PEOPLE'S PARTY

The members of the People's Party are hereby requested to assemble at the usual places of holding delegate elections, on Saturday Afternoon, August 10th, and elect TWO DELEGATES from each district, who are to meet in County Convention in Lewistown on Monday, August 12th, for the purpose of adopting such measures as may be deemed necessary for the ensuing campaign-of nominating a ticket, either in whole or in part, as may best subserve the interests of our Union, the glorious banner of our country, and all measures of our government calculated to crush out treason and traitors-and of appointing Conferees to place in nomination a candidate for the office of President Judge of this judicial district.

GEORGE FRYSINGER, Chairman County Committee. Lewistown, July 17, 1861:

THE WAR NEWS.

The disastrous tidings received here on Monday last of a great battle having been fought in the neighborhood of Manassas Junction, in which our troops fell into an unexplained panic and retreated in shameful disorder, cast a deep gloom over our community, though, so far as we know, none of our soldiers from this county were engaged in the awful conflict. But many firesides in our country have been rendered desolate, many hearts scared, and many widows and orphans plunged into deep distress by the stern realities of a civil war foreed on our government by a band of foresworn traitors who would rejoice in the ruin of our free institutions and the sub version of our government.

Speculation as to the result is now idle, though the sail truth must come home to all reflecting men, that after the first conflict at Bull's run and the discovery that the roads and woods were lined with masked batteries, it was making the result of a great coutest the east of a die, by attempting to storm those batteries. Had our troops retired to Centreville, dug entrenchments, erected batteries, and awaited reinforcements until their number would have justified a movement in two or three heavy columns if not less than 50,000 men each, the enemy could have been hemmed in or compelled to risk a battle on a fair field .-Instead of this being the condition of affairs, it appears that the rebel troops outnumbered ours, and had the advantage of fighting under the shelter of entrenchments, where one man is equal to at least three. The dilatory movements of General Patterson's column, whether by superior orders or his own, seem to have contributed to this result, by suffering Johnston's forces to reinforce the troops at Manassas without a battle. A spirited movement in that quarter from Bunker Hill would have driven Johnston to retreat or stand at bay. As it was, it really appeared as if our commanders were afraid of engaging in a battle for fear they might kill some of the enemy!

The recent disaster ought now to teach our government that the time for leniency of every description has passed away. Washington ought at once to be rid of the spies and political harlots who infest Congress and the departments, and summary measures adopted to check the insidious wiles of northern sympathizers with treason, either by the passage of a temporary sedition law, or placing the whole country under martial law. It is an extraordinary state measures Must be adopted, or the worst may well be apprehended.

Mr. Moore, a miner in the Springfield ore bank, Blair county, was missing from Friday the 5th till Tuesday the 9th, when he was found dead on the whiskey path leading from the ore bank through the barrens to a two bottles containing whiskey.

Masked Traitors.

Several weeks ago a portion of the people of Baltimore elected Henry A. May to Congress over H. Wigter Dayis, an unconditional Union man, and the event was chronicled in the locofoco papers as a Union victory! The next thing we hear of May is that he is on a visit to Richmond, in close communion with the rebel leaders, and then he comes on to Washington to take his seat in Congress. In the meantime that body had referred his case to the Judiciary Committee, who reported in his favor, and the very next day this Union man, this lover of his country got up and defended the bridge burners and other scoundrels under whose auspices the Baltimore mob was got up, under the plea of making a personal explanation.

Ex-Governor Thomas promptly took the fellow to task, and in a few words explained what the feelings of Maryland were.-He said:

Here was a condition of affairs in Maryland painful to every citizen within its bor ders, and he undertook to stand here and aver that she, in her heart of hearts, speakng through a large majority, thanked the President for clothing the Lieutenant General with the power to declare martial law, and approved, as he did, the manner in which the power had been exercised by Maj. Gen. Banks. Maryland will stand by the Administration in its military measures, and had placed a portion of her citizens in the field. Maryland is satisfied with her condition in the Union, and meant to maintain it on the battle-field of the State or elsewhere. He then proceeded to vindicate the declaration of martial law, and alluded in terms of condemnation to what he termed the monstrous and treasonable outrage committed in Baltimore on the troops in passing through to the Capital to vindicate the law and preserve the Government. The Police Commissioners who had sent their memorial here were not competent to discharge their duties, but the Chief was active in the wholesale burning of bridges to prevent the transportation of troops for the purpose he had stated. He thanked Gen. Banks for suppressing the insurrection and the prevention of civil war — Go on in your good work, and receive the laudation of every reasonable man in that State, including even the minority, when they wake from the delasion under which they are now acting. He denounced in the strongest terms the murderous and cowardly outrage of the 19th of Arril, when the patri otic and unarmed citizens of Massachusetts, hastening to the defence of the Capital, had been basely assassinated, and charged that Marshall Kane, instead of seeking to win back the mad populace to their proper allegiance, had, by his despatch to Bradley T. Johnson, which Mr. Thomas read, stirred up to their very depths their evil passions. The ing explanatory extract: Police Commissioners, knowing of this act of ossal suicide? It would be not merely ala Mr. Kane, had nevertheless retained him in throw itself against all the purposes of ma

he had impeached the fidelity of Marshall se of every Christian, the motto of every Kane, to permit the reading of that officer's init and press, the rallying cry to call report, which was, he said, a complete vindi th not only men, or weapons, or funds, the

Mr. May again asked that Marshall Kane's report should be read, and said that gentle man had time and again risked his life on that day to protect the Massachusetts soldiers, and prenounced him as faithful and honest an officer as the country could produce. Derisive laughter. Mr. Thomas replied that he would not im pugn the motives of any one, but respecting the effect of Marshal Kane's actions there existed a wide difference of opinion, and that difference was not very favorable to Mr. Kane. He contended that the Police Com missioners, by retaining Mr. Kane in office were equally as guilty as the latter. He held that Governor Hicks expressed the true sentiments of the people, and that the Legislature was in fact disloyal to the people of the State and to the General Government; particularly specifying as confirmatory of the latter statement their passage of an act to re store the arms collected by the Governor.

The masked traitors in Congress continue to show their colors. Last week Breckinridge uttered a tirade of abuse against the President and his cabinet, followed by Bayard of Delaware. Mr. Latham, democratic Senator from California said, speaking of these men, being and syswis al

"He was pained that he did not hear one by States now arrayed in bostility against the Government. Gentlemen could find, with logical reasoning, infinitesimal flaws in the conduct of the President, but not one word of condemnation of those who openly trample the Constitution under foot.

He contended that this was simply a war to enforce the laws and maintain the Govern-The people were as willing to lay down their lives to prevent any infraction of the right of property and the Constitution at the South as anywhere. He said, in common with several gentleman on this floor, he con demned every act of the South in opposition to the Government, and the pen of history would never record so unjustifiable and un-warrantable a revolt. He contended that if the South had remained in the Union she of affairs, and to meet it extraordinary would have had the power as much as the ev er had, except the Executive sanction. He contended that the South had no cause to revolt; but he had become satisfied that it was the settled purpose of the South to soize the occasion of Mr. Lincoln's election to precipi tate the rebellion. He asserted further, that it was a scheme of the fostered and of the leading politicians of the South for a quarter of a century to BREAK UP THE GOVERN MENT, and establish a government the cor ner stone of which was slavery. He referred whiskey distillery in the neighborhood, with to the declaration of Mr. Yancey as an evidence that no compromise would be accepted, but the moment had arrived at which to strike for independence. The doctrine of secession was but a shadow of excuse. He did not believe that the sensible men of the south be lieved in a doctrine so absurd. We paid for Louisiana fifteen millions of dollars; for Florida five millions, and the interest of a hundred millions in the Indian war; seven millions in pensions to soldiers lost in that war; and ten millions to remove the Indians. paid one million for Texas, and $217,000,000 for the war with Mexico. In fact the people of the United States owe $617,000,000; and yet we are met with the argument that, to avoid bloodshed, we should consent to the doctrine that any State may leave when she pleases, and make war and foreign alliances; and all in the name of the Constitution.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

The United States Senate on Monday passed, ayes 32 mays 6, the bill to confiscate property used for insurrectionary purposes, having first amended it, on motion of Mr. Trumbull, by a provision declaring that "slaves employed in aiding in the re-"bellion against the Government, when 'captured shall be confiscated." The bill to provide for the construction of one or more armored ships or batteries was also

In the House of Representatives on Monday Mr. Crittenden introduced resolutions declaring, first, that the present war has been forced upon the country by the Disunionists of the Southern States, and second, that it is not waged in a spirit of oppression or subjugation, nor with a view o overthrow any institution, but to maintain the principles of the Constitution and the Government of the United States, and that when such objects shall have been attained the war shall cease. Mr. Burnett called for a division of the question. The first resolution was adopted, yeas 121, nays Messrs. Burnett, of Kentucky, and Reed, of Missouri; the second was adopted, yeas 117, nays, Messrs. Potter, of Wisconsin, and Riddle, of Ohio.

The Sanitary Commission. Mr. Herbert, one of the agents of the above Commission, is at the National House, and will be happy to explain the objects, ends and aims of the above organization, embracing the foremost men in the nation.

The principal feature is a great national good, based on considerations of humanity. It has the sanction of both the President and the Secretary of War.

The object is to provide for the health and comfort of the troops, engaged in supporting the only free Government on the face of the earth. We subjoin the follow-office, and were responsible for the consequences. They had been proven incompetent by the occurrences of the 19th to pretent by the occurrences of the 19th to pretent by the occurrences of the city, and it needed a leultivated faith; it would be to put stronger hand to keep Baltimore from civil k the world's progress by centuries, and seven the province of the city and it needed a leultivated faith; it would be to put stronger hand to keep Baltimore from civil k the world's progress by centuries, and seven the province of the city and seven the consequence of the city and it needed a leultivated faith; it would be to put stronger hand to keep Baltimore from civil k the world's progress by centuries, and seven the city and the consequence of the city and war.

If Gen. Banks has overstepped the bounds of Constitutional law, he thought the end would justify the success, and would say to her in gloom, and beneath which the him, Go on with the good work until you shall receive the laudation of all true men.

Mr. May appealed to Mr. Thomas, since

Heavy Loss by Canadian Speculators in Grain and Flour .- The Toronto Globe, after stating that there were rumors of the failure of three or four of the boldest operators in flour and grain in Montreal, proceeds to give some interesting particulars. It states that one hundred thousand barrels of flour were bought last February in Montreal for delivery in May and June at $6a6 25 per barrel, and that buyers have lost from $2 to 2 25 per barrel. The loss, it is said, has been equally great in wheat, and the depreciation will cause a loss to Montreal alone of upwards of $500,000. Besides this, it is estimated that the millers of Upper Canada have lost, from the same cause, upwards of one million dol-
