

THE HOUSEKEEPER. RECIPES.

To Prepare Chickens—Put them forty minutes in water barely enough to cover them. Take off the scum as fast as it rises. Take them up and carve them in the usual way. Put part of the water in which they were boiled in a spider or stew pan. For two chickens rub a piece of butter as large as an egg, and a spoonful of flour together, and stir into the water as it boils up. Add some salt, and a gill of cream or milk—lay in the pieces of chicken, cover the pan close, and stew them gently eight or ten minutes. Parsley cut fine is a decided improvement.

Old Fashioned Indian Bread—Pare and stew one half of a large ripe pumpkin, white hot, stir it into six quarts of corn meal. Do this before your emptings are a quite light. When your meal is cool enough to mix with your hands, stir in your emptyings, with two quarts of coarse flour, and water enough to make your mixture quite moist. Knead it thoroughly, put it in a warm place, and let it rise until quite light. Knead it again, put it in two six quart pans, and bake about three hours. You will find this excellent—SALLIE.

Chicken Salad—Boil or roast a nice fowl. When cold cut off all the meat, and chop it a little, but not very small; cut up a large bunch of celery and mix with the chicken. Boil four eggs hard, wash, mix them with sweet oil, pepper, salt, mustard, and a gill of vinegar. Beat this mixture very thoroughly together, and just before dinner pour it over the chicken.
