LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE RELIEF BOARD met on Monday, all the members present—and after a careful estimate of the funds at their disposal, found it necessary to make sundry changes in the payments, which bring into force the following regulations:

- 1st. The discontinuance, from the 1st of March, of all claiming aid on the ground of partial support who have received 12 weeks pay, and of all others whose support are holding positions in the army yielding $17 per month or upwards.
2d. To issue a monthly order, in place of semi-weekly, to those who have received 12 weeks pay or more, at a reduction of 25 per cent.
3d. Cases of actual need, arising from the neglect of husbands or others, sickness, or inability, will be considered by the Board, but positive evidence in writing must be produced of such fact.
4th. Twelve weeks full pay will be allowed as heretofore to those now on the list or who may come on it hereafter.
5th. These regulations to end on the 20th of April, which time closes the year.

RANDOM FACTS.—Coal oil is now retailed here as low as 9 cents per quart, and has become a formidable competitor of gas.—A silly report, got up by some malicious or envious person, that Lieut. Geo. W. Siegrist had been placed under arrest and dismissed from service, we are assured is without any foundation whatever.—A cowardly attack was made on Mr. Peter Ort on Sunday evening while coming from the Lutheran Church. He was struck on the head with a stone by a young fellow named Havice, who made himself scarce that night, or he would have been put through a court operation that might not have been so pleasant.—J. Marshall Stull, aged 22 years, formerly of Reedsville, last week died of cold taken after a partial recovery from the measles. He enlisted at Washington 1st September, was buried in Virginia, and was formerly from Steuben county, N. Y.—Rev. Mr. Steek has quite a successful protracted meeting in progress in the Lutheran church at Bellville. Many additions have been made by him to other churches in the Valley under his charge.—A heavy north-west blow set in on Monday afternoon, which continued into the night, but no material damage was sustained. The weather is again cold.—The remains of Theo. S. Waream were interred on Thursday afternoon in the Presbyterian graveyard. The Slemmer Guards under Lieut. Hutchinson formed the military escort, and buried him with the honors of war.

LADIES' VOLUNTEERS AID ASSOCIATION.—This Association have forwarded since our last reference, a lot of socks to the hospital at Frederick, and one hundred pairs of knit woollen stockings to the Quarter-Master General. In response to an appeal which has come to them, they are now preparing a box of clothing and comforts for the sick and wounded Union soldiers at St. Louis. The condition of our sick and wounded there is represented as truly pitiable and their wants great. It may be that some desire to contribute to this pious work, and are only waiting to know how and where they may do so. Woollen and Canton flannel shirts and drawers without strings, unbleached cotton shirts, old or half worn shirts, slippers, dressing gowns, old flannel, cotton and linen rags, old or new pocket handkerchiefs, pillows, pillow-cases, sheets, blankets, fine tooth combs, tracts, magazines, testaments, etc., corn starch, farina, jellies, wines, &c., indeed anything useful in a sick room, will be sent. Any articles sent to Mrs. H. J. WALTERS, President of the Association, will be gratefully received and forwarded.

HORSE THIEVING.—A young fellow named John Valentine, formerly of this county, but lately residing in Juniata, was committed to jail a few days ago for stealing a horse from the widow Rothrock (near Rothrock's Mill, Derry township) which he had disposed of in Juniata county.—The criminal docket for next term will comprise more than an ordinary number of cases.
ANOTHER.—A man whose name we did not learn was brought here on Monday evening from Huntingdon jail, charged with stealing a horse from Mr. W. R. Bratton. Hayti is also contributing its full share of criminal business.

THE 22d was celebrated in this place by a general display of flags. In the afternoon the Slemmer Guards paraded under command of Capt. E. W. Eisenbise, and attended the citizens' meeting in the Town Hall, where Washington's Farewell Address was read by Professor A. Smith, opening and closing with prayer by Revs. McMurray and Leithead. Subsequently the Guards practiced target shooting—Geo. Patton and Geo. R. Frysinger ranking first and second. In the evening the Henderson Hose House was illuminated, and the members paraded through the streets with their apparatus.

ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that Jno. M. Stauber, who has been peddling for Mr. Pratt for some time, met with an accident last week near Lock Haven by the upsetting of his wagon over a bank, breaking his leg and shattering the wagon to pieces.

For the Gazette. Mr. Editor.—I see in your last paper the proceedings of a temperance meeting at Newton Hamilton, in which we liquor sellers are roundly abused and held up as of the very worst class of people. I suppose we are no better than we should be, yet our trade is just as lawful as a preacher's or any other, and I don't see why we should be singled out from among the thousand and one Pharisees found in every community, or why you should lend your columns to such. A DEALER.

The above comes to us as such things generally do, anonymously, the writer lacking exactly that kind of moral courage we choose to exercise in conducting our paper. If he thinks his cause a good one, let him gain say what is said by the temperance men over his signature, and so that he keeps our skirts clear of the law of libel, he may lash away to his heart's content against both preacher and layman. While we would not permit the use of our columns in anonymously assailing particular individuals engaged in the sale of liquor, we have no hesitation in publishing proceedings of meetings where men are bold and honest enough to avow their sentiments. In this, in part, consists the independence of a newspaper, which is not an indiscriminate publication of responsible and irresponsible articles, but in giving both sides a hearing from parties who are known. No good cause will suffer by argument of its merits and demerits; if therefore liquor dealers think they can gain say the arguments of temperance men, let any one of them, either over his own signature or by an attorney, or a committee of two, three or more, go to work; or let them hold a public meeting, make speeches, and pass resolutions, and we will give them the benefit of our columns precisely as we do to the temperance men.

Will a borrower please return "Knitting Work, or a Web of many Textures" to our library?
