Circulation of the Gazette.

The Sewing Machine and Patent Medicine Democrat, which, since the breaking out of the rebellion, has gradually i een repudiated by Union men who love their country better than party, last week as a final resort to deceive the public, placed a line at its head which reads as follows: "The largest Circulation in the County."

To show how utterly unscrupulous the editor of that paper is in deliber. ately publishing a falsehood, we state the editions of the two papers as now actually printed :

Gazette, weekly, 35 quires 12 sheets. Democrat, " 32 " 6 "

Or in numbers, Gazette 852-Democrat 768. The circulation of the Democrat is here stated as given to one of our workmen by a hand in that office. ....

WAR NEWS.

The city papers have columns of pretended war news, most of which is about as reliable as "yaller kiver" lit-shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if erature. We give below all that we can gather from numerous confused election. accounts.

The great raid of Gen. Kilpstrick has terminated with his arrival within Gen. Butler's lines on the Peninsula. He failed in the effort to penetrate into Richmond As we had no high expectations of such a result, we are not disappointed. Though he did not succeed in his main purpose, General Kilpatrick did a vast amount of damage to the enemy, destroying their communications, and also the railroad canal and mills on the James river, and brought off his command without serious damage. His loss is less than one hundred and fifty, but we have to regret that among this number are Colonels Dahlgren (son of the Admiral,) Litchfield and Cook. The two first named are supposed to be prisoners. Col. Dahlgren's detachment is said to have failed in its object, which was to penetrate Richmond from the south side, whilst Gen. Kilpatrick made an attack from the north, on account of the treachery of a negro guide, by whom they were led toward Goochland, directly away from Richmond. This is a rather doubtful story. The negro, however, was hung. On his route Gen. Kilpatrick damaged the railroads and destroyed large amounts of Rebel stores. At Fredericksball he captured a Colonel and several officers who were holding a court martial. Gen. Lee had passed through on the railway only an hour previous. The misdirecting of Colonel Dahlgren's command delayed the attack, and put the rebels on the alert. Gen. Kilpatrick forced his way through the first line of in trenchments, but the second lines were too strongly manned for his force; and he wisely Over five hundred prisoners were retired captured, but it was impossible to bring them in. Considerable damage was done to the James River Canal, and several flour mills were burnt. [Col. Dahlgren it is now reported is killed.] An arrival at New York from New Orleans announces that Admiral Farragut was operating actively against Mobile. The mortar and gunboat fleet were bombarding Fort Powell, at the entrance to Grant's Pass, and it was believed that it would not hold out long. The rebel ram Tennessee was inside Mobile Bay, near Fort Morgan. Troops were being forwarded from New Orleans to take part in the attack on Mobile.

The reports as to Gen. Sherman's move ments are still contradictory. One despatch reports that Gen. McPherson's Corps had arrived at Jackson, Mississippi, and the whole of the expeditionary force would soon return there. Another account is that after the failure of Gen Smith's cavalry expedition to join him at Meridian, Gen Sherman, by a rapid move, turned towards Aberbeen and Columbus, in the richest part of Eastern Mississippi, where his army was sure to find an abundance of provisions. By this he turned his back upon Selma and Mobile. marched toward Logan, who had advanced to meet him, and, by an audacious stroke of strategy. placed himself a distance of one hundred miles from Johnston's flank, now menaced by his advance. The despatch says that rumor spread concerning the attack upon Mobile and Selma by Sherman was simply meant to divert public attention from the real object of the expedtion, which aims at an invasion of Georgia somewhere between Trenton and Lafayette.

A party of Rebels, who are said to have come out of the Rappahannock River in an armed sloop, have been making a bold and successful raid in the Chesapeake Bay. They visited Cherrystone, on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, and captured two Government tugs, said to be the Titian and the Iola, though there is some doubt about the names of the vessels. One of the tugs was burnt and the crew paroled. The town of Pensacola, Florida, has been burnt by the rebels, in order te prevent our troops from occupying it. A despatch from headquarters, West Virginia, reports heavy movements of rebel troops castward over the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, probably Longstreet's command.

SECTION II. There shall be two additional sections to the eleventh article of the Constitution, to be designated as section eight and nine, as follows :

SECTION VIII. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title, except appropriation bills SECTION IX. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature granting any powers or privileges in any case where the authority to grant such powers or privileges has been or may hereafter be conferred upon the courts of the Commonwealth.

On agreeing to the title,

Agreeable to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were required, and were as follow, viz:

NAYS-Messrs. Beardslee, Donovan, Glatz, Lamberton, Latta, Montgomery, Smith, and Wallace-10.

So the title was agreed to, a majority of the whole body having voted therefor.

Every Patent Democrat but Kinsey, of Bucks county, voted against increasing the pay of the soldiers.

Kinsey, Democratic Senator, voted in the affirmative-and five Democratic Senators dodging the question-by which they admitted the infamy of the course adopted by their leaders in the Senate. We submit these extracts from the record, to the calm consideration of the people of Pennsylvaniato the serious reflection of the men who are perilling their lives in defence of the national honor, and perpetuity of the National Government. They need no comment further than this, that if there was a tory in the revolution, or a blue-light traitor in the war of 1812, either would have voted precisely as these men did.

By a letter from Capt. A. G. Dickey, dated Jacksonville, Florida, February 26, 1864, to Joseph Alexander, Esq., we learn that he was wounded in the face by a shell, but without any bones being broken, and remained in command half an hour afterwards, when he retired. He speaks highly of his soldiers, who he says did not retreat until ordered. The heroic valor displayed by these despised sons of Africa may be inferred from the fact that out of fifty men he took into action 10 were killed, 5 missing, supposed to be killed, and 21 wounded.

The rebel Congress has adjourned. Its acts have passed into the history of that infamous rebellion which has proved a delusion and a snare to them, as well as a grief and trouble to us. Amongst the bills passed were four of a general character, intended to accomplish, by desperate means, the salvation of their failing cause-we mean the Conscription, Tax, and Currency Bills, and the suspension of Habeas Corpus.

-The latest geographical invention is that making Hollidaysburg a central point in this congressional district.

The Copperheads at Work.

In the Senate of this State, on Friday last, the copperheads, including Bucher, deliberately put on record their opposition to an increase of the pay of private soldiers, as will be seen by the following proceedings:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That our representatives in Congress be requested to vote for, and use their influence for the passage of a law increasing the pay of private soldiers and non commissioned officers in the army of the United States.

On the final passage of the bill,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Beardslee and Mr. Clymer, and were as follow, viz:

YEAS-Messrs. Champneys, Connell, Dunlap, Fleming, Graham, Hoge, House holder, Johnson, Kinsey, Lowry, McCandless, Nichols, Ridgway, St. Clair. Turrell, Wilson, Worthington and Penney, Speaker-18

NAYS-Messrs. Beardslee, Bucher, Cly. mer, Donovan, Glatz, Hopkins, Lamberton, Latta, McSherry, Montgomery, Reilly, Smith, Stark, Stein and Wallace-15. So the bill passed finally.

The proceedings on sundry amendments were as follows :

A joint resolution proposing certain amendments to the Constitution.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment be proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of the tenth article thereof:

There shall be an additional section to the third article of the Constitution, to be designated as section four, as follows :
