RECIPES.

Tri-Colored Cake .- Take one cupful of Tri-Colored Cake.—Take one cupful of finely powdered white sugar, nearly half a cupful of sweet milk, the whites of five erges, a teaspeonful of soda, and orange-flow-er water to flavor. Beat the sugar and butter until it is creamy; mix the cream butter until it is creamy; mix the cream of tartar with a cupful of flour, stir it gradually with the mixture, alternately a little flour, then a little milk, (leaving only about a thimbleful of milk to mix the soda in,) until the whole is well mixed; have the whites well beaten to a firm froth; mix evenly; at the same time put in the flavor; and, for the last thing, stir in the soda, dissolved in the reserved milk. The mixture should be as stiff as batter for muffins. Butter two square tin pans, put paper inside after they are buttered; then put in the mixture evenly, and bake as quick as possible without scorching. Take just half of the above measure, substituting red sugarsand in the place of white sugar, and flavor with juice of half a lemon, and the peel of the half lemon grated, or extract; bake this in one pan. Now take five yolks, light brown sugar in the same proportion as for the white cake, and have two or three ounces of sweet almonds, blanched and chopped fine; mix them smoothly and evenly, with a sharp knife, (the bottom of the cake will not need shaving, unless they are too brown to look well without ;) put | and for no others. them together with fine jelly, so that they will stick firm-the pink cake in the centre, and the yellow at the top and bottom -and frost if you like. Cut it any form ; but I think it is the prettiest cut in finger pieces; that is, cut it in slices an inch or an inch and a half wide, then in squares. You will say that it is not only excellent cake, but the prettiest you ever saw.

From Godey's Lady's Book.

To Preserve Apricots.-Choose fine apri-cots, pare them thinly and cleanly, and when done, take their weight, cut them in halves and remove the kernal, lay them with the inside upwards, take the same weight of pounded loaf sugar and strew over them break the stones of the apricots and blanch the kernals; let the fruit lie in the sugar for twelve hours, then put fruit, sugar, juice, and kernals into a preserving pan, simmer gently until clear; as the scum rises remove it; remove the halves of the apricots; as they become cold, lay them in jars, and when the whole of the fruit has been potted, pour equally over them the syrup and the kernals. Cover the fruit with brandy paper, and tie tightly down.

To Preserve Pippins in Slices .- Take the fairest pippins, pare them, and cut them in slices a quarter of an inch thick, without taking out the cores; boil two or three lemons, and slice them with the apples; take the same weight of white sugar (or take the same weight of white sugar (or clarified brown sugar), put half a gill of CUTLERY-Pocket an water for each pound of sugar, dissolve it, water for each pound of sugar, dissolve it, iell F.
