Soldier's Orphans.

Arrangements are now perfected and schools selected for the education and maintenance of the children of those brave men who have fallen in their country's service, and it is the duty of School Directors to see that application for admission into one of these schools is immediately made for every needy orphan in their respective districts.

Applications should be correctly made out, attested by the President and Secretary of the board, and forwarded to the chairman of the proper County Committee, from whom blanks for this purpose can be obtained. Great care should be taken that names, dates, &c., are correctly given.

The Chairman of the Committee should immediately add his certificate to these applications if correct, and torward them to Dr. Thomas H. Burrowes, Superintendent of Orphans, Lancaster Pa. He need not call together the Committee for this purpose. as the certificate of the School Directors, who live in the same township with the applicant, is the best evidence as to the necessary facts in the case he can get.

Each member of the Committe, as well as each public spirited citizen, should cheerfully and promptly aid in securing to those entiled to it the benefits of this just and beneficent measure.

Further information can be obtained from the Pennsylvania School Jourmal.

An Important Decision in reference to the Military Bounty Law.

An important decision was recently delivered by Judge Long, in the Court of Common Pleas in Lancaster county, on the subject of the military bounty laws. The facts involved in the case are as follows: Two citizens of Manheim township, having furnished acceptable substitutes for themselves in the military service, made issue to the effect that, having thus contributed what they deemed their quota, they should be rightfully and legally exempted from the payment of the tax provided for by the act of the 26th March, 1864, to pay bounties to volunteers. The suit was brought by the Board of School Directors of Manheim township, who, in compliance with the provisions of the law, were authorized to levy and collect such a tax. After a thorough discussion of the question involved, by able counsel, the court decided that the defendants were bound for the payment of the tax, and accordingly ordered judgment to be entered for the plaintiffs. Judge Long's decision is a very clear legal paper.

ATTEMPT TO BURN NEW YORK CITY.

The Astor House, St. Nicholas, St. James, Metropolitan, Belmont, Tammany, Loyejoy, Brandeth and Lafarge Hotels, and Barnum's Museum on Fire.

No less than ten or a dozen of the leading hotels and other large buildings were fired between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock, on Friday evening, and by these acts an immense amount of life and property was put in jeopardy. Fortunately the fires were not simultaneous, and after the discovery of three or four attempts had been made to carry the fearful plot into execution, the detective police obtained sufficient knowledge of the affair to lead to the conclusion that a wholesale conflagration was imminent, and accordingly extra vigilance was exerted by the police and Fire Department, and the late fires were extinguished almost immediately upon their breaking out. The story of the atrocious conspiracy soon spread about the city, and the greatest alarm was felt among the people. The report reached the Academy of Music during the third act of the new opera, and caused excitement, but was hardly credited. At about eleven o'clock the alarm seemed general in the lower part of the city, and the citizens searched their premises care fully

There were two theories as to the mean ing of the plot-for such it undoubtedly One was that the incendiaries were also thieves, who hoped to plunder and pil lage during the excitement that would certainly have followed the success of their efforts; the other was that a rebel organization had concocted and entered upon the execution of the outrage. The discovery of a woman from Baltimore, whose move ments were suspicious, seemed to give a clue to the mystery, and favored the theory last mentioned.

In every case the fires were proved to be the work of incendiaries. and similarity of the work in all the instances left no doubt that one head controlled the business. Had the conspiracy, or whatever we may call it, succeeded to the extent evidedtly intended, half the city at least might have been in ruins this morning

WAR NEWS.

Dispatch from Admiral Porter.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. A dispatch to the Navy Department from Admiral Porter, dated Fort Monroe to-day, says the U.S. steamer Fort Morgan arrived at this port at 10 o'. clock, p. m., on the 27th inst., with the rebel Admiral Buchanan and his two aids on board; also the following telegram :

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 28. I have just received a telegram from the commander of the prize steamer Florida, informing me that she had sunk in nine fathoms of water.

She had been run into by an army steamer and badly damaged. I have not heard the particulars, but will inform the Department when I receive the written report.

General Thomas' troops are said to have evacuated Decatur, Huntsville and Pulaski, and retreated to Columbia, where it is expected that at an early day he will meet Hood in battle. Columbia is in Maury county, Tennes and see, on the left bank of the Duck river. It is at the head of a railroad leading of the past summer, I thought I would to Decatur, Memphis, New Orleans and Mobile, and is adapted for a strong defence, the river itself being a great barrier to an enemy, which he would have to cross in our faces. It was the truth of what we say, residence of President Polk previous to his election in 1844. It has been well fortified, and is connected with Nashville by railroad, from which Thomas derives his supplies. Forrest, the dispatches inform us, has crossed the Duck river above Columbia, and is trying to cut this railroad.

We have little of interest to add to the above. The city papers are as usual filled with unmeaning dispatches and letters, which when sifted amount to nothing. Gen. Our company was raised at Belleville, in the fall of 1861, when we for the first time left our peaceful homes for the battle field.

After more than two years' service we were a part of the army that took possession of East Tennessee, and afterward withstood a seige of twenty one days in the city of Knoxville, just one year ago to-day. About the first of January, 1864, we reenlisted as a regiment for three years more, and were allowed to return to our homes on a thirty days' furlough. During the month of July, our eyes were all naturally turned northward, as we were interested in the result of an election to take place in August. That election was to decide whether the people of the North would stand by their soldiers and give them the privilege of exercising in the field a right dear to all American citizens, or despise their rights as freemen We anxiously waited for the verdict of the people. Finally, it came, and we were glad to hear that we had been granted the privilege of voting in the field by a handsome majority. Good for the old Keystone State! We then examined the returns from the counties, and found that Mifflin county decided to stand by her soldiers in the field, and encourage and support them in their efforts to subdue the rebellion. But when we came to the townships, we found that Brown township refused to support her soldiers, denied them the exercise of their former rights, grieved when they were victorious, and rejoiced when they were defeated. Peterson's Magazine.

We are in receipt of this popular Lady's Magazine, for December. It is a splendid number, with a superb title page for 1864. Notwithstanding the enormously increased price of paper, and the rise in all printing materials, 'Peterson' will still be furnished at two Dollars a year. No Magazine of similar merit approaches it in cheapness. Its stories and noveletts are by the best writers. In 1865, four original copyright novelettes will be given. Its Fashious are always the latest and prettiest. Every neighborhood ought to make up a club. It is the Magazine for the times ! Its terms to clubs are unprecedentedly liberal, viz: 8 copies for $12, or 14 copies for $20. To every person getting up a club, (at these rates) the publisher will send as a premium that superb engraving for framing, size 27 by 20 inches, 'WASHINGTON PARTING FROM HIS GENERALS,' or an extra copy of the Magazine for 1865. It costs us a pang of sorrow that we are our country's enemies.

"But, tories, we can face the bullets Your 'Southern friends' shall send, But, oh! we will not forget you When this cruel war shall end."

Previous to the November election, we urged upon our friends at home the importance of sustaining the Union candidates. not only on account of the great principles at stake and the known disloyalty of the opposition candidate for Vice President, but because the rebels in arms desired the success of our opponents, expecting by that success to gain their independence and make true the assertion in the Chicago platform, that the "war is a failure."

"But all along the rebel earthworks, We have savage shoutings heard; You will scarce believe it, brothers, But McClellan was the word."

But the elections are now past for this year: Abraham Lincoln is re-elected president of the United States for the next four years. We have conferred on us as soldiers of the Union, the privilege of voting in the field, but no thanks to Brown township for either result.

But I must now turn my attention from our enemies in the rear to those in frout.

"Hark! it is the bugle sounding: Grant still finds us work to do; But, oh! we'll not forget those traitors When this bloody war is through." Yours truly,

J. S. M.

-Because the Governor is carrying into effect the act passed last winter for organizing the militia of this State, the copperhead press of the tory species is again finding fault. When the rebels invaded the State, these snakes condemned the Governor for not having it properly organized, and now for doing what they alleged ought to have been done long ago he is again wrong. How long will honest democrats follow the lead of such tools of Jef Davis!
