THROUGH BALTIMORE. The Voice of the Pennsylvania Volunteers.

BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

Twas Friday morn, the train drew near
The city and the shore:
Far through the sunshine, soft and clear,
We saw the dear old flags appear,
And in our hearts arose a cheer
For Baltimore.

Across the broad Patapseo's wave, Old Fort McHenry bore The starry banner of the brave. As when our fathers went to save, Or in the trenches find a grave. At Baltimore

Before us, pillared in the Says.

We saw the statue soar

Of Washington, serene and high—
Could traitors view this form, nor fly,
Could patriots see, nor gladly die

For Baltimore. Before us, pillared in the sky,

"Oh, city of our country's song,
By that swift aid we bore
When sorely pressed, receive the throng
Who go to shield our flag frem wrong,
And give us welcome, warm and strong,
In Baltimore.

We had no arms; as friends we came, As brothers evermore, To rally round one sacred name, The charter of our power and fame: We never dreamed of guilt and shame In Baltimore.

The coward mob upon us fell:

McHenny's flag they tore:
Surprised, borne backward by the swell,
Beat down with mad, inhuman yell,
Before us yawned a traitorous hell
In Baltimore.

The streets our soldier-fathers trod Blushed with their children's gord We saw the craven rulers nod. And dip in blood the civic rod.— Shall such things be, oh, righteous God, In Baltimore?

No, never! By that outrage black,
A solemn oath we swore.
To bring the Keystone's thousands back,
Strike down the dastards who attack,
And leave a red and fiery track
Thro' Baltimore!

Bow down, in haste, thy guilty head!
God's wrath is swift and sore:
The sky with gathering bolts is red,— Cleanse from thy skirts the slaughter shed,
Or make thyself an ashen bed—
Oh Baltimore!

Localities and Distances.

The intense interest with which the movements of our troops are followed, and the present phase of the rebellion, render the following topographical notes of value, in getting a clear idea of the current news: Grocery.

Havre de Grace-At the mouth of the Susquehanna river, near the head of Chesa peake Bay, is 62 miles from Philadelphia. At this point continuous railroad communi cation is interrupted by a ferry.

Annapolis-On the west side of the Chesa peake Bay, about 50 miles from Havre de Grace, 39 miles by rail from Washington. Annapolis Junction-The Junction of the Annapolis branch road with the Washington branch, 19 miles from Annapolis, 20 miles from Washington. Fort Monroe—At the junction of James river (northern side) with Chesapeake Bay, about 38 hours steaming from Boston and 24

Cockeysville-Fifteen miles from Baltimore on the railroad to Harrisburg, (being probarisburg; 81 from Harper's Ferry, and 17 from Annapolis Junction.

Fort McHenry is situated at the extremity

The distance from Washington city to tel. Charleston is 587 miles; Washington to Wil-mington, N. C., 278; Washington to Welden, 0, 216; Richmond to Washington, 130;

Wheeling to Baltimore, 379. Fort Washington, where the Logan Guards were lately detailed, is about 15 miles below Washington.

The U. S. Armory at Springfield.

There are now about 220 men employed at the armory, and its production is about fif teen hundred rifle muskets each month .-With new machinery and more mechanics, there is shop room enough to extend this to 2,500 a month, and by working day and night, employing double setts of workmen, the capacity of the establishment may even be increased to 4,000 or 5,000 muskets per month. The necessities of the government, in this crisis, will doubtless produce immediate orders for working the armory to the latter production, and then it will give employment to from 1,000 to 1,200 men. the armory for arming the volunteers from Massachusetts, and these have exhausted all the rifle muskets, save 1,500 altered from the old smooth bore musket. On Sunday some 25,000 muskets of the old model, but fine serviceable arms, entirely new and with percussion locks, were dispatched by special trains to New York city and Albany, for the arming of the New York troops now equipping for service. Twenty thousand went south, and five thousand went to Albany. They were ordered by Gov. Morgan, and the authorities of the amory anticipating such heavy drafts, had 30,000 muskets bexed and made ready for immediate transportation, so that the order was filled at once. There remain still in the establishment ninety thousand more muskets of the same character as those sent to New York, and these will be tion to the capacity of the public and private armories of the North, there need be no lack of means anticipated in this regard. The Massachusetts volunteers, being first in the Seld, are all or nearly all armed with the new rifle musket. Of this arm, some 35,000 in all have been manufactured since the work begun, and it is believed not more than half at least of these have fallen into the hands of the secessionists of the South.

The Armory establishment-buildings and grounds—is now under a strong and strict guard, day and night, to prevent any mischief which treason might attempt to execute, by incendiarism or other diabolism, upon the interests now centred there. A force of 50 men is on constant duty, and all egress to the grounds, except by persons belonging to the establishments, or on known business, is forbidden. At present this duty is performed by men from the shops, but they will be re lieved by a body of men organized and de-tailed for this special service. The armorers will also probably be organized into companies, and armed and drilled, for prompt local action in any emergency.—Springfield Re-

Holland Professor, Berhave. Its reputation at home produced its introduction here, the demand commencing with those of the Fatherland scattered over the face of this mighty country, many of whem brought with them and handed down the tradition of its value. It is now offered to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful modicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been hupaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat
