From the Seat of War.

We have nothing of a definite character from the seat of war. General Thomas has concentrated his forces at Nashville, probably with a view to draw Hood from Sherman, and a great battle is looked for in that region. No fears are entertained of the result.

Of Gen. Sherman's movements it is difficult to form an opinion, though it is evident that he was gradually moving forward, scouring a vast extent of country, and if he designed to reach the Atlantic he must be there by this time. A naval expedition which recently sailed from Fortress Monroe has no doubt co-operated in Sherman's movement, as also a body of troops under Gen. Foster.

Gen. Gregg's cavalry, of Grant's army, last week made an important raid on rebel supplies at a place where they intended to construct a new railroad. and destroyed a large amount of property designed for the rebel army.

The rebel papers are studiously silent as to Sherman's movement, but seem to grow jubilant when they hear of the retreat of a scouting detachment of cavalry or the capture of a few men-facts which show that no rebel force has thus far impeded or met the main army. We learn from Washington that the organization of the new veteran army corps which is to be placed under the command of Major General Hancock has already commenced, and with most encouraging prospects of success. The new corps is to consist of volunteers to the number of twenty thousand, and all who enter it must be able-bodied men, and have served two years in the army.

It is stated that some guns will soon be in position before the rebel capital, which will throw shells of extraordinaay power from the batteries of the Eighteenth Corps, a distance of seven miles.

The President's Message.

The President's message was delivered to Congress yesterday at 1 o'clock. It recommends that provision be made for effectually preventing foreign slave traders from acquiring domicile and faculties for their criminal occupation in our country.

It has been thought proper to give notice that after the expiration of six months, the period conditionally stipulated in the existing arrangement with Great Britain, the United States must hold themselves at liberty to increase their naval armanent on the lakes, if they shall find that precantion necessary.

He suggests whether it might not be both competent and expedient for Congress to provide that a limited amount of some future issues of public securties might be held by a bona fide purchaser, exempt from taxation and from seizure of debt, under such restrictions and limitations as might be necessary to guard against abuse of so important a privilege.

This would enable every prudent person to set aside a small annuity against a possible day of want.

Since the last annual message all the important lines and positions then oc-cupied by our forces have been maintained, and our armies have steadily advanced.

He recommends the passage of a constitutional amendment abolishing slavery throughout the United States. The next Congress will pass it if the present does not

On careful consideration of all the evidence accessible, it seems to the President that no attempt at negotiation with the insurgent leaders could result in any good, as the rebels would accept nothing short of a severance of the Union, precisely what we will not and cannot give.

He retracts nothing he has heretofore said on slavery. He will not modify the emancipation proclamation.

The war will cease on the part of the Government whenever it shall have ceased on the part of those who began it.

Our remarks on the tendency of copperhead journalism to make thieves, robbers and cutthroats seem to be taken to beart by the devoted servant of Jef Davis & Co. who edits the Selinsgrove Times, as he devotes some space in his last paper to personal abuse of the Gazette, religion, &c. We do not wonder at his ravings, though we do at showing any signs of conscience at all No paper in the interior has more openly advised resistance to law and upheld treason and disunion than this same editor of the Times, and in proof of his teachings we state the fact that the only man now in this county who is threatening to kill U.S. officers is a subscriber to that paper, while it is equally well known that the advisers, aiders and ab ttors of deserters in the lower end of the county are of the same stamp.

More Incendiarism.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. The mahogany lumber yard of Messrs. Ogden & Co, which was almost totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning, occupied one-third of the block on Washington street, between Hub ert and Beech, and extended through to West street, occupying the whole of the block on Hubert street, between Washington and West streets. The yard was filled with an immense stock of mahogany and valuable lumber, the value of which is estimated at $150,000. The fire was discovered at about the centre of the yard by Sergeant Farrell, of the Fifth precinct, while patrolling the precinct, who imme diately gave the alarm.

The firemen and police were promptly on hand, but owing to the inflammable nature of the materials the flames spread with the most fearful rapidity until it was feared that the whole neighborhood would fall a prey to the devouring element. The flames lighed up the sky for a considerable distance, and were visible all over the city. An immense crowd gathered at the scene of the conflagration, and the most intense excitement prevailed for a time. Great apprehensions were entertained for the surrounding buildings, which had they caught fire, would have caused an almost incalcuable amount of damage. After a time, however, by the untiring exertions of the fire men, and the copious streams of water launched upon the fire by the numerous steamers, the flames were subdued and finally extinguished, but not before a great portion of the stock on hand had been destroved.

Phosphorus was used to fire the property, and it is believed that the object was to destroy the extensive Government warehouse adjoining, where immense quantities of army clothing are stored.

The following, from the Chambersburg Repository, gives an account of the manner in which horse thieves are to be treated in Franklin county:

On Friday a week a horse belonging to Mr. Martin Heintzelman was stolen from Fayetteville. Suspicion attached to John Myers, who was in town that evening, and the suspicions were confirmed when Myers and his brother William-both residing in termination to arrest them, they ran across | bbl. the fields towards Mr. John Crawford's. nearly a mile from town, and caught Wilcourts the trouble of disposing of horsethieves. They are either rebels or in col lusion with rebels, and their villainous work will be arrested only when they learn that they must face bullets.

Paul the Apostle speaks of Luke as the "beloved physician," and few endear themselves to us more than those who like "ministering angels," bring us the healing balm in sickness. So it is with medicines that cure; though we never see the maker, yet we get a feeling of regard for him through them. How many have reason to bless Dr. Ayer for his invaluable remedies, so cheap and yet so effectual! Rebel Attack at Franklin.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. The following official dispatch, confirming the victory in Tennessee, has been received at headquarters:

FRANKLIN, TENN., Nov. 30. To Major Gen. Thomas: -The enemy made a heavy, persistent attack with about two corps, commencing about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and lasting until after dark:

MAJ. GEN. SCHOFIELD.

M'CONNELSBURG, Pa., Dec. 3

A fight occurred at Timber Ridge, near this place, yesterday, between a portion of company F, 101st regiment of Pennsylvania mounted infantry, and some deliuquent conscripts of this county. It having been ascertained that a number of them would be congregated at a shooting match, measures were at once taken to secure the party. The soldiers advanced to the spot, and, as Provost Marshal Houpt went for the exhibition of a reputed INFIDEL ward to hold a parley, the conscripts cried out, "It is the Provost Marshal," and i'umediately a number of shots were fired at him, none of which took effect.

The soldiers then opened fire, and a general fight ensued, that lasted for about an hour. The deserters were finally driven over two hills, skirmishing being kept up the whole way. Owing to the fact that the fighting was carried on principally in the woods, the casualties were slight. The conscripts lost one man killed and two wounded. None of our men were injured. One of the wounded men fell into our hands. The remainder of the party, being familiar with the country, fled to the mountains.

The forces were under command of Capt. Maioney, an efficient officer, and more affairs of this kind may be speedily looked for, as it is determined to bring these outlaws and incendiaries to justice.

Dr. Velpau's French Pills. Ladies, take Particular Notice. THE REAL VELPAU FEMALE PILL.

[WARRANTED FRENCH.] THESE Pills, so celebrated many years ago in Paris for the relief of female ir regularities, and afterward so notorious for their criminal employment in the practice of abortion, are now offered for sale for the first time in America. They have been kept in comparative obscurity, from the fact that the originator, Dr. Velpau, is a physician in Paris of great wealth and strict conscientious principles, and has withheld them from general use, lest they should be employed for unlaw-ful purposes. In overcoming Female Obstructions, Falling of the Womb, Whites, Green Sickness, Suppression, Retention or Immed erate Flow of the Monthly Discharges, they seem to be truly omnipotent, bursting open the flood gates from whatever cause may have stopped them; but they are offered to the public only for legitimate uses, and all agents are forbidden to sell them when it is understood that the object is unlawful. Married ladies should never take them when there is any reason to believe themselves pregnant, for they will be sure to produce a miscarriage. These pills are entirely safe under all cir. cumstances, being composed entirely of substances from the vegetable kingdom.

Each box has the coat of arms for the city of Paris stamped on the box, with the words 'Trade Mark" in French, to counterfeit which is a misdemeanor, and all persons will be dealt with according to law.

Full directions accompany every box. Ladies can obtain a box sealed from the eyes of the curious, by inclosing One Dollar and six post office stamps to any respectable druggist, or to O. G.
