs of hearers at Norfolk, Petersburg, and elsewhere in Virginia and North Carolina.

Surely sensible conservative voters need mo further evidence that this disunion cry is a mere bugbear; and we are mistaken if many of them do not so shape their future political course as to manifest their indignation at being thus triffed with by the arrogant and insatiable slave power, which seems always to presume that Northern people are mainly serviceable toadies, cowards, or fools.

Democracy and the Know Nothings.

The editor of the Bellefonte Central Press, who was "one of the straitest of the sect" of Americans, thus answers a "democratic editor who inquired how Americans will vote:

"All good and true Americans will vote for Lincoln, Hamlin, and Curtin. * * Democracy has always been opposed to all the essential principles advocated by the American party. Although you now hypocritically seem to sympathize with us, we well remember the foul epithets and diabolical slanders you bestowed upon us, a few years ago; and, as for sympathy, we scorn it. The
