Grape Wine.

C. N. Bement, writing to Country Gentleman, says: Wine may be made from the Isabella grape on a small scale, by picking the fruit in clear, dry weather, when perfectly ripe, and after picking out the immature and unsound berries, put them in a tight bex or tub and mash them with a pestal or pounder, having the lower end square. Reduce the fruit in this manner to a fine mass, but do not break the measure, together with seeds while pounding. The next process is the extraction of the juice, which may be done by placing the mass in a coarse bag or sack, and submit it to the pressure. If a cheese or portable cider press is at hand, make use of it; otherwise place the bag between planks, and lay stones on them When the juice ceases to run, remove the pomace to a tub, and after breaking the cheese fine, sprinkel on a quantity of clear soft water, to dissolve and draw out the remaining juice. When all the juice is expressed-which is usually from 12 to 16 quarts per bushel of grapes-to each quart of the juice add a half pound of white granulated sugar, stirring and shaking it until the sugar is entirely dissolved. Put the liquor into a cask, which should be full in order that the impurities in it may flow over by fermentation at the bung .-After it ferments eight or ten days, put in the bung tight, and let it rest in a cool dry cellar; there to remain until March, when it should be racked off into a clean cask, well sweetened with a brimstone match burned within. As it undergoes several changes the first year, it is well to let it remain until late in the fall, when it should be again racked off into a cask, and if it is not fine and bright, it would be well to fine it with sweet milk, or with the whites of eggs beat up with sand. In the course of a few weeks if every thing works fav-orably, it will be fine and bright and fit for Apple Dumplings.

In every paper you will see some time or other the query, how can I make light pot-pie? how can I make light apple dump-

Having pared and thinly sliced the apple, I rub butter in the flour nearly enough for an ordinary pie crust; mix a little soda in some water, and pour enough in some buttermilk to make it foam; any more than this is injurious; now moisten the crust about as soft as ordinary biscuit, roll out and butter it over lightly, then double it over once and repeat. Put in no more apples than the crust will easily lap over on, and two small dumplings are better than one large one, as they are most easily got in the bag, and take less time in cooking. When the fruit is cooked the pastry is done, and the time of cooking must be regulated accordingly. If we cook the fruit before putting it in, half an hour is sufficient to boil an ordinary sized dumpling made in this way-though in roll form two hours is necessary. Pudding bags must be kept sweet and clean, dipped in boiling water and well floured on the inside before using. A good sauce can be eaten with apple dumplings as follows :-To a pint of boiling water add a good slice of butter, half a nutmeg grated, two tablespoonsful of flour, previously mixed in cold water, and half a teaspoonful extract of lemon, with a coffeecupful of white sugar; boil one minute. As far as my experience has gone, heavy apple dumplings are owing to too much cooking, or want of enough shortening, or perhaps a poor fire, and water not boiling to start with. MARY J. STEVENSON.

Unfermented Bread.

Take fine flour, six pounds; bicarbonate of soda one and one-eighth of an ounce; pure muriatic acid, one ounce and a quarter; water, three pints; and salt, three quarters of an ounce; mix the bicarbonate of soda and the salt intimately with the flour, and put the muriatic acid into the water, and then blend the whole in the usual way of making dough. As soon as it is thoroughly kneaded, bake it either in tins or not. Bread thus made has an agreeable and natural taste; keeps much longer than fermented or common bread, and is said to be more digestable, and much less liable to turn sour or moldy. We may observe that the chemical action of the acid on the soda disengages gas, which, though it makes the bread 'light,' disappears in the oven, and the result of this action is to produce nothing but common table salt, which can be easily proved by mixing a similar proportion of the acid and the soda in an appropriate vessel, when the well known taste of common table salt will be recognized .- Septimus Piesse.

Stewed Beef.

Take a piece of sirloin beef, about ten pounds, cut out the bone, and lard the beef and the tenderloin which is cutting out the bone has been separated from the other part. Put back the tenderloin and roll up the beef and tie it firmly; then stew gently till done. Serve it with the following sauce poured all over it : Put into a stewpan the muscles of a knuckle of veal, some slices of ham or bacon, a cupful of gravy, a spoonful or two of strong vinegar, a bay leaf, a clove of garlic, a little thyme, one clove, and a little salt; skim it, and when it has stewed a quarter of an hour, pass it through a seive; then add sorrel, parsley and mushrooms, all chopped fine, and whole capers; heat it again and pour it over the beef.

PILLS.

Tanged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the previate to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Fif's, and cheanso out the disordered his more on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purily the system from the obstructions which make obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Fifts, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-scated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the Latural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the sames means. None who know the virtues of these Fifls, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from either well known public persons.

Pron a Powerding Merchant of St. Louis, Ptb. 1556.

Da. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little another of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long gricyously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE. As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Carteright, New Orleans.
Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are nild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the lowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

I have cared with your Pills better than to say all that we ever troot with a purysties medicine. I place great depondence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir; I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headachs any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleans at once.

From Dr. J. P. Jangha, Montreal, francia, Too much cannot be said of your Fills for the cure of cotiveness. If others of our fraternity have found a them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclyiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although had enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe conficients to originate in the liver, but your Fills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the indural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleans the stonach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I resommend no other to my patients, HONDRD Sir: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on exernizing nearwhyle pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimgo, Dr. Mackenzie, I triod your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.
