LOCAL AFFAIRS

At times like the present, it will be well for all who have the ability to give, to remember the poor and needy. Judge not too harshly their faults and errors, so as to make that an excuse for steepling your hearts against them...

RESIGNATION.—Rev. H. Baker, who has officiated as Pastor of the Lutheran Church at this place for several years, resigned on Sunday last, having accepted a call from Newville, Cumberland county, for which place himself and family will leave early in January.

COURT.—In consequence of Judge Wilson's disabled condition, we learn that Judge Linn of Bellefonte will preside at our next court.

The weather still continues cold, with prospects of rain or snow, or perhaps a mixture of both.

DANCING.—Rev. H. Baker will deliver a sermon on dancing in the Lutheran Church on Sunday evening next. This subject has been much discussed for a number of years, and many who otherwise had little objection to the matter itself have come to the conclusion that all such promiscuous gatherings as balls and dancing parties partake more of a tendency to evil than innocent amusement.

Congress has assembled at Washington again for the purpose of enacting laws for the welfare of the country, and B. K. Firoved, agent, has just received another large and beautiful supply of Ladies' Dress Goods, such as Silks of all colors and styles, DeLaines, Cashmeres, Paremotto Cloths and fancy and French Merinos. Also, a large stock of Gentlemen's wear of all kinds. He has not forgotten to lay in an assortment of Fancy Goods suitable for the holidays, to which he invites particular attention. A great reduction has been made in the price of the above named articles, to suit the times. Terms Cash and no Credit, as credit don't pay buyer or seller. Country produce taken in exchange for goods. d6-3t

COSTAR'S RAT EXTERMINATOR.—We had occasion a week or two ago to use this remedy, and since then have not a rat about the house. Its effect was like magic, and we therefore confidently recommend it to our readers who are annoyed with these pests as preferable to arsenic or anything else heretofore used. A box contains sufficient to drive away or kill hundreds. For sale by Charles Ritz—25 cents per box.

All kinds of union saving projects continue to be hatched at Washington, both in and out of Congress, some of them so ridiculous as to raise a smile in the most serious face. Among the latest is Gen. Jo Lane, late candidate for Vice President, who proposes whenever a State wants to rebel, the federal troops shall be withdrawn for fear they might get into a fight!

Proceedings of Congress

Both Houses of Congress had rather quiet and uneventful sessions on Tuesday, the 11th. The Senate debated Mr. Powell's resolution for the reference of Federal affairs to a Special Committee of fifteen, without coming to a vote. Mr. Bigler made an earnest Union address, and Mr. Iverson renewed his protestations against all efforts at compromise or conciliation. According to him, the gulf States have determined on secession and will be satisfied with nothing else. Mr. Pugh protested against such extreme views. Mr. Colman, of Vermont, Republican, spoke briefly in favor of moderation and conciliation. A conversational debate followed on the subject of the Fugitive Slave law and its execution in the Northern States, in which Senators Pugh, Douglas, Mason, Powel, and others participated.

The House finally refused to excuse Mr. Hawkins from serving on the Special Committee on the state of the Union. Mr. Boyce, of S. Carolina, also asked to be excused, but the House refused by a tie vote to grant the request. During the proceedings a casual debate occurred, in which Mr. Smith, of Virginia, indicated a desire to secure the adoption of measures for the preservation of the Union. The House resolved to refer all matters relating to Federal affairs to the Special Committee and then adjourned.

In the Senate on the 12th, Mr. Hunter, from the Committee on Finance, reported back the House bill authorizing the issue of treasury notes to the amount of ten millions of dollars, with several amendments to the effect that the notes bear interest until called in for redemption, that they be issued in sums as low as $50, and that the proceeds of the sale of public lands be set aside for their redemption. These amendments were adopted, with a further explanatory amendment submitted by Mr. Wade, declaring that the pledge of the proceeds of the public lands shall not prevent Congress from making grants of said lands or otherwise disposing of them, and the bill finally passed.

Mr. Wigfall, of Texas, continued the debate on the resolution appointing a Committee on Federal affairs. He catechized Mr. Douglas as to his intentions, and enumerated the terms upon which the gulf States would remain in the Union. These terms were stated to be amendments to the Constitution, ratified by a majority of the free States, recognizing slaves as property, providing for the return of fugitive slaves, and the recognition of the rights of the slaveholding States in the Territories. He also claimed that the North should abolish its abolition societies, suppress its abolition papers, prevent the making of abolition speeches, and in short put an end to the discussion or agitation of the slavery question in any form. The speech was altogether extreme in its characteristics, placing every obstruction in the way of compromise and openly exhibiting the speaker's strong predilection for a Southern Confederacy. At the conclusion of the Texas Senator's speech the Senate went into executive session.

In the House a large number of plans for composing our present sectional difficulties and prevent such causes of differences in the future were submitted, read, and referred to the Special Committee. They propose various modes of settlement to be reached either by Congressional action or the amendment of the Constitution. The prominent feature, are the election of Presidential electors by the Congressional district system so as to prevent the success of a sectional candidate; the amendment of the Constitution so as to recognize slaves as property more distinctly; and to secure more certainly the equality of the States; the amendment of the fugitive slave law, with provisions for its more effectual execution; and the enactment of laws recognizing the right of slave holders to carry their slave in transit through the free States and to hold them there temporarily and making the States pecuniarily responsible where fugitive slaves are violently or illegally rescued. Other plans suggest the enactment of retaliatory laws against States passing nullification laws, such as declaring said States out of the Union, depriving them of their Congressional representatives, &c. One plan proposes the substitution of an Executive Council of three for the Presidency; another the consent of a majority of Senators and members of Congress from each section; another the voluntary subdivision of the slave States so as to retain an equal representation in the Senate. The re-establishment of the Missouri Compromise, under various forms, is also proposed. If a multitude of counselors there is wisdom, in such a multitude of plans three ought to be safety. Mr. Grow, from the committee on Territories, gave notice of bills for the organization of Dakota and other Territories, and responded affirmatively to an inquiry whether the acts of organization would be reported with a provision forbidding the existence of slavery in the new Territories, adding that if the House thought proper it should reject that proposition. Without transacting any further business the House adjourned.

Both Houses of Congress on the 13th, after a brief session, adjourned till Monday. In the Senate Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, read a preamble and resolutions embodying a plan for the settlement of the sectional difficulties, which he proposed to submit to the Special Committee of thirteen when appointed. Mr. Wigfall then resumed and concluded his speech, in which he embodied a sketch of the new course that would be adopted by South Carolina after secession. Mr. Wade, of Ohio, obtained the floor, but gave way to a motion, coming from the Republican side, for an adjournment. The House passed the treasury note bill with certain amendments, which were concurred in by the Senate; the bill is now a law.

In the Senate on Monday, Mr. Clark, (N. H.) offered a resolution of inquiry, requesting the President to inform the Senate what number of men are stationed at Forts Moultrie and Sumpter; whether, in his opinion, the number is sufficient to defend those Forts against any attack or domestic violence; whether additional men have been ordered to either of the said Forts, or any steps have been taken to put them in a position to resist the attack; in whose custody is the arsenal in South Carolina; what arms and property are kept there; and if removed, by whom and why they were not put in the possession of officers of the United States upon requisition; and further, what instructions have been given to the officers of the said Forts in case a demand of surrender is made upon them by any person or authority; also copies of any correspondence from the commander of the American Army relative to the necessity of supplying the officers of the said Forts with protection.

The consideration of the resolution was objected to by Mr. Brown, (Miss.) and it was laid over under the rules.

In the House Cochrane of New York and Florence of Pennsylvania offered amendments to the constitution, which were referred to the Select Committee.

The Spindle City.

Lowell and its Industry.—The growth of Lowell Mass., as a manufacturing place, wholly within the last forty years, is almost unexampled in history, and the result is a working model of skill, energy, labor and capital combined to produce wonderful results. At the present time there are twelve corporations with an aggregate capital of $15,000,000, owning fifty-two factory buildings, containing over four hundred thousand spindles and twelve thousand looms, with other machinery in proportion; employing eighty-seven hundred women and forty-two hundred men; manufacturing yearly more than one hundred millions yards of cotton cloth, twenty-five million yards of calico, twenty million yards of bleached and dyed goods, one and a half million yards of woollen cloths, and over a million yards of carpeting. Think of a strip of cotton cloth a yard wide and two hundred miles long, made daily! Enough in a year to go twice round the globe, with ends five thousand miles long to tie with. The annual consumption of material is immense; viz: forty million pounds of wool; five thousand tons of wrought and cast iron; thirty thousand tons of hard coal; twenty-seven thousand bushels of charcoal; eighty thousand gallons of oil; sixteen hundred cords of wood; thirteen hundred barrels of flour; a like amount of starch, tannins and dry stuffs in addition. Private enterprise has also been busy; and prominent in this respect stands the vast chemical laboratory of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. where enormous quantities of their valuable preparations, Cherry Pectoral Pills, Agua Clara and Sarsaparilla, with a world wide reputation for the relief of suffering humanity, are yearly made for sale in all lands on which the sun shines. This firm prints more than four millions of almanacs yearly, on an automatic self-feeding press, printing both sides of a sheet at the same time. Among other things of note in Lowell, St. Anne's church contains a more complete chime of bells (11) than any other in this country with the single exception of that just erected at Cambridge, Mass. The Lowell machine shop is one of the oldest in the country for the building of locomotives; and the pioneer of railroads in America is that great industrial centre of N. England it can not fail to be a place of great interest to the traveler, and a personal specimen of its resources and capacity for producing the various articles for which it is famed will well repay a visit.

A Great Medicine for Females. Hundreds of stimulants have been invented and sold, purporting to be specific in the various diseases and ailments to which the delicate form of woman renders her subject. The result of all these stimulants has been to impart momentary activity to the nervous system, and save vigor to the muscles; but it is this relief which is followed by a depression and prostration greater than before, and the repeated attempts of invalids to build themselves up by these false remedies, have finally ended in destroying what little vital organization was left. But in using "Borlary's Holland Bitters," you will find no such disastrous results. It is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Bitters, and is, under its influence, every nerve and muscle receives new strength and vigor, appetite and sleep return, and a healthy, perfect health, see advertisement in another column.

BERHARD'S HOLLAND BITTERS. THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA, DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS, LIVER COMPLAINT, WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND, FEVER AND AGUE.

STOMACH OR LIVER. Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Dependancy, Costiveness, Bilious and Bloating Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure. This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles after the manner of the celebrated Holland Bitters. Its reputation at home produced its introduction here, the demand commencing with those of the Eastern seaboard, ever the best of this mighty country, many of whom brought with them and handed down the tradition of its value. It is now offered to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged. It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been injured by the continuance of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new strength and vigor into the system. NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, unobscured of singular remedial properties. READ CAREFULLY! The Genuine highly concentrated BERHARD'S Holland Bitters put up in half pint bottles only, and retailed at ONE DOLLAR per bottle, or six bottles for FIVE DOLLARS. The great demand for this truly excellent Medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Beware of Imitation! See that our name is on the label of every bottle you buy. Sold by Druggists generally. It can be forwarded by Express to most points. SOLE PROPRIETORS, BENJAMIN PAGE, JR. & CO.
