Gathering and Keeping Apples.

In order to secure soundness and preservation, it is indispensably necessary that the fruit should be gathered by hand. For winter fruit the gathering is delayed as long as possible, avoiding severe frosts, and the most successful practice with our extensive orchardists is to place the good fruit directly, in a careful manner, in new, tight flour barrels, as soon as gathered from the tree. These barrels should be gently shaken while filling, and the head closely pressed in; they are then placed in a cool, shady exposure under a shed open to the air, or on the north side of a building, protected by a covering of boards over the top, where they remain a fortnight, or until the cold becomes too severe, when they are carefully transferred to a cool, dry cellar, in which air can be admitted occasionally in brisk weather.

A cellar for this purpose, should be dug in dry gravelly or sandy soil, with, if possible, a slope to the north, or at any rate, with openings on the north side for the admission of air very rarely in weather not excessively cold. Here the barrels should be placed on tiers on their sides, and the cellar should be kept as dark as possible. In such a cellar, one of the largest apple growers in Dutchess county is able to keep the Greening apple, which, in the fruit room, usually decays in January, until the first of April, in the freshest and finest condition. Some persons place a layer of clean rye straw between every layer of apples, when packing them in barrels.—Downing.

A Good Smokehouse.

We lately observed a well-planned smokehouse on the premises of a good farmer, worthy of a brief description. It was about six feet square, the lower half built of brick, furnished with an iron-lined door, and serving as an ash house, and place for the fire. The upper part, about four feet high besides the ascent of the roof, was made of wood. It was separated from the lower part by scantling joists, a space of two or three inches between them, through which smoke and air could freely pass, but sufficient to catch any ham that might accidentally fall, and thus save it from the fire. The upper part, as well as the lower, was entered by a door from the outside; this upper door may be kept locked, except when admitting or withdrawing hams; but the lower may be left unlocked, for the hired man to build fires, without any danger of the contents above being stolen, as the thief cannot pass through the openings between the joists.—Country Gentleman.

Remedy for Ringworm.

The North British Agriculturist says that the disease locally known as ringworm tetter, which shows itself about the head and neck of young cattle, in the form of whitish dry scurfy spots, can be removed by rubbing the parts affected with iodine ointment. The disease may also be combated by the use of sulphur and oil; iodine ointment is however, to be preferred. As this skin disease is easily communicated to the human subject, the person dressing the cattle should wash his hands with soap and hot water after each application of the ointment.

Sudden Fickleness of Heart, Burning in the flesh, Constant Inflammation of the Head, Depressions of Spirits, and will positively prevent YELLOW FEVER, BILIOUS FEVER, &c.
The Proprietor in calling the attention of this preparation, does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtue and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.
It is a new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a twelve years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale are unrivalled by any similar preparations extant. The testimony in its favor given by the most prominent and well known physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the almanac, published annually by the proprietors, and to be had gratis of their agents, cannot but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make purgative effect expeditious. These, if not removed, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, and finally, disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the discharges, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous diseases. The same purgative effect expeditious, caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them cured by the Pills, which neglect to employ them when entering from the disorders they cure.

Stationers for testing physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.
From a Persuading Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1854.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the purgative of the body, and I have cured many of my patients, and feel that I have procured a permanent cure. My husband has been long and severely afflicted with biliousness and piles, and has been in bed for many months. After your child was cured, she also took your Pills, and they have cured her.

As a Family Physic.
Your Pills are the prince of purgatives. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and efficient in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

My husband has been long and severely afflicted with biliousness and piles, and has been in bed for many months. After your child was cured, she also took your Pills, and they have cured her.
