THE HOOJEREEPED.

The Aster Family.

No class of flowers can compare with the Aster for autumn flowering, and we depend upon it for our principal garden adornment during the fall. Fortunately it is of easy culture, perfectly hardy, and will thrive in any fair garden soil, and with ordinary treatment. No class of flowers has been improved so much within the last twenty years as this sp endid genus, and none has advanced so rapidly in public favor. They are now as double as the chrysanthemum, or the finest dahlia, and almost as large and showy as the peony. Some of our readers, perhaps, who have been acquainted with the old common sorts will be surprised at this statement, but we can assure them that a perfectly double aster more than four inches in diameter is no strange thing to those who are careful to obtain seeds of the new and choice varieties, and who alterward give them good culture. We give a brief description of a few of the best sorts:

Dwarf Pyramidal Bouquet .-- This variety well deserves its name, for the flowers are fine and perfect, and so numerous that the plant, when in blossom, has the ap earance of a bouquet of flowers, the green leaves only just peeping through, as flowers and leaves are arranged in a bouquet by a tasteful florist. The usual height is about one foot.

Peony Flowered .- A large, showy and be utiful flower. The petals are incurved. giving the blooms a globular form. Like the preceding, they present almost every variety of color. Plants from eighteen inches to two feet in height.

New Chrysanthemum Flowered. - This is a new and very desirable variety. The plants only grow about ten inches in height. The flowers are as large as Peony Flowered, and so numerous as to conceal the leaves cutirely.

Imbrique Pompone .- Flowers rather small, ro and, the petals finely imbricated. N w Crown or Two Colored .- This is one of the most delicate and neantiful of Asters. Each flower is of two distinct colors, a few of the outside rows of petals be ing carmine, scarlet, violet, or blue, and the centre a clear, transparent white.

large Rise Funcered, or La Seperb.-This is a splendid variety, very large, of good form, and of the putest and brightest rose color. Fiowers over four inches in diameter.

New Giant Emperor .- This is the giant of the Asters-often five inches in diameter. The plants are peculiar in their hab it, erect, with no side branches or blooms, and having usually five flowers, all of the same height. The old Emperor was only of one color-a dull hlac-but we now have fifteen different colors of the Giant Euperor. The following description of this splendid flower is by Henderson, the cele-Lrated florist of London: . The Giant Emperor Asters are the most splendid flowers in Asters yet offered, whether regarded for effect, individual beauty, or competition .---The well known lavender blue variety, introduced in 1858, is the model of the pres ent section in each of the kinds now referred to, and which offer a complement of colors equal to a magnificent display of this favorite summer and autumn flower. The b ossonis in each variety are of great size. d uble to the centre, and of an even circu lar outline The co ymbose style of growth produces similar table like clusters of flow era, and consequent y show a greater exof bloom thin any other section of the Asters. The Giant Emperor is also admirably adapted for pot culture, but for medium or large bels, either in miscellaneous mixed colors, or in their respective harmonized tints by separate groups, it is incomparably the finest variety, whether individually or collectively considered, in its aduptation to the well furnished design of a villa garden, or the more extensive re quirements attached to larger domains, in their broad acres of flowers, and massive belts of bloom for the late summer months The above will make a superb collection of varieties of this beautiful flower.
