

LOCAL AFFAIRS

Daring a reconnaissance in force by Gen. Butler's troops on Thursday last, Captain A. G. DICKEY, of the 8th U. S. C. T., was killed, while gallantly leading his company. Capt. Dickey was a native of Siloam, New York, where his parents still reside, and came to this place a number of years since, and by his gentlemanly and correct deportment soon secured the esteem of all who knew him. He engaged in teaching, and subsequently studied law with Jos. Alexander, Esq.; but his strong republican principles and conviction that the rebellion was a blow at liberty, not only here but throughout the world, rendered him restless since the war and he twice shouldered a musket in defence of his country. Last year he was promoted to the command of a company in the 8th colored troops and served with much credit in Florida, where he was slightly wounded. Some months ago the regiment was transferred to Bermuda Hundred, where it took part in several severe battles. We have reason to know that Captain Dickey was regarded as one of the most promising officers of his grade in the service, commanding there as here the respect of all. The intelligence of his death was received here on Monday with universal regret, for all concur that the loss of such a man, with every principle and talent to make him a useful citizen, is not easily replaced.

Wm. H. Bratton, son of Charles Bratton, Esq., of Bratton township, of the 2d Pa. Artillery, was recently twice wounded, captured, taken to Richmond, and had a hand amputated; but was subsequently paroled and is now at Annapolis, Md.

OUR COLORED SOLDIERS.—In the memorable fight on the 29th September, which resulted in the capture of Chapin's Bluff, near Richmond, we regret to learn that several colored soldiers from this place were killed. The charge was made across a plain half a mile broad, and although badly cut up the 4th and 6th U. S. C. T., with some others captured the rebel works at the point of the bayonet. Among the killed are the following, who are said to have fallen on one spot: David Crisswell, George Anderson, Walker Stills, Jos. Patterson, Wm. Snowden.

Abe Patterson seriously wounded. A letter from Charles Miller, now in Portsmouth Grove Hospital, R. I., says that Wm. Snowden was also wounded, not killed. Peter Johnson, supposed to be the one formerly of this place, is also reported killed.

In no battle during the war has so great a loss of life occurred among soldiers from this place, and when we bear in mind that there are perhaps ten whites to one colored in the service from Lewistown, who for a moment can doubt the bravery of these poor fellows? We know besides that in other respects most of them have been faithful sons and brothers, aiding those at home whenever they could. So far as earth is concerned they are no more, yet when the record of this war is made, their names will be found among those who fell victims to one of the most hellish rebellions ever got up by man. We commend their fate to sundry men, women, girls and boys in this town who cannot see a colored person on the street without uttering a low-bred remark as mean as it is cowardly. They may think themselves "smart" in doing so, but forget that when they do it they are not lowering the negro, but themselves.

FRAUDULENT VOTES.—Four paupers were assessed in Derry township on the recent ten day list, and their votes taken by the election officers. As the list was not posted up as is required by law in order that citizens might examine it, and as all the parties must have known that these men were paupers, they may consider themselves fortunate if they escape attention at November term.

Another outrageous proceeding was taking the vote of a man named Mills in Brown township, a rebel deserter, who in a letter addressed to the Provost Marshall which he dropped and was found, protested against being enrolled, and added that he had done one wrong in deserting his brave companions and could not be guilty of so "foul a crime as to take up arms against them." This letter was shown to the board, but being rebel was no impediment to his voting there!

ITEMS.—Mr. Burke sent us a yam, or York county sweet potato, which he raised on a field near town, weighing exactly two pounds.

The Philadelphia Synod of the Presbyterian Church will meet in this place tomorrow evening.

The war news is of no special interest other than that Grant is evidently closing around Richmond: Sheridan is holding the rebels back in the Shenandoah; and Sherman is again in the field after Hood.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—8 40 p. m. Dispatches have been received to-day from Gen. Grant, Gen. Sherman, and Gen. Sheridan, but no military movements since my last telegram are reported.

The following details of the cavalry engagement last Sunday are furnished by Gen. Sheridan:

"I have seen no sign of the enemy since the brilliant engagement of the 9th inst. It was a square cavalry fight, in which the enemy was routed beyond any power to describe. He lost everything carried on wheels, except one piece of artillery, and when it was last seen it was passing over Rude's Hill, near New Market, on the full run, twenty six miles from the battle field, to which point the pursuit was kept up. The battery men and horses, etc., were captured. The horses were in good condition, but were all exchanged by our cavalrymen for their broken down animals. The casualties on the 9th will not exceed sixty men. The one hundred men of the 8th Ohio, dispersed while guarding the bridge over the North Shenandoah, have come in, except the officers."

EDWIN M. STANTON, Sec'y. of War

Q. Who first recommended a draft? A. Geo. B. McClellan.

Q. Who strongly recommended a confiscation of slaves and rebel property? A. Geo. B. McClellan.

Q. Who set guards over a fine spring of water used by a rebel family, while the Union soldiers had to drink out of a muddy and dirty stream close by? A. Geo. B. McClellan.

Q. Who agreed with Woodward's views? A. Geo. B. McClellan.

Q. What were Woodward's views? A. Disunion and a belief in the divine institution of slavery.

Q. How came the rebels to know exactly where a large lot of arms were buried by McClellan's orders previous to his strategic change of base at Richmond, and how came it that some hundreds of ambulances with horses, &c., were placed exactly in the road of the rebels? A. We don't know.

Q. How came the rebels to know all that was going on in war matters at Washington while Gen. McClellan was commander-in-chief? A. We don't know; but we do know that since McClellan's particular friends have been dismissed or are out of commands, the rebels don't find out what is going on!

Speech Addressed to Whom I was adapted. A Mr. J. H. Woodward, a young man about twenty, made himself particularly disagreeable to some persons by his expressions of loyalty, and out of derision was lately called upon to make a speech in a copperhead meeting in the West. He responded to their calls in substance as follows:

GENTLEMEN: The great cry I have heard to day has been peace, peace. I tell you that there is no man in the nation who desires a peace more than I do, a permanent, lasting peace. [Cheers.] And gentlemen, I will tell you how we will get it. Fight this war out. Take every negro in the rebel States and exterminate every cursed rebel, no matter where you find him. [Hisses.] You need not try to find me down, for I am an old soldier, and I have faced almost as mean a looking crowd as is now before me. I mean the thieves and bushwhackers of Tennessee. I know I was called upon to make a speech out of derision, and I intend to tell you what I think of you.

When God said he would save Sodom if ten righteous men could be found there, I have no doubt he would have done it, and to day, if you all stood upon the brink of —, and he would save you if one loyal man could be found among you, I have not the least doubt but there would be a great many strange faces there for supper. Gentlemen, when you wish to hear from me again, you have only to call upon me I am always at home.

Mr. Woodward is a resident of Ohio, and has been adjutant of an Indiana regiment.
