LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Boat Building.—This business, which had been in a measure almost suspended on the Juniata during the past few years, gives some promise of a revival. A majority of the boats now in use are pretty well worn out—others have been disposed of—so that there will probably be a considerable demand for some years. We learn that Messrs. Gaskins and Alter, who have an excellent reputation for building substantial canal boats, have now orders for four new ones, (as well as three or four to repair) which will give them employment for some time.

DEATH OF A SOLDIER.—Corporal Albert B. Strong, a member of Capt. Taylor's company, First Pennsylvania Cavalry, was taken sick with typhoid fever on Thursday, and died on Monday morning last, much regretted by his companions in arms. He was a son of John Strong, of Three Locks, Oliver township, and between 19 and 20 years of age. His father had been telegraphed, but missed the connection at Baltimore, and did not reach the camp until some hours after he died. The company provided a coffin for the young soldier, escorted his remains to the Chain Bridge with Capt. Taylor at their head, and thence sent under charge of Mr. Coplin to his home—all at their expense.

CANAL NAVIGATION may now be said to be at an end for this season, as the water will be drawn off in a few days. The construction of a new aqueduct in this place will we suppose be at once commenced.

THE NEW JUDGE.—The Millifinburg Tribune, in speaking of Judge Woods' first appearance on the bench, says: "He was introduced to the audience by Judge Middlewarth; after reading of his commission by Mr. Simpson, and other preliminary proceedings, the Judge delivered one of the most comprehensive and magnificent charges to the grand jury, that we ever had the pleasure of listening to. At the request of many, we asked the Judge for a copy, for publication, which he kindly promised to furnish us at his earliest convenience. Every person seemed to be pleased with the new Judge, and he has so far made a very favorable impression upon the public mind."

ITEMS.—Some half dozen weddings are said to be on the carpet for the next two weeks. Preachers and printers we suppose may look out—the former for half eagles, and the latter for pound cake. The boys and girls are itching for ice, snow, or anything else that will do to slide on. A carriage broke down in the diamond on Saturday, but without injury to those in it.—The second ball came off at the Lewistown Hotel last Thursday, but with a small attendance—probably owing to the fact that too many dancing gentlemen have holes in their pockets.—Turkeys are unusually abundant this year. Thus far they have been selling at 6 cents per lb., which is more than can be obtained for them from dealers in the city.—What has become of the temperance meetings? Have the tapers all been reformed, or is Captain Whiskey in the ascendant?—A protracted meeting was commenced in the Lutheran Church last week, since which services have been held nightly with a full attendance.—The sermon on the outside is published by request.—Ministers generally receive instead of giving presents. We acknowledge however the receipt of an acceptable one from Rev. Mr. Fleck and lady.

Mr. John Clark will commence the second session of his Singing Class on next Friday (20th) evening.

Henry Havies raised 980 bushels of potatoes, and 160 bushels of turnips, on the Henry Ditt farm now occupied by him.

Report of John L. Griffith, Agent for "The Lewistown Colony"—Emigrants for Hayti:

On the 15th of October, 1861, the expenses for moving eighty two colored persons from Lewistown to New York were $80 00 Money collected by me in the Borough of Lewistown, $15 00 Appropriation by county Commis'rs., 5 00 Clothing, 12 00

This sum ($32) was considered a very extravagant collection. It can readily be seen from the above figures what kind of outfit these colored people had, for a journey of eighteen hundred miles. The emigrants themselves collected, each for his or her individual use alone, perhaps an aggregate of $40. This will compare favorably with the emigration of the Children of Israel from the land of Egypt. Withal they seem to be contented with their new home, as we learn from a letter received December 2, 1861, from David Walker, and Lewis Thomas. The emigrants appear to think they have found the land of promise. Also, a letter from Robert Stills, who is now putting in his first crop in Hayti, reports favorably, and tells us that he will return in the spring and take his family out. A number of other letters confirm this good news of our colored friends. Besides, those who have gone from this place, fifteen started in the month of November from Bellefonte, and this morning another party of twenty five passed through our town from the same place on their way to enjoy with their friends the sunny skies and genial climate of this far off island. In April there will be thirty more ready to go from Lewistown.—Will not some kind person head a subscription for them with $10, as Mr. F. J. HOFFMAN did the first list.

WAR NEWS.

Despatches received at Cincinnati report that a spirited fight occurred at Allegheny Camp, Cheat Mountain, on Friday. It is characterized as the hardest and best fought fight of the campaign. It is not stated, but we presume the fight commenced by an attack on the Union position. The battle lasted from daylight to three in the afternoon. The rebels were finally driven off losing two hundred, including a Major, other officers and about thirty prisoners. The rebels set fire to their tents and retreated to Staunton. Their commander, Gen. Johnson, of Georgia, was seriously but not mortally injured. Our troops were commanded by Gen. Milroy, who is we believe a native of Millifin county.

Twelve mortar boats attached to the Mississippi Union squadron left St. Louis for Cairo on the morning of the 10th. There are in all thirty-eight of these boats to be attached to the flotilla. As a necessary measure of precaution the commerce of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers has been placed, by order of Gen. Halleck, under military control. Another order issued, quarters the Union families who have been driven from their homes by the rebels upon those who sympathize with the secession movement, with sufficient pains and penalties in case of resistance. The latest news from Price still leaves him at Osceola with from ten to fifteen thousand men.

The news from Missouri, though not exciting, is of much importance. A few days since Major Marshall routed a band of rebels under Joe Shelby, and captured four captains, two adjutants, one lieutenant and forty men, with arms, horses, wagons, a mortar, and other articles. Gen. Pope, who is in command of the district between the Missouri and Osage rivers, is acting very efficiently against the small marauding parties of rebels scattered through the country.

The steamer Constitution arrived at Old Point on Sunday from Ship Island, Mississippi Sound, where she had landed two regiments of Gen. Butler's brigade. The troops were all landed in four hours, by the aid of some small steamers captured from the rebels. The Constitution will probably take on board three more regiments and return immediately to the South. Ship Island is about seventy-five miles from New Orleans.

The Raleigh, North Carolina, Standard announces that a Federal regiment had taken possession of Portsmouth, at Ocracoke Inlet, and that ten of our gunboats were in Pamlico Sound.

Parson Brownlow, the Louisville Courier, printed at Bowling Green, says has been arrested for treason at Knoxville, Tennessee, and committed to jail.

The Secretary of War has declined to furnish to Congress certain information asked for in relation to the Ball's Bluff disaster, Gen. McClellan believing it would be injurious to the public service to do so.

The official report received from Col. Brown of the late battle at Pensacola makes it evident that no very effective demonstration can be made in that quarter before large reinforcements are sent there, and a combined attack made by our fleet, Fort Pickens, a strong land force.

The Charleston Courier of Friday has a report from Beaufort stating that the Yankees advanced their positions to near Port Royal ferry on Tuesday, and crossed the ferry under cover of artillery to the mainland and destroyed several confederate rifle pits.

The Government has fairly commenced the exchange of prisoners. Two hundred and forty four of those taken at Hatteras have been released from Fort Warren and have embarked on board a vessel for Fortress Monroe, where they will await an equal number of released Federal prisoners. This news will rejoice all the friends of the Union prisoners in the hands of the rebels, and, at the same time, greatly tend to alleviate the horrors of the present war.

Shooting of a Deserter.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Gen. Franklin was yesterday furnished with a copy of the order for the execution of Wm. H. Johnson, a private in the Lincoln Cavalry. According to report, his offence was desertion. Suggesting himself to be in the presence of a party of the enemy, he expressed his joy that he had made his escape. The officer in command had a private conversation with him, when he freely and anxiously gave such information as would have been of great importance to the Rebels. His revelation being concluded, he was arrested, and much to his surprise he discovered his mistake when he was taken back to his own camp a prisoner!

The execution took place this afternoon in the presence of about seven thousand soldiers belonging to General Franklin's Division. A detachment of twelve men were detailed for the purpose. Eight of them first fired, when Johnson fell on his coffin, but life not being extinct the other four in reserve fired with the required effect. This is the first execution in the army of the Potomac since the commencement of the Rebellion.

A Storm in Camp.

Soldiers Struck by Lightning.—An extract from a letter written by a member of Col. Stambaugh's Regiment, encamped at Camp Nevin, Kentucky, says:

"Last evening about seven o'clock, a ter a beautiful warm day, the western sky became dark and lowering, with frequent flashes of lightning and low mutterings of distant thunder. At 8 o'clock the tattoo sounded, and the inhabitants of our tented city retired to rest. Slowly the heavy clouds rolled towards the zenith, and at midnight, with unparallelled fury, burst upon us; and peal after peal rent the spreading air with heaven's overcharged artillery. At this time a deafening explosion took place in the next tent to my quarters, and terrific yells from the sentinel brought me to my feet. I soon found the tent to be on fire, and Lieut. Wilhart, from Fulton county, Pa., and Lieut. West, from St. Thomas, Franklin co., struck by lightning; although badly burnt, the sides of their limbs to a crisp, yet God's mercy interposed and saved their lives by the very weapons they had brought with them to protect them from the rebel foe, little dreaming that it would prove their safety in the tempest and the storm; their swords by their sides were melted by the subtle fluid, and no doubt exhausted its fury and saved their lives. At this writing, I have heard of no other accidents resulting from the storm."—J. E. C., Brookville Republican.

We learn from the Bellefonte papers that the trial of Lipton and Hays for the murder of Poorman in August last while returning from a Campmeeting in Penns Valley, Centre county, after occupying the time of the Court for nearly a week, has resulted in the acquittal of Hays, and the conviction of Lipton for manslaughter. Lipton had not yet been sentenced. Messrs James T. Hale and H. N. McAllister were counsel for Defendants, Messrs. McManus, Wallace, and Kenah for the Commonwealth.

NATURAL HISTORY.

Crows Can Count But Three.

A few months since we were riding in a stage-coach with several gentlemen, when the conversation turned upon crows, and many anecdotes were related. One gentleman said that he knew that crows could count—at least as far as three—for he had often proved it. Being troubled with crows in the field, he had often to shoot them.—But they knew what a gun was as well as he did, and therefore kept out of his reach. He then concluded to put a small booth in the field, and placed some carrion—a dead horse—within gun-shot. From this place he supposed he could fire at them when they alighted to eat. Whenever he entered the booth, the crows would all sit upon the distant trees, and not one would come near till he was gone, when all would alight except the sentinel, who remained to give warning if danger approached.

The gentleman finding his plan to fail, thought he would deceive them. So he took his son with him to the booth, concluding that when they had seen one go away, the crows would think the coast clear, and descend to the bait. But when the son left the booth, a crow sang out caw, caw, caw (there goes one), but not a crow would leave his place. The next day the gentleman went one by one, the crows cried 'there goes one,' 'there goes two,' 'there goes three,' and when these men were out of sight, they all alighted, and the gun of the fourth man did its work.

The gentleman stated that this thing had been tried repeatedly, and it was evident that crows could count as far as three, but there their arithmetic ended. When they will ascend to the higher branches of mathematics is yet to be ascertained. In the meantime others can bring on the incidents of crow-math.—Olive Branch.

My friends, I suppose you wish to know, Why the Poetry Machine don't go; But to tell you the truth, since the war, To me her notes seem all to jar.

Is to Union men of this Nation;
As for the ladies, I know they can Go for the Union to a—man!

And the right kind of a man is he,
Who will call at the Tin Shop to see The things that will suit his own dear wife,
And add to her comfort through life.

And the right sort of woman is she,
Who will find a nice man who will be,
Her dear husband, so good and kind,
And'll call at the Coffee Pot Sign.

If you heed it not she'll make you stew
