The New York Merchants and the Republicans.

An important meeting was held at Willard's Hotel, Washington, on Friday evening last, composed of the committee of sioners from eleven States being present. gally liable. New York merchants, who came there Seventeen States will be represented, but charged with the delivery of the monster all the Commissioners had not yet reached of the application, the justice of any tonlie affairs. Speeches were made by Messrs. Hale, Curtis, Gallatin, Cameron, Dunn, Foster, Grow, Nixon, Spaulding and Me-Knight, all of which were generally of a remarks made by our distinguished and able member:

Judge Hale, member of Congress from Pennsylvania, stated that he had been a member of the committee who reported the border States resolutions. He had proposed the division upon the Missouri compromise line of 36 degrees 30 minutes with the understanding that neither Congress nor Territorial Legislature should have power to establish or prohibit slavery south of that line. He had accepted this proposition as a fair measure of adjustment. In the House Committee, he was surprised and gratified to find this proposition approved by Mr. Harris, Breckinridge democrat from the tenth legion of Virginia, and that honorable gentleman had given him assurance that Virginia would be willing to accept it also. The Southern members had generally approved it. He regretted that in the Republican caucus held in regard to the various series of resolutions proposed, this plan had not been favorably received. He did not regard the proposition as a violation of the Chicago platform. He expressed himself anxious to give the Chicago platform a liberal and fair construction, believing that the mass of the Republican party entertained the same wish.

Mr. Wm. E. Dodge, of New York, rose to respond, and said that if he could go home with his friends to New York with a firm be lief that all the Republicans in Congress would echo the conciliatory sentiment so eloquently uttered by the gentleman who has just spoken, he could return buoyant with the hope of peace, and could pledge New York, in case the Union then were attacked, to furnish both money and sword.

The indications are that our m proposition will be supported by most of conditionally accepted, but they were re- opened. These avenues, including turnthe Republicans whenever the border Slave fused permission to leave the vessel. States will accept it. In this county it is regarded with favor by all classes.

The Application of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

One of the most important propositions that will engage the attention of our State Legislature, during the present session, is that which relates to the repeal of the tonnage tax imposed by existing laws upon the freight transported over the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The measure referred to is warmly advocated by those who represent that corporation, as well as by the people residing in sections which have a heavy pecuniary stake in its prosperity, or which would be On the extreme west of the State, along directly benefited by a decrease in its the Ohio river, the friends of the Union freight tariffs, while many tax-payers, in the river, was but 3,066 bales, but in Jan-The Second Session of the Lewistown have swept everything. The weather continues pleasant.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says: A heavy shipment of munitions of war is going forward by the Pennsylvania Railroad. A number of columbiad cannon, and some seventy-five thousand shot and shells were hauled down from the Arsenal on Saturday and shipped to Fort Delaware, on the Delaware river. This looks as though the North was to be armed as well as the South.

The Pittsburg Chronicle says, in November, as it finds by the books of the Pennsylvania Railroad, 1,106 bales of cotton went over that line. The amount shipped in December, owing to the condition of three months we have a total of 18,123

The Chemistry of Medicine.—Among the special delights which have so richly repaid our visit to New England was the inspection it was our privilege to make of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co's Laboratory at Lowell. Although we knew by hear-say that it was large, yet we were surprised when we came into view of its real magnitude, and still more by the extentand complication of its truly immense business. The whole massive structure is in fact one vast chemical laboratory, in which the processes of this wonderful art are constantly going on. Medico-chemical science has found that the curative properties of any substance exist in some one or more of its component parts.—Thus the remedial effects of opium are due solely to the morphia it contains, although this is but one-eighteenth part of its weight; the other seventeen parts are gum, extractive and inert or offensive matter. Dr. Ayer's system separates the medical properties of each substance employed, and we are here shown the processes by which the rirduse of each remedial agent are chased through the alembics until they come out completely pure at last. These concentrated, purified medical properties, or virtues, are finally combined together to produce the remedies which have made themselves a reputation for unrivalled excellence all over the world. Not only does the Doctor dischain all secrecy in his art and explain every process and every particular, but he maintains that this is the only process by which the people can be supplied with the best possible remedies for the treatment of disease. The formula by which his remedies are made are published in the medical journals, and have been presented to a large part of the medical faculty of the United States, and are constantly sent by mail to such physicians as apply for them.—[Daily Chronicle, San Francisco.

Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion. Another Great Curs Effected by Barhave's Holland Bitters.—The wife of Pieter De Witte, living in Holland Town, Sheboygan county, Wisconsin, suffered auch from weakness of the stomach and indigesion. She had been under a physician's care for ome time, but the disease seemed to baffle even his kill. She purchased some Holland Bitters at our ofece, which have given tone to her stomach; her apetite and strength are returning, and we firmly betwee that this is another great cure effected by your needline.

We have still to record many wonderful cures of We have still to record many wonderful cures effected by this remedy, but must wait another opportunity. One thing you can rely upon, what we have published is from persons much respected in our community, and are literally true. J. QUINIS, Ed. Sheboygan Nieuwsbode, Sheboygan, Wis.

COSTAR'S RAT EXTERMINATOR .- We had occasion a week or two ago to use this remedy, and since then have not a rat about the house. Its effect was like magic, and we therefore confidently recommend it to our readers who are annoyed with these pests as preferable to arsenic or anything else heretofore used.
