THE LOGAN GUARDS .- Great anxiety existed here for several days, after it was known that this company had been engared in the battle under Gen. Banks, as the first reports received led to the belief that they had been badly cut up. A number it appears were missing, but came into camp afterwards. Two of our citizens. John C. Sigler and D. D. Mutthersbough, repaired to Williamsport to ascertain the fate of a son and brother, and from them it was soon ascertained that the loss has been much exaggerated. The killed, wounded and missing are as follows :

Killed-James S. Vaun, of Huntingdon county.

Wounded and prisoner-Andrew J. Foy, of Mifflin county.

Missing-Thompson Kinney, William Berkheimer, William Bousman, William M'Kee (shoemaker, of Lewistown.)

EYE AND EAR .- The successful Dr. Jones of New York, who practiced here a year ago, will practice at Snyder's hotel, Mifflintown, Juniata county, from the 11th to the 14th of June. Dr. Jones straightens crossed eyes in one minute. He operates for cataract, hernia, polypus in the nose and ear, club feet, and hair lip; he cures watery eyes, and drooping of the lids, nicises, enlarged tonsils, removes tumors from the eye or ear, inserts artificial eyes, destroyed; he cures impediments of speech, deafness, discharge from the ear, and noise in the head. Dr. J. gives special attention has performed many remarkable cures in this part of our country, and he has had a thorough medical education both in Europe Biological in Line and the second state of the second state of and America. We recollect years ago that Van Amburgh was a "great institution" in the way cfan "animal show," and have no doubt that he has been improving and enlarging his exhibition ever since ; at least, wherever they have visited they have elicited commendation as forming a moral and instructive entertainment, which every one might attend, sure of being interested and more than satisfied.

> Correspondence of the Gazette. From the 49th Regiment. CAMP, No. 18, IN FIELD, NEAR RICHMOND, VA., May 23, 1862.

Mr. Editor-I presume many of the friends of the soldiers of the 49th Penna. Regiment are anxiously watching the army of the Potomac, in its investment of Richmond. I have thought that a few leisure hours might be prefitably spent in giving them the wel-come assurances of continued good fortune. Since the battle of Williamsburg we have had som : hard marches, some hot and dusty days, some swamp and forest, mud and rain ; but, in the main, our experiences have not been so severe as before the battle. For the first time in our history as a regiment, since our departure from Harrisburg last September, we have been off the picket line for a whole week, and have actually Leen relieved for that time from all picket duty. We have had a good time for the last few days living on hoe cakes .--There is a mill within a few hundred yards of our camp, from which our boys are and ear drums where the natural drum is supplied with the best quality of Virginia corn flour at the very reasonable price of 50 cents a bushel. Making hoe cakes is a very simple matter. I made some yesterday. They are merely composed of meal, water and salt. I understand that eggs and some other old standing diseases of all kinds. He little matters improve them, but we are not addicted to such extravagancies. We had our first thunderstorm yesterday-that is, the first that was not artificial. We can get up very and our outposts are at least three miles near-We are encamped in a beautiful farming country, one that bears evidence of the proximity of the city by its vegetable gardens, orchards and "truck patches," for supplying has proven himself to be a physician of a city market. We find some white people here, but, so far as I know, no Union ones. All the young, ablebodied men are in the rebel army, and few of the old men and women left behind pretend to conceal their secession sentiments. For a large part of our journey we found only deserted houses, or blacks, but now few white families remove. eed in our advertising columns. This exhi. The lies about the atrocities of the Northern army have been refuted, and there will be bition is purely a menagerie, having no little more of "civilians fleeing in terror" from

Very respectfully, Your obedient servant, CAP. Official Report of Col. Irwin.

HEADQUARTERS, 49th REG'T. P. V.) CAMP No 11, IN THE FIELD, May 6, 1862.

CAPTAIN: -- In obedience to an order from brigade headquarters of this date, I have the honor to report that this regiment was formed in line of battle yesterday on the left of the first brigade, and moved forward in support of the battery on the right, in the open ground in front of the second fort over which its colors were hoisted. The men were ordered to lie down during the heavy artillery fire, and remained thus until Lieut. Mitchell, of the brigade staff, informed me that the enemy had moved in force from the woods on our right, which their severe fire confirmed. I at once formed my line, and seeing the battery retiring, and also the 6th Maine and the other regiments on my right returning to their original line on the flanks of the fort, I faced by the rear rank, and marched at the parade step to the "slashings" along the line, then faced to the front and commenced firing on the enemy, who was rapidly and boldly advancing, and were then in good rifle range. I ordered my right wing to fire obliquely to the right and their close and steady volley struck with terrible effect on the enemy, and when they came within easy distance the whole line opened upon them by file. When Gen. Hancock ordered the line forward to charge the enemy, who were rushing upon us, my regiment, loudly cheering, moved rapidiy and steadily to the front, with their colors advanced and their line accurate. A regiment of the enemy were advancing to the woods on my left. I deployed by the left flank two of my companies, (I and K, Capts. DeWitt and Neice,) as skirmishers, and cov ered the left of the line and held the woods till the enemy retreated. As far as possible, all random and desultory firing was prevented. My men were ordered to fire low and select their mark, and they obeyed. It would seem impossible for any more trying circumstances to surround a regiment, than those which, in common with the other regiments of the brigade, pressed on my men. They were weary ; lost sleep; made a forced march over bad roads in wretched weather, and were, for the first time, confronting their enemy in line of battle

The admirable discipline of the brigade gave the men the coolness of veterans. Mv guides were thrown on the line and it was formed under fire, as if on dress parade.

It would be invidious for me to name, as worthy of praise, any of my officers, when all alike deserve it. But I cannot omit to state how well I was supported by Lieut. Col. Brisbin, Major Huling and my Adjutant, Lieutenant E. D. Smith, and my assistant surgeon Huber who was present during the action, at his post near the regiment, promptly attending to our wounded, and then repaired to the general hospital and gave most efficient aid. The Surgeon, Dr. Gobrecht, was absent by order on detached duty at brigade hospit

Some idea of the vast amount of lumber thus yearly disposed of, and the operations of the trade, may be given by a short description of one of the many mills engaged in manufacturing it into build far that he would never be in danger of being brought back. I have thought that the peo-tation of Mr. G. J. Weiser, of the firm of Small, Bender & Co., of this place, I accom-panied him to their "Atlantic Mills," situa ted on the Susquehanna, midway between York and Harrisburg. Mr. W., by the way, is what I call a good specimen of a Pennsyl vania gentleman—full of affability, sociability and hospitality. Nor is he wanting in that peculiarity of the Pennsylvania race, go-a-headitiveness. He can conduct the affairs of a large business firm, superintend the work of a farm, boss a saw mill, and talk Dutch. He would make a firstrate member of the Legislature, also, if he was not quite so honest. But to return to my description of the mills I visited. They were erected in 1853, at a cost of about $30,000. The principal building is 55 feet in width and 150 in length, with a brick engine house attached. In the latter is a steam engine of 60 horse power, with four boilers, which drives all the machinery contained in the mills. There are fortythree saws in the establishment, all of which can be set in motion at the same time. Two muley saws, each making 350 motions to the minute, are used in the manufacture of bill stuff. One gang of thirty-two saws is used for cutting plank, scantling, &c., and another gang of four saws for making siding. Besides these, there are a number of circular saws, used for edging and cross cutting, bolting and cutting lath, etc., and one slab saw. All are er Halleck has whipped Beauregard? How soon the war will end ? and the latest news? all of which we are profoundly ignorant. as they come off the logs, a thin board is sawn. What is then left is cut up into plastering lath. The waste that remains, together with the saw dust, serves as fuel to feed the engine. The business of this firm is very large. buy, manufacture and sell, annually, about 6,000,000 feet of lumber. A. McKnight, for gallant conduct at the battle of Williams burg on that day, for which they have receiv ed the highest commendations from the Gen eral officers in command. IV. That "Lebanon, Kentacky, 5th May,

1862," be inscribed on the standard of the 7th Regiment of Cavalry, Col. George C. Wynkoop, for gallant conduct in attacking Morgan's corps of cavalry, at Lebanon, on that day, and defeating and dispersing it. V. That "Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, 24th May, 1862,"be inscribed on the flags of the 29th Regiment of Infantry, Col. John K. Murphy, and the 46th Regiment of In-fantry, Col. Joseph F. Knipe. for steadiness and gallant conduct in the severe conflicts sustained during the masterly retreat of Ma-jor Gen. Banks, from Staunton, Virginia, to Williamsport, Maryland, which reflected the highest honor on the strategy and valor of the Commanding General, as well as the brave men whose vigor made them effective.

A horse stolen from Wm. B. Smith of Stone Valley, and a saddle the property of Mr. Oaks, for which we printed bills at the time, were recovered from a young man named George De Armit, who was committed to Huntingdon prison for the offence.

Senator Wilson, of Mass., stated in the Inited States Senate on Saturday last, that there had been a list prepared of men in the army, and the aggregate was 617,654, but we had a large number at home on leave and sick, and he supposed we had about 500,000 effective men in the field.

Few of is a guarantee of their future liberty and freedom here, not elsewhere, seems to be their desire. One, however, we met with a supply of corn cakes, bound, he said, for Fortress Monroe. He had been sold four times, whipped unmercifully, and abused all his life, and now he was going away from his master so ple about us here must feel great anxiety for their friends, so many of whom are in the opposing force. Tears are not unfrequently seen in these houses, when there are movements of our forces. One old lady cried very much, when told of the destruction of the Merrimac and the fall of Norfolk. "These Yankess can do anything," said she, "there's no use burning bridges, for they bring them along; and they bring their sawmills and blacksmithshops, and all they want to eat right with them, and they just take a town whenever they want it. There it is again," says she, as her eye caught sight of the bal loon, and her tears testified her appreciation of the danger to which her secession friends are exposed.

We had a very fine scene this afternoon in connection with our balloon. It was put up pretty close to the rebel lines, when they attempted to destroy it with shells. One of our batteries replied, and quite a brisk fire was was in Lewistown. His idea of Hayti kept up for a time, the rebel shells bursting, seems to be that you must work or starve, while it. air, however, causing one of our boys to re-mark, that there was at least one "good egg" in that basket.
