THE houseneeped.

A Good Plain Pudding .- Fill a baking dish that will hold two quarts nearly full of apples, pared and cut coarsely. On this sprinkle six tablespoonsful of sago; then your into the dish as much hot water as will cover the apples and sago; let it bake about two hours. If the upper pieces of apple become too broken, push them down and others will take their places. This GLEN-ECHO MILLS, pudding should be eaten warm, with cream " milk and sugar. When cold, it is an excellent substitute for blanc mange. It is economical, healthful, nutricious and delicious.

Making Cake Without Butter .- Take a piece of salt pork fat and melt it down, and strain it through a piece of coarse, thin muslin. Set it aside until cold. It is then white and firm, and may be used like butter in any kind of cake. In pound cake it is delicions.

Soda Pudding .-- Mix together four eggs, four teacupfuls of flour, two of brown sugar, the same quantity of butter, and a teaspoonful of soda. Bake the pudding in a mould, and serve it with wine sauce, which may be made with milk instead of water.

Hoe Cike .- Seald a quart of Indian meal with a pint of water; stir in two teaspoonsful of salt and a little butter, melted; put it, when properly mixed, in a buttered tin, and bake it half an hour.

Pickled Eggs .- Boil the eggs until very hard; when cold, shell them and cut them in halves lengthways. Lay them carefully in halves lengthways. Lay them carefully . House we desire to say that we have ren-in large monthed jars, and pour over them ovated, improved, and newly furnished the scalding vinegar, well seasoned with whole same, and that we respectfully solicit a conpepper, allspice, a few pieces of ginger, and a few cloves or garlie.
