LOCAL AFFAIRS.

We are informed that the young man who had passed several counterfeit small notes on the Farmers Bank of Schuylkill county, received them in a business transaction at Huntingdon, and as is usual with many persons did not examine the notes at all, having no knowledge that any counterfeits were out. On being informed of the fact, he promptly redeemed all that had been passed, which of course exonerates him from all censure.

EXCURSION TICKETS we understand will he issued by the Railroad Company during Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, good for the return trip until the day after New Year.

Christmas is again at hand, and with it come joy and gladness on the part of the young. Let all make it as pleasant as possible to old and young; give freely out of your abundance to those around you, but in the meantime do not forget the poor.

Among the wounded at the fight at Drainsville, we notice the name of John II. Weber, son of Wm. Weber of this place, who was shot in the thigh. He was a member of Company I, 9th Pennsylvania regiment, Col. Jackson. The Bucktail regiment, in which Mifflin county has some members, was in the midst of the fight, and had two killed and twenty-five wounded.

Capt. W. W. Brown, of Bellefonte, (formerly a resident of Lewistown,) passed down the road last Friday with 92 men, which he recruited principally among the sterling yoemanry of Centre county. They presented a creditable appearance, and, under his lead, will no doubt prove as valiant as they have shown themselves to be pa-

THE NEXT COURT .- Judges Woods Morrison and Turner will take their seats on the bench of this county on the first Monday in January, when, we hope, a new leaf will be turned up, at least in some respects. We do not mean to find fault with the mode in which business has been conducted, for it only followed the old track, and of that kind was probably as good as the best; but no one will deny there is ample room for reform. In the first place, there are many old cases on the docket, in all stages of preparation, with numberless ought to be stricken off at the expense of Next we have another class occasion suits, being apparently kept there either for the purpose of staving off judg ments, or else for the sake of litigation .-These ought to have a peremptory order to be ready for trial when called or be directed to vamose the ranch. A rule could, with much propriety, be adoptel to prevent counsel from bullying witnesses and defaming those whom they are employed against. If some gas must be let loose at times, let the lawyers spout it at each other. The license question also presents ample room for reform. While the pub lie does not ask a total suspension of the were so-the people have a right to expect and demand that liquor shall be sold accoronce, "If any complaint is made that you have sold liquor to minors, to men of intemperate habits, or suffered or encouraged drunkenness, gambling or rowdyism of revoke your license or fine and imprison you to the extent of the law, as the case selling liquor without license, "I will punish you to the full extent of the law in every case of conviction," and the evil will soon be lessened, if not abated altogether, if these threats are carried out. Let him also say to constables, "It is your duty to report violations of the law to the courtto arrest all drunken men and commit them to jail," and our streets would soon be free from this now too common object. There are many other matters-such as malicious mischief, rowdyism on the streets of both

From the 46th Pennsylvania Regiment. CAMP MATHEWS, near Frederick City, Dec. 18th, 1861

Mr. Editor :- Taking it for granted that any news from the Logans is always acceptable, I will tell you, as well as I can, what we have been doing since we have been "gone to the wars." Our principal duty, so far, has been picketing along the Potomac. This is sometimes rendered a little exciting, when, from the bushes which grow so luxuriantly on the opposite shore, we may expect a stray leaden messenger to find its way amongst us, sent by the kind hands of the "Secesh."— Still, as yet, none of us have been compelled to be the unwilling recipients of their medicines, which they scatter so profusely, in the shape of pills, among the "Yankees. We have been moved around considerably, sometimes not staying more than two or three days at one place. So far we have been blessed with good encampments, as regarded water and fuel, although our camp at Muddy Branch well deserved its name, being at all times nearly one mass of mud, and the men continually carried around on their feet about ten pound of the "sacred soil" of Maryland, which is, to say the least, anything but a soil to be bragged of. We are at present in a very pleasant camp, about two and a half miles west of Frederick city. It is very pleasantly situated in all respects, there being plenty of water handy, which you need not be told is something of very great importance in a camp. How long we may remain here I am unable to say. Even as I write we are under heavy marching orders, but where to go, I am equally in ignorance. We have flying reports of engagements in which we are to take part, but whether they are only put in flight to try us or not, I am not prepared to say. I can say though, that the Logans are not only ready but willing to do all in their power for the glorious cause in which they are engaged. We have not as yet had any brushes with the "chivalry," although we came very near getting into one at Ball's Bluff. There has been considerable sickness in our company, but of all who were at the hospital there now remains but one, and we have assurance that he will be with us in a day or two. To me it is a little surprising that there has not been a great many more sick, which would seem to be conse quent upon the frequent change of water and arroundings. At present there is only one thing that seems at all to trouble the boys and that is the scarcity of girls. But as almost every one has his "sweetheart" at home, and gets letters from her, they get over that difficulty pretty well. Still, when a lady apsight, there is a great rush to see her. This may seem strange at first thought, but when I tell you that we have been for weeks at a time without seeing a woman's face, you will see that it is only natural. We have seen more of them since our stay in our present camp than we saw in all our travels since we left Washington City. Our camp is named Camp Mathews, after our Major, who is, I can assure you, of great use to our reg iment. Everybody in it speaks well of him, which is saying a great deal, for it is not ma ny men who could please as large a body of men as ours as well as he has done. There is nothing of importance to communicate now. Should any thing occur, I will let you know. With many regards, and hoping we may all meet after the war, I remain

E. W. G. Yours truly

From the 49th Pennsylvania Regiment CAMP GRIFFIN, VA. )

December, 19th, 1861. Friend Gazette-Knowing that your readers out in the Valley are always glad to hear from their friends and old neighbors now in the army, especially as our company (Capt. Maclay's) was formed in Milroy and neigh borhood, and as some one over the signature of A. S has given your readers a good report of us, it is the earnest wish of all our mem bers to keep our good name, and it will not be because we do not try if we do not keep it, and our friends can always expect to hear of us doing our whole duty. The 49th Regt items of costs, which after due notice, P. V. is composed of men from central Penn sylvania, at least the major part of it, and better men are not found anywhere. The 49th has always had a good name here, a which are on and off the trial lists, just as least we have the post of honor in Gen. Han cock's Brigade. Ever since we came t old Virginia our duties have been nearly the same: picketing, wood chopping, and a good deal of drilling, to keep us out of mischief: in fact we have done more duty than is usually required of regiments, but we have done it without grumbling, and will continue to do all that we are asked to do, and that most cheerfully. For how can any one refuse when our Colonel requests us to do anything? He does not even have to command, but if he requests anything to be done, that is all that is necessary, for no Colonel was ever obeyed more cheerfully by his men than Col. Irwin. Somehow I cannot explain it, but if a man be ever so stubborn, if the Colonel only speaks, it is enough-he cannot help but obey.

The health of the regiment is very good, considering the climate and the mode of liv ing, though for the last two weeks the weather sale of liquors-though it were well if it has been more like summer than winter. We moved our camp week before last to higher ground. We have raised our tents about 4 feet above the ground, filling in below with ding to law. Let the Judge tell them at logs, which make them very comfortable. We have made fire-places in the rear of them, making chimneys out of mud and sticks; they draw very well if the wind blows the right way, but if it does not the smoke goes every other place but out of the chimney. tions are abundant and good. There is a little any description about your premises, I will growling about the pilot bread being so hard, and lasting so long, for it seems we cannot eat Uncle Sam out of hard crackers. Some of the boys say the Government will have to may be." Let him say to those who are get them a new set of teeth, for their own are worn down to the gums-a few will say d-n the crackers-but still they will take them. When we were fixing up our tents one of the boys said he wanted a good lot of them to use as clapboards for his roof. Our friend Holmes M., at Milroy, received a package one day which looked a good deal like a picture, and he thought it was too, for he was very careful opening it; but you may judge how he looked when he found it was an army cracker of the hardest kind. He thanked those whom he thought had sent it to him, and said his family was out of bread at the time, and it lasted two whole days. Well, I think it was one that was left over from the war of 1812. Some of the boys say they have found crackers stamped B. C. Whether it is their age or hard baking, certain it is some of them are about as hard as bricks; but without joking, the pilot bread we get is of most excellent quality, except a box now and then, that are as hard as they can be made. If you would ask a soldier how he liked anything, what do you think would be his answer if he did? Why, "Bully!" Well, Bully with a soldier means a good deal, and if he don't say bully means a good deal, and if he does not like it. If you would ask one of our company how he liked soldiering? he would say, "Bully." How do you like your Col.? "Bully." What kind sale by of a captain is Maclay? "Bully captain, Bully man." What kind of rations do you Bully man." What kind of rations do you get? "Bully rations." How do you like the crackers? "O, d-n the crackers."

Our friends perhaps would like to know if we are going to stay here this winter or not. Well, we are supposed to be regular knownothings, and therefore we don't know; all we do know is to obey our superiors, and if they were to say the crackers were soft bread, why, we wouldn't know but what it was! It becomes all good soldiers to obey, for without obedience to our superiors we are good for nothing. Let our friends be assured we are very comfertably fixed here for winter, if we are permitted to stay; but we are ready at all times to go forward. And in our absence may our friends and old neighbors see to the dear ones we have left behind, that they want not for anything to make them comfortable, for they are as dear to us as they ever were. Though we have to endure the hardships of a soldier's life, yet we do it cheerfully, knowing that our cause is just; but, withal, we do not forget our cheerful firesides and the dear ones we have left behind; and may God, in his own good time, restore us to them again. Yours respectfully,

Where is Your Boy .- We saw him last, late in the evening, in company of very bad boys, and they each had a segar. And now and then some of them used very profane language. As we looked at your son, we wondered if you knew where he was, and with whom he associated. Dear friend, do not neglect that boy. He will bring sorrow into your household, if you do not bring proper parental restraint to bear upon him-and that very soon. This is applicable everywhere.

None but a physician knows how much rereliable alterative is needed by the people. On all sides of us, in all communities every where there are multitudes that suffer from complaints that nothing but an alterative cures. Hence a great many of them have been made and put abroad with the assurance of being effectual. But they fail to accomplish the cures they promise because they have not the intrinsic virtues they claim .-In this state of the case, Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. of Lowell, have supplied us with a compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, which does prove to be the long desired remedy. Its peculiar difference from other kindred preparations in market is that it cures the diseases for which it is recommended, while they do not. We are assured of this fact by more than one of our intelligent physicians in this neighborhood and have the further evidence of our own experience of its truth .- Tennessee Farmer. Nashville, Tenn.

What the "Louisville Journal" Says: "We do not believe that in this age of cheap publi-"We do not believe that in this age of cheap publications any work can be more reasonable than the terms of the Scientific American at $2 per annum, with twenty-five per cent. discount for clubs of ten. It forms a yearly volume of $32 pages quarto, with an immense number of original engravings of patented machines, valuable inventions, and objects of scientific interest. There is not an industrial pursuit which does not receive a share of its attention. It contains official lists of patent claims, important statistics, practical recipes for useful domestic purposes, and has long stood, both in this country and in Europe, as the highest authority in the mechanic arts and sciences. There is no publication more valuable to the farmer, the miller, the engineer, the iron founder, the mechanic, or the manufacturer. We have never opened a number without learning something we never knew before, and obtaining valuable information for the penefit of our readers. The publishers, Messrs, Munn & Co., of 37 Park Row, New York, have deserved the success they have achieved. No one should visit that city without calling at their palatial establishment, which is a museum of inventive genius, collected from the entire world. If any of our friends away off in the country do not know this work, and will take our advice, they will mail $2 and become subscribers immediately, or by applying to the publishers they can obtain a speciemen copy gratis, which will be sure to confirm the truth of our recommendation."

We fully indorse the above, and would recommend our readers to take Prentice's advice, and subscribe for the paper. A new volume commences on the 1st of January, and it being a valuable work of reference containing, as it does, the only official list of patent claims published in the country, every number should be preserved. The paper is published every Saturday by the well known patent agents, Messrs. Munn & Co, who have conducted the paper during the past sixteen

In addition to furnishing specimen copies of the pa. per gratis, the publishers will send a pamphlet of advice to inventors, free of charge. Address, MUNN & Co., 36 Park Row.
