LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SPRING ELECTIONS. -The spring elections this year take place on Friday, 21st March. There is we think but little disnosition, with the exception perh ps of ultra politicians, to embark in party nominations; and we therefore suggest that a Union Meeting of our citizens be held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, 18th March, for the purpose of agreeing upon or nominating a ticket irrespective of party so far as borough officers are concerned. leaving each party to choose its own candidates for Judges and Inspectors of Elections. All present indications are that we will be in the midst of great and importent military movements by that time; battles will be fought, and, we have an abid ing faith, victories won for our glorious flag, in which probably our brave and patriotic soldiers from this county-numbering nearly a regiment-will participate, and even while we would be wrangling as to who table. should be Burgess or Councilman, news might come that this one has been slain or that one wounded. Let our citizens then put aside party feeling for these small offices, nominate and elect good men to fill them; and when peace is once more re-

PAY YOUR TAXES .- No greater folly can be committed by any class of people than to leave taxes accumulate against them, and if they have heretofore escaped experiencing the evil effects of such a course, the present and a few succeeding years will probably awaken them from the pillow, 2 cases, 2 towels, 1 jar currant jelly. idea that they have derived benefit through it. By the last auditor's report it appears that the collectors of 1860 are indebted nearly $2000, while of 1861 over $10,000 are uncollected. The duplicates of 1862 are also now out, and it is quite probable that Congress will impose a government tax which will also have to be met. Now here is a pretty mess for these dilatory gen tlemen to meet-three taxes to be paid in one year! On the tax of 1860, the treas urer is instructed to charge the collectors interest from the first day of May last, (with a chance that the Shoriff will soon wait on them.) on the outstanding of 1861 he will charge interest on the 1st day of May next, and in the meanwhile the tax of 1862 will be collected with more than ordinary energy. Our readers we hope who are in arrears will therefore turn over a new rule. Let them pay off the old taxs at once, and then if they cannot raise the money for that of 1862 before the 1st of June, borrow it and save the 5 per cent. That five per cent. will pay interest for ten months, before which time they can certainly repay it. By doing so, they will avoid unpleasant dunning, sleep better, and

DEATH OF A SOLDIER .- The remains of Wm. Gallagher, son of Mr. R. Gallagher, residing near Strode's Mills, a member of Capt. Zollinger's company, 49th Pennsylvania Regiment, were taken home on Friday last, and interred at MeVeytown on Saturday, in the presence of a large number of sympathizing friends, and also of the Slemmer Guards, who paid the last tribute of respect to one who had gone to fight the battles of his country, but had fallen a victim to disease. He was a young man, but 22 years of age, and highly es-

RANDOM FACTS .- John Weber, who was wounded in the thigh at the fight at Drainsville, returned home on furlough on Thursday a week. ——The horses attached to E. E. Locke's carriage, ran away one day last week, near the junction of the old and new pike this side of the forge, breaking up the carriage and throwing out Mr. L., who was somewhat bruised on the shoulder.—An alarm of fire was raised on Friday morning last by the burning of N. Mahaney's chimney, which communicated fire to the roof of the house. It was soon extinguished, though at one time presenting a dangerous appearance in consequence of the high wind prevailing at again got out of order on Friday last from the weakness of the springs. The machine is good enough for show, but never will be worth anything until sufficiently strengthened to bear the weight of the hose .- Rev. Mr. Klink, of Ohio, delivered an excellent sermon in the Lutheran Church on Sunday last .- The weather put on a wintry appearance on Monday evening, a few inches of hail having fallen, followed by a light covering of snow. Not withstanding this, the blue birds are as merry as could be desired, their pleasing notes being heard on all sides .--- A few private ice houses were in whole or partly filled last week, but the chances of the river freezing and giving Cubbison a supply are daily becoming less.

RELIEF FOR THE SOLDIERS .- We have several times chronicled the reception of articles of comfort, &c. from the ladies of this place, sent to our soldiers in the field well as strangers in sundry hospitals, and to day add another contribution to the sufferers at Fort Donelson. In answer to a letter of inquiry, Miss Adams, Secretary of the St. Louis Union Aid Society, addressed the following reply to Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman :

"Your feelings of sympathy and patriotism are fully reciprocated by every loyal heart, I trust, and there is something cheering among all these stormy days, to see mankind learn ing to love each other truer and better. It is wonderful to see the load of selfishness that is lifted from hearts, and to see loyal hands busily employing all their time in doing some thing for their country's brave defenders.

In behalf of the Ladies' Union Aid Society of this city, I will say, anything you may consign to us will be appropriated for the benefit of the sick and wounded in our hospital, or if not needed here will be sent wherever demanded, as we are constantly kept informed of destitute points by Committees sent for the express purpose; and I will here say, every one of the articles you mention are of immediate necessity, and will be very accep-

We have about 600 of the wounded from Fort Donelson brought in, and still more to come. Every effort is being made to make them comfortable and insure a speedy recovery, and we feel deeply indebted to our friends the east for the aid they are rendering us in this work."

By request of the association we publish stored, it will be time enough to revive par- a list of the articles thus far received, with the donors' names. The box will be sent to St. Louis in a few days:

Examiner of last week: MESSRS EDITORS:-The Ladies Volunteer Aid Society of Lewistown, Pa., have consigned to my care twenty four pair of woollen shoes intended for the convalescent patients in the Government Hospital. This is the second consignment from Lewistown. The Ladies will be pleased to know that their gifts bring relief and comfort to many a brave but suffering brother. Many of the patients re-covering from fever, are left, for a time, with swollen feet. To these the shoes will be spe-cially acceptable. Mrs. B. H. CREVER.

Soldiers' Pay.

To enable those who may have claims upon the United States, for moneys due deceased officers and soldiers, on account of military services rendered, whether in ing information is furnished:

ORDER OF PAYMENT. Order First -If the deceased is married, payment will be made-lst, to the widow ; 2d. no widow, to his child, or children; (if minors, to the guardian.)

Order Second.—If he died unmarried to the heirs generally-(to be distributed in accordance with the laws of the State in which the deceased had his domicile.)

APPLICATION, PROOF AND AUTHENTICATION. Application .- The claimant or claimants must make a written application, undr oath, and over his, her, or their own signature, stiting his, her, or their name, age, residence, connection to the deceased, with the letter or name of the captain of the company and regiment to which he belonged at time of his death and the nature of the pay claimed-whether arrears of pay," &c ; and the "$100 bounty," under the act of July 22d, 1861.

Proof.—To satisfy the accounting officers that the person or persons thus claiming is or are entitled to the money in the character he, she, or they claim, the depositions of two credible witnesses will be required, stating that they are acquainted with the claimant or claimants, the connection held to the do ceased, and that they (the deponents) are disinterested. Proof of marriage (record evidence, if possible) must always accompany the applications of those claiming to be the widows. If the soldier died unmarried, it must be so stated by the applicant and also by the disinterested witnesses.

Authentication.—The application and de-positions, above required, to be subscribed and sworn to before a judge, commissioner, notary rublic, or justice of the peace, duly au thorized to administer oaths, accompanied by the certificate and seal of a court of record as to the fact of the said judge, &c., being duly commissioned and acting in his official capacity at the time of the execution of the forego ing papers.

Administration .- As the taking out of "letters of administration" is attended with considerable expense, (often unnecessary,) it is suggested that it be done only when required by the Auditor.

Discharged Soldiers.—When a soldier (or volunteer) is discharged, he is (or shauld be) furnished with a regular "Discharge" and two (duplicate) "Pay Certificates." these papers he can be paid by a paymaster of the army upon their presentation. Should he fail to present them for payment to a paymaster, or, having presented them, and pay ment refused, and they are sent to this office the applicant must state the reasons for such refusal, accompanied by proof of identity and authentication, as in the case of deceased soldiers. In no case should the "oath of identity." on the back of the Discharge," be filled up, as the "Discharge" is returned to the sol dier after his claim has been acted upon. Where "pay Certificates" have been withheld, he must send all other papers given to him at the time of his discharge, together with the affidavit of his captain that no "Pay Cer tificates" were given to him, and the reasons for withholding them.

Bounty.-No discharged volunteer can re ive the bounty provided by act of July 22d, 1861, unless "he shall have served for a period of two years, or during the war if sooner but "the widow, if there be one, and if not, the legal heirs of such as die, or may be killed in the service, in addition to all arrears of pay allowances, small receive the sum of one hundred dollars.

Pensions - Applications for pensions, on scount of "disability" received in the service, should be made to the Commissioner of

by an order from the accounting officers on any paymaster of the army. Such order will require the signature of the claimant on its face before it will be paid.

Mode of Presenting Claims.—All claimants wishing to obtain information, or present claims, can communicate with this office by mail, and receive as speedy a reply as the bu siness of the office will allow. Postage.—The government pays all postages on such communications, whether received or transmitted by this office.

A compliance with the above rules will in sure a prompt settlement of all claims, without unnecessary delay.

British 'Humanity' in War.

In 1857 the natives of British India, whose grounds of discontent with their Government, unlike those of the Southern rebels, were substantial and greivous, rose in arms to strike for their freedom. The British Government, at first unsuccessful in its struggles with the rebellion, at length gathered up its energies and put them down. How it dealt with the prisoners of war taken in fight is well remembered. The following extracts from British journals contain a narrative of a couple of executions:

'A late mail from India brought accounts of two such executions. On the 12th June, at Pashawar, forty men were tried, convicted, and sentenced to be blown from the guns. The execution was a dreadful sight. Three sides of a square were formed by British troops, and in the centre ten guns were planted, pointing outward. In dread silence the decree of the court was read, and this ceremony being concluded, a prisoner was bound to each gun, his back placed against the muzzle and his arms fastened firmly to the wheels. The signal is now given, and the salvo fired. The discharge of course cuts the body in two; and the human trunk, head, legs and arms may be seen for an instant flying about in all directions. As there were only ten guns used on this occasion, the mutilated remains had to be removed four times .-All of these forty criminals met their fate with firmness, with the exception of two, and, to save time they were dropped to the

'Another execution of a similar nature took place on the 13th of June, at Ferozepoor. All the available troops and public establishments were convened to witness ground, and their brains blown out by mus-

Instructions in Preparing Claims for to be hung, and around the gallows, erected during the night previous, the soldiers were drawn up. The mutineers were then brought into the centre, and the proceedings of the general court martial was read. pon being informed that if they would become Queen's evidence they would be the regular or volunteer service, to obtain reprieved, twelve of the criminals acceptthe same with the least delay, the follow- ed the offer and were marched to the rear. Two were taken to the gallows .-They ascended the ladder with firm steps, and to the last moment betrayed no emotion of fear. 'The remaining ten were led away to the artillery guns, and while their irons were being struck off cried, 'Do not sacrilst, to the father; 2d. if the father is dead, to fice the innocent for the guilty!' Two the brothers and sisters, collectively; lastly. others rejoined, 'Hold your sniveling; die men and not cowards-you defended your religion, why then do you crave your lives? Sahibs! they are not Sahibs, they are dogs!" Others then began to upbraid their commanding officer. The wretched beings were quickly fastened to the muzzles of ten guns, charged with blank cartridge .-The commanding officer directed port fires to be lit. 'Ready! Fire!' and the drama was played out. An eye witness says :-'The scene and stench were overpowering. I felt myself terribly convulsed, and could observe that the numerous native spectators were awe-stricken—that they not only trembled like aspen leaves, but also changed into unnatural hues. Precaution was not taken to remove the sponge and load men from the muzzles of the guns; and the consequence was they were greatly bespattered with blood, and one man in particular received a stunning blow from a shivered arm!'

In connection with the British protest against the stone blockade, on the ground of humanity, these reminiscences are instructive.

The discovery of fossil bones of a new and gigantic saurian, in a cutting recently made for a railway near Poligny, has just been announced. The animal must have been between 90 and 120 feet in length, and must have existed towards the end of the Triassio period.

The Democrat says all the democratic contractors are honest and upright! This is peculiarly refreshing news after perusing the list of State defaulters published at Harrisburg last week.

Book Notices. The Atlantic Monthly .- The number for March contains several interesting contributions, among which are, "The fruits of free labor in the smaller islands of the British West Indies," "A Story of To day," "Agnes of Sorrento," Prof. Agassiz' "Methods of Study in Natural History," and the analysis of "Oken," "The Rehabilitation of Spain," "A raft that no man made," a tale of adventure in the Northern Ocean, "Fremont's Hundred days in Missouri," &c. The poetical contributions are all good. "The Southern Cross," and "The Voyage of the good ship Union" especially so. Altogether, this March number is an excellent one.
