

THE HOUSEKEEPER.

To make Savory Bolls.—Mince any kind of cold meat very fine; add an equal quantity of bread crumbs; season with salt, pepper and sweet herbs; beat up two or three eggs; mix the whole in a mass and make up in balls. Bake them until they are nicely brown and serve them hot.—They may be fried in butter.

Luncheon Cake.—Mix well together one teacupful of butter, and two cups of powdered sugar. Add the yolks of three eggs and one cup of milk, and one teacupful cream tartar, or one teacup of sour milk. Sift to this enough flour to make it of such a consistency as will allow it to be poured into the baking tins. After this, add one-half teacupful of soda, previously mixed in one teacupful of warm water, and the whites of three eggs beaten to a stiff froth. A few currants or raisins added are an improvement. It may be seasoned with lemon or vanilla. Bake half an hour. You may look at it in ten minutes after putting in the oven.

Jenny Lind Cake.—Beat well together one coffee-cup of butter and one lb. of pulverized sugar. Add the yolks of six eggs and one cup of milk. Mix thoroughly.—To four cups of flour add two teacupfuls of cream tartar, and sift gently over the cake, stirring all the time. Add one teacupful of soda dissolved in one teacupful of warm water. Mix it well; stir in gently the whites of six eggs beaten to a stiff foam. You may flavor with lemon. Bake slowly. It should be put in the oven as soon as possible after putting in the soda and whites of eggs.

Whitewash.—Whitewash is one of the most valuable articles in the world, when properly applied. It prevents not only the decay of wood, but conduces greatly to the healthiness of all buildings, whether of wood or stone. Outbuildings and fences, when not painted, should be supplied once or twice every year with a good coat of whitewash, which should be prepared in the following way: Take a clean, water-tight barrel or other suitable cask, and put into it half a bushel of lime. Slack it by pouring water over it, boiling hot, and in sufficient quantity to cover it five inches deep, and stir it briskly till thoroughly slackened.—When the slacking has been effected, dissolve it in water, and add two pounds of sulphate of zinc, and one of the common salt. These will cause the wash to harden, and prevent its cracking, which gives an unseemly appearance to the work. If desirable, a beautiful cream color may be communicated to the above wash, by adding three pounds of yellow ochre, or a good pearl or lead color by the addition of lamp, yolk or ivory black. For fawn color, add four pounds ofumber—Turkish or American—the latter is the cheapest. One pound of Indian red, and one pound common lampblack. For common stone color, add four pounds raw umber, and two pounds lampblack.

This wash may be applied with a common whitewash brush, and will be found much superior both in appearance and durability, to common whitewash.

AGRICULTURAL.

Meat Preserved in Molasses.—'Sugar cured hams' have long been in fashion in this country. They are moderately salted, and sugar or molasses added to assist in their preservation. In France, all sorts of fresh meats have been preserved by molasses alone. An article in L'Invention asserts that meat may be preserved by molasses alone in the most perfect manner, and with the following important advantages: It has an agreeable flavor, it produces no scurvy or other disorders which result from the use of salt food, and it may be prepared at a moderate price.

The process consists simply in cutting the meat into pieces of moderate size and dropping them into molasses, such as is to be obtained from the sugar manufactories and refineries. By a natural process of osmosis the lighter juices of the meat pass out, and the heavier molasses penetrates inward to every part of the meat. When the external molasses has acquired a certain degree of liquidity from the mixture of the juices of the meat, it is a sure sign that the meat is thoroughly impregnated. It is now taken out of the molasses, thoroughly washed, and hung in a current of air to dry. After it is completely dry it may be packed in boxes and sent all over the world without experiencing any change whatever.

Grass Seeding with Oats vs. Wheat.—A correspondent of the Ohio Farmer gives his experience on this subject as follows: 'I have tried sowing timothy and clover for future seeding for winter wheat, and of late years with oats in spring. The latter I like best; it is a little more work, but I think one year with another is the most satisfactory. I plow the land on which I intend sowing the oats in the fall; soon as frost will admit in spring, I plow it again crosswise of the fall plowing, sow my oats, harrow them in, and sow my grass seeds.' In this way, if the land is as it should be, dry and friable from drainage, my seed gets well covered by the wash of the first rain; grows readily, is no more shaded by the oats than by the wheat plant, and has better hold of the soil with its roots to bear the heat of sun after the oats are harvested.

THE ONLY PREPARATION

Worthy any Confidence for RESTORING

THE BALD AND GRAY.

Many, since the great discovery of Prof. Wood, have attempted not only to imitate his restorative, but to improve upon it.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co. have the honor to inform you that in 1856 concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has given rise to numerous inquiries touching the same. The inquiries are first, is it a legitimate preparation, and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all the hair contained therein, does my hair still continue to be in good order, and of natural color? To all I can and do answer, invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life.
