LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SUDDEN DEATH .- Jacob Mutthersbough, Esq., formerly Sheriff of Mifflin county, and of late years proprietor of the Union House, was found in his bedroom almost lifeless on Thursday morning last, and before any measures could be adopted for his restoration had breathed his last. Mr. M. was well known in this county, and highly respected as a man and a citizen. His lady was absent in the country at the time. His remains were interred on Sunday afternoon in the presence of many weeping relatives and a large number of sympathizing friends.

ANOTHER. - John Walters, Esq., an old citizen of McVeytown, died suddenly, probably from palpitation of the heart, on Friday evening last, while attending to a ish basket in the river. It was generally reported that he had been drowned, but such we learn was not the case.

An alarm of fire was sounded on Sunday evening last, caused by the burning of a foul chimney at the residence of Jas. Burns, Esq. For a short time the building was considered in danger, but a prompt supply of water in buckets soon relieved all apprehension. The fire department was out, but as usual hardly in fit condition for service. We believe the Burgess and Town Council would save money by paying, say four men for each engine house, about a dollar a month to keep the apparatus in order.

Rev. Mr. Fleek and lady were suddenly called away on Thursday morning by news that Mrs. F's mother, whom she had left but a few weeks ago in fair health, was dangerously ill.

Forrents of rain, accompanied with heavy blows of wind, were experienced in this county on Friday afternoon and evening last. The streams rose bank fullmany trees and fences were blown down, and whole fields of corn prostrated. Bewond this however we hear of no serious

ATA public meeting was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening to consider propriety of furnishing blankets for the use of Camp Curtin, but the majority thought the State ought to provide the article by paying such prices as would renumerate the manufacturers.

A considerable number of our colared population are preparing to remove to Hayti, West Indies.

Captain J. A. Mathews, of the Logan Guards, has been promoted to the Majorship of the 46th Regiment, made vacant y the death of Major Lewis. Lieut. Eisenbise thus becomes Captain, 2d Lieut. Correspondence of the Gazette

CAMP JUNIATA, Sept. 27, 1861. Mr. Editor .-- As the facilities for writing a camp are now of the best, permit me to keep the friends of the Keystone Band and of Col. Irwin's Regiment posted through your columns in regard to our locality and incidents which may transpire. The band thankfully acknowledges the receipt of several boxes of luxuries, while encamped near Harrisburg, from the ladies of Newton damilton and Lewistown. Each box was received with a rousing cheer and blessings for the fair donors. Our regiment left Harisburg on the 21st day of this month in spirits, and were received along the oute by the most intense enthusiasm. soon as we came within sight of the Pennsylvania and Maryland line, the soldiers sent p a shout that made the welkin ring. From s particular point uncle Sam has stationed als boys approximate to each other-increasnumber to Baltimore-to look after bridges, &c., of which, Mr. Editor, (as ou have often travelled the road) you know ere are a great number. There is a large encampment at Cockeysville. Nothing ocarred to dispirit the troops until we arrived the neighborhood of Mt. Washington, about 5 miles from Baltimore, where an ac dent occurred which cast an inexpressible gloom over the whole regiment. The rear train, containing part of our regiment, comising eleven cars, ran into the rear car of he front train, having on board the remaining portion of the regiment, almost instantly killing John Fulton, 20 years of age, and Daniel Parker, aged 24 years of age, both amarried, of Centre county, Pa. Several soldiers were also slightly injured. The car Thick which was run into was thrown across the faction.

track over a culvert in such a position that had it been removed one foot further, nearly the whole of Capt. Neice's company would have been precipitated over the cuivert a distance of from 18 to 20 feet, and nothing public information: could have prevented the destruction of the car and the loss of many lives. Capt. N. received a severe contusion on the nose, but it is now well. The verdict of the jury was that the above persons came to their death by mismanagement on the part of the managers of the Northern Central Railway. This may be true, but the statement of many soldiers on the train make the verdict of the jury look a little "fishy," The fact is, Johnston, the engineer of the train which ran into us, was heard to remark that he would "prick the wool out of their (our) ears before we reached Baltimore," and as near as we can judge he ran into us at the rate of thirty miles per hour. He is openly accused of being a secessionist, and persons living near the scene of disaster assert that it was a wilful act on the part of Johnston. We do not wish to charge Johnston falsely, but the word of men living where the accident occurred, and the assertions of men belonging to the regiment are entitled to some credit at least. The engineer was found 300 yards from the scene of the disaster with one leg broken and the foot of the other horribly mangled by the cars. He attempted to escape, but justice overtook him before he did so. He has since had his leg amputated, but will doubtless die. The fireman stuck to the engine and did all in his power to prevent the accident. He received no injury. We arrived in Washington at 2 o'clock P. M. on Sunday, and were invited to take supper at the Soldier's Retreat, a large building erected by the Gov-ernment for that purpose near the railroad. A tin of very bad coffee, a large piece of bread and a corresponding quantity of pork comprised the meal. The building is well named, as we were anxious to "retreat" from it as soon as possible to camp, where we were provided with excellent rations and plenty of them. We had good food in Camp Curtin, but here we get a greater variety and more of it. Our Colonel (W. H. Irwin) is a strict disciplinarian, and permits no man to ne gleet his duty as a soldier. By this means our regiment is rapidly becoming proficient in drill, and ere long will rank with regulars in everything military. Our Colonel treats us all kindly and impartially, and commands the respect and esteem of the whole regiment. You may depend upon it when he leads them to a brush with the enemy they will make a mark that our State will be proud of. We (the writer) visited the city yesterday to hear an oration by Dr. McCoy on the present state of the Union. It was a fine production, and his bursts of eloquence elicited rounds of applause. We observed the smiling face of Uncle Abe in the audience, who appeared to take great interest in the remarks of the speaker. As the mail is about closing I will bid you adieu for the present, but will give you a description of matters in general in my next. C. C.

A Tragedy and a Fatal Blunder. DARNESTOWN, Sept. 23 .- A tragical occurrence transpired near this village yesterday, in the Pennsylvania 46th regiment, Colone Knipe, on their way to join General Banks' column. In the regiment is a company composed principally of Irishmen, who given the commander much trouble. When near Muddy Lun two of the men got engaged in a fight, and one of them named Lanahan, of company I, a very bad character, was by order of Major Arnold C. Lewis tied to the rear of a baggage wagon. After proceeding about a mile it was reported to Major Lewis that Lanahan was at large with a loaded gun in his hands. The Major, accompanied by Assistant Surgeon W. Chas. Rogers, rode towards Lanahan and ordered him to give up the gun. Lanahan refused, and while the Major was in the act of getting off his horse to enforce his order, Lanaham retreated a few paces, took deliberate aim, and shot the Major in the back with a ball and three buckshit. The latter fell and expired in three minutes without uttering a word. Lanahan was secured, and the body of the unfortunate officer was placed in wagon and guarded to the camp. Lanahan is now in the hands of the Provost Marshall, and will be tried by a drum head court, probably to day. The murderer is a resident of Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Major Lewis was thirty two years of age, was married about a year ago, and leaves a wife but no children. He served in the Mexican war, and on the breaking out of the present rebellion was editing the Catasaqua (Lehigh county) Herald, which occupation he resigned to enter the army. He was dearly beloved by the whole regiment, and his death hangs like a pall upon the spirits of his associates.

Melancholy Catastrophe—Another Blunder— Colonel Owen's Regiment Fires on Baker's and Baxter's Regiments.

The advance of General Smith on Falls Church from the Chain Bridge was attended by events of the most deplorable character. Having passed Vanderwercker's and Vanderberg's houses on their way to the former place, and when about half a mile from it, by some unaccountable blunder Col. Owen's Philadelphia Irish Regiment, in the darkness of the night mistaking for rebels Captain Mott's battery, which was in the adarnce, sustained by General Baker's California Regiment, Col. Baxter's Philadelphia Fire Zouploy an additional editor, who will take aves, and Col. Friedman's Cavalry, fired a full volley into the troops last mentioned, killing and wounding a large number. The California regiment, not knowing whence the firing came, returned it with marked effeet. The horses attached to Mott's battery became unmanageable, and the tongues of the caissons were broken owing to the nar rowness of the road. Lieut. Bryant, having command of the first section, ordered the guns to be loaded with grape and cannister, and soon had them in range to rake the sup-posed enemy, when word was sent to him that he was in the company of friends. All was excitement, and a long time enabled.

The European Coalition Against Mexico-Reported Approval of Foreign Intervention by the Mexicans.

[From the London Times, Sept. 10. The expectations that a combined Anglo French Naval expedition is to be immediately organized, to obtain redress for the indignities and injuries inflicted on British and French interests in Mexico, is regarded with satisfaction by all who have watched the painful consequences of the toleration so long shown to the various governments in that country. It is reported that Spain also is earnestly desirous of some respectable adjustment that may put an end to the prevail-ing horrors, and the private letters last re-ceived from Mexico reiterate the assertion that foreign intervention is prayed for by the whole population, with the exception of the military or political robbers by whom the existing anarchy has been created. Under the circumstances, too, it is to be assumed that the Federal Cabinet at Washington will be disposed cordially to co operate in the work, so that it shall permanently conciliate all ra-tional claims. Whether the question is to be dealt with by the general combination which seems thus in prospect or by France and England alone, it is evident that the possibility of further delay is at an end.

The Shipping Gazette of September 11, referring to a combined French and English expedition to the coast of Mexico, says it is surmised in some quarters that the object of the two Powers is to have a strong force in the Mexican waters, and thus to take advantage of any contingency which might arise during the pending conflict between the Northern and Southern States (of the United States).
