TEMPERANCE MEETINGS .- A new temperance association has lately sprung up, which holds its meetings every Friday evening in the Town Hall, and is generally addressed by able speakers. Rev. Mr. Leithead will be the next lecturer. The holding liquor sellers of all kinds within the pale of the law, and when the proper time comes will remonstrate against granting license to those who violate it by selling to persons of intemperate habits.

The Apprentices' Literary Society now meets regularly every Saturday evening, and ladies and gentlemen will find it an agreeable place for spending an hour or two. Every young man who desires to improve himself ought to become an active member, by participating in its debates. There is also an excellent library, embracing

THE WEATHER .- Our prognostications of the weather last week turned out correct, the several attemps at snowing and hailing having ended in a general rain, which cleared the river of ice, and caused a rise just high enough to make folks along the creek desire it no higher. Considerable driftwood came down, and a number were engaged in catching it to replenish their sinter pile.

OUR MILITARY .- The Lochiel Cavalry, at last advices, were hourly expected to leave Camp Andy Johnson for the seat of war in Kentucky-the Logan Guards were companies remained in their quarters in Virginia beyond the Chain Bridge. THE POOR HOUSE .- The Democrat, under wrong information probably, last week cast some reflections on the Steward of the Poor House in removing the man (Lambert Myers) who had been injured on the railroad, by inuendo attributing his death as much to the manner of his removalwhich it says was in a bungling manneras to his injuries. The facts in the case will not warrant such a statement The family with whom he had been lodged refused to keep him any longer, and the Poor House physician therefore directed his removal-no hopes being entertained of his recovery, as he had been seriously injured internally. The steward, his son, and Mr. James Broom, after filling the spring wagon with soft straw, and placing buffalo robes, &c. on it, took the most gentle horse society we believe takes the ground of on the farm, and proceeded to effect it. The man was carefully carried out on a robe, placed in the wagon, and taken to the Poor rence his youthful companion was absent on House in such a manner as could not have endangered his life, as the weather was fine and the roads g od. These gentlemen are well known for their humanity, and it is certainly unjust to attribute his death even remotely to them.

The Henderson Hose Company will hold a meeting at the engine house on Thursday evening, for the purpose of reorganizing, the late fire having demonstrated that without a leader to direct operations many sterling works, to which members and a company to keep the apparatos in order, it is of but little use.

The resignation of Gen. Cameron is exciting much speculation. His nomination and confirmation as minister to Russia would seem to imply that he retained at Hancock, Md.,-and Capts. Zollinger's, the confidence of the President and a ma-Neice's, Bigelow's, Maclay's, and Taylor's jority of the Senate. For our part, we should not wonder if the General's numerous friends-for their name is legionrendered his position extremely irksome, and thus probably cause him to prefer retirement to a high but laborious office.

An English View.

The New York Albion, (the English organ) in its number of this week, rejoices over the release of Mason and Slidell, as "the termination of a dispute that might have brought about irreparable ills." In speaking of affairs in England it says:

Having so often warned our readers against confounding the press with either the Government or the appears he was in the habit of taking off a people, we take no pains to anticipate its course. Only this may be said: the Times, which preaches a solemn and misplaced homily to the young Prince of Wales ere the re mains of his father are cold, still maintains its bad eminence in stirring up strife between the United States and Great Britain, Its neutrality is all on one side; and to say nothing of the flagrant vindictiveness and injustice of many of its remarks, they are in the worst conceivable taste. The train arrived at Shippensburg, the gentleman in question waited upon the con tor, and informed him what happened, when the engineer was ordered to detach the engine from the train and investigate the mat ter. Mr. H. was found with his head sever ed from his body. The deceased was a grad uate of Jefferson College, Cannonsburg. Intelligent, companionable and upright, he was universally esteemed, and his untimely death sorrows the hearts of a large circle of devoted friends. Another account states that the accident occurred in a cut, and that he fell in endeav oring to get on the bank.

Horrible Murder.

A most horrible murder and destruction of roperty has been committed lately in Cum berland county. The following, taken from the Carlisle Herald, gives the particulars of the affair:

The victims of this foul and atrocious deed were John Berger, (an industrious, un offend ing old German, who lives near the South Mountain, about a mile from what was form erly Ege's Forge,) and William Grist, a col ored boy about 14 or 15 years of age, who lived with him. The deed was perpetrated some time on Tuesday evening, and the first indication of foul play was the discovery be tween 9 and 10 o'clock by by a neighbor, that the house (a small log one) occupied by this German, was on fire. The alarm was given and several persons arrived, when the old man was discovered lying on his back, at the door of a small cave, a short distance from the house, in which he kept his provisions, cloth ing and other articles. He was quite deadhaving been shot through the head. The ball entered behind, and lodged just above the eye. His trons were scattered over his clothes .flis gan, an old U.
