AGRICULTURAL.

Use of Toads in Agriculture.

in a hole in the wall, in the strawberry patch, under the squash vines, or among the cucumbers. He is not handsome, but serene and dignified as a judge. He executes judgement upon all bugs, worms, snails, and pests of the garden, in the most summary way. See what a capa-cious maw he has, occupying the whole space from his fore legs to his haunches. He is the very incarnation of stomach, and his gastronomic feats would do credit to an Alderman. He tucks away the bugs and all kindred flesh as an epicure would turtle and pudding. He is never full. That maw stretches like caoutchouc, and he is nearer having an endless gullet than any reptile. He is altogether too useful to be without eacmies. All the serpent tribe hate him and devour him when they can. Even man slanders him. He misses a few strawberries from his patch, and lays it to the toad who stands like a sentinel guarddid the mischief before the toad took up his station; fortunately he is now where he will spoil no more rudy fruit. Or it was the robin who slyly snapped up the berry and flew off into the neighboring trees, leaving the poor toad to bear his sins .-But you see by the look of his honest face, that he is guiltless. Those lustrous eyes are above stealing. One fat bug would give him more pleasure than all the fruit in your garden.

Cultivate the friendship of toads; for they take the insects that the birds are apt to overlook. They inspect the ground closely, peer under the leaves of strawberries, under the growing vines, and nab every creeping thing in sight. They are as easily domesticated as birds, never sing when you do not want them to, are quiet and unobtrusive, and it not worth five hundred dollars a piece, are still profitable pets and fellow-belpers. Birch the boy that teases toads.

Disinfecting Agents.

Now that the warm weather is upon us our citizens should thoroughly cleanse their premises, rendering them as pure and healthy as posible. We are convinced that a great portion of the disease so prevalent during the hot months in summer, is attributable to the accumulation of filth in alleys and yards. There are a number of disinfecting agents which will be found efficacious in removing offensive smells from damp, mouldy cellars, yards, pools of stag-nant water, decaying vegetable matter, &c. Either of the following will answer the purpose, while they cost but a trifle :

1. One pint of the liquor of chloride of zinc, in one pailful of water, and one pound of chloride of lime in another pailful of water. This is perhaps the most effective of anything that can be used, and when thrown upon decayed vegetable matter of any description, will effectually destroy all offensive odors.

2. Three or four pounds of sulphate of iron (copperas) dissolved in a pailful of water will in many cases be sufficient to remove all offensive odors.

3. Chloride of lime is better to scatter about damp places, in yards, in damp cellars, and upon heaps of filth .- Scientific American

PATENT COAL OIL GREASE. THIS Grease is made from COAL OIL, and has been found by repeated tests to be the most economical, and at the same time the best lubricator for Mill Gearing, Stages, Wagons, Carts, Carriages, Vehicles of all kinds, and all heavy bearings, keeping the axles always cool, and not requir ing them to be looked after for weeks. It has ing his treasures. It was the snail who been tested on railroad cars, and with one soaking of the waste it has run, with the cars, 20,000 miles! All railroad, omnibus, livery stable and Express companies that have tried it pronounce it the ne plus ultra. It combines the body and fluidity of tallow, beeswax and tar, and unlike general lubricators, will not run off, it being warranted to stand any temperature. I have it in boxes 21 to 10 lbs. Also kegs and barrels from 30 to 400 lbs, for general use and sale. The boxes are more preferable; they are 6 inches in diameter by 21 inches deep, and hold 21 lbs net; the boxes are clean, and hardly a carman, teamster, expressman, miller or farmer, that would not purchase one box for trial. F. G. FRANCISCUS. Lewistown, February 12, 1862.

Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, whose choice products are found at almost every toilet, says: "I am happy to say of your CATHARTIC PILLS, that I have found them a better family medicine, for common use, than any other within my knowledge. Many of my friends have realized marked benefits from them, and co-incide with me in believing that they possess extraordinary virtues for driving out diseases and curing the sick. They are not only effectual, but safe and pleasant to be taken-qualities which must make them valued by the public, when they are known." The venerable Chancellor WARDLAW writes from Bal-timore, 15th April, 1854: "Dr. J. C. AVER - Sir: I have taken your Pills with great henefit, for the listlessness, languor, loss of appetite, and Billous headache, which has of late years overtaken me in the spring. A few doses of your Pills cured me. I have used your Cherry Pectoral many years in my family for coughs and colds with unfailing success. You make you for the good you have done and are doing." The widely renowned S. S. STEVENS, M. D., of Wentwork, N. H., write:
"Having used your CATHANTIC PILLS in my practice, I certify from experience that they are an invaluable purpative. In cases of disordered functions of the liver, causing he datche, indigestion, costiveness, and the great variety of disease that follow, they are a surer remedy than any other. In all cases where a purgative remedy is required, a confidently recommend these Pills to the public, as superior to any other I have ever found. They are sure in their operation, and perfectly safe – qualities which make them an invaluable preparation for the treatment of diseases."
