We can assure all concerned that we have no particular anxiety to have subscribers on our list who will pay if they choose, or set their own time and manner a year or two hence for doing so. It takes money nowadays to publish a paper, as well as to live, and we neither can nor will give unlimited credit to any person or for anything connected with our business. Our terms are plain and distinct: All subscriptions are payable in advance, or within three months to old subscribers, and after that time $2. Our charge, $1.50, is far below what most papers are now published at, and the only way to continue it at that price is for its patrons to keep up their former reputation of being the best paying list in this part of the State.

Subscribers out of the county or State are reminded that all such papers are discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for.

Railroad Companies at issue.

Quite a spirited contest is now going on in the Supreme Court of this State between the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the companies parties to an agreement for extending the Atlantic and Great Western through this State, so as to make a new through line from the west to Philadelphia and New York. This route would pass over the Philadelphia and Reading, East Pennsylvania and Catawissa roads, and thence pass through Union and Centre counties westward. It would take some reading to arrive at the merits of the points at issue, save that it is a warfare for rail supremacy or competition, as the lawyers on both sides make the case so clear that it is and is not a blow at Philadelphia, as almost by necessity to leave the impartial reader on the fence.

Republican Convention.

The State Central Convention have fixed the time for holding the Republican State Convention for nominating a candidate for Governor, on March 7th, at Harrisburg. This time is not far off, and the question of the candidate will necessarily be actively discussed. A number of gentlemen have been spoken of; but there is little doubt that Gen. Geary, now of Cumberland, late of Westmoreland, John Cessna, Esq., of Bedford, or Mr. J. K. Moorehead, of Allegheny, will be the

The Susquehanna Fisheries.

Gen. Cameron, President of the Fish Convention, has appointed the following committee, to take charge of and perfect the bill to be presented to the Legislature for its adoption, and which provides for the removal of all obstructions to the passage of fish along the Susquehanna and its tributaries: Jas. Worral Chairman, Dauphin county; C. M. Brockway, Columbia county ; J. K. Clement, Northumberland; Henry Thomas, Dauphin; James Freeland. Dauphin; Wm. H. Kepner, Dauphin; S. W. Mifflin, Lancaster; Harry Hakes, Luzerne; Wm. Patterson, Juniata; Dr. Samuel Belford, Mifflin; A. C. Simpson, Snyder; Wm. Lewis, Huntingdon; Isaac Frazier, Etter's P. O., York; Geo. H. Morgan, Secretary.

Negro Insurrections.

Since it has been demonstrated by be an uprising of the Southern blacks, it will be because they have been either tempted, incited, or driven to it by the whites themselves. While there is scarcely anything said about the matand Southern press are constantly agirection if the whites had not so persistently kept the idea before them.

It is the opinion of many Northern men now in the South that there is a deep plot, tacitly formed perhaps, to bring on an insurrection of the blacks, in favor of the former; he then took in order to furnish a pretext for massacreing them, and obnoxious Northern whites with them. After the horrors perpetrated at Andersonville and Fort Pillow, we are prepared to give credence to such a report. It seems confirmed by the fact that, in their intercourse with the colored people, Northern men generally, and even officers of the Government, are followed lution to close the hall of the House by spies and informers, in search, probably, of some plausible pretext to be used against them in case of an outbreak. In one instance this needless espionage was deservedly chastised .-A detective employed by the Freedmen's Bureau, in Wilmington, N. C., was arrested by the chief of police in that city, and was on his way to the watch-house when they fell in with a squad of soldiers. "Take this man to the guard-house," said the detective. The soldiers, recognizing the detective, such other improvements as they may and acting upon previous instructions, deem advisable. obeyed, and the chief of police became himself a prisoner.

But, should the Southern people fail to either tempt or incite the negroes to insurrection, they may yet drive them to it. The frequent murder of unoffending colored people in some given by the State to their ancestor localities, the burning of their churches | Cornplanter. Six hundred acres of and school-houses, the shameless violathe land are on Alleghany river, and tion of contracts made with them, and other flagrant abases, tend in this direction. We wish not to see it, but should there be an uprising of the blacks, it will be the fault of the Southern people themselves.

Proceedings of Congress.

Congress is still engaged in devising ways and means to properly legislate for the chaotic States south, and though nothing has yet been perfected, the House occasionally gives unerring indications that if the late rebels will not quietly find their level, Congress will teach them where it is. The late vote making suffrage democratic (according to Webster) in the District shows that that body will not be trifled with. Some important amendments to the constitution will be proposed, and until these are perfected and adopted, we do not believe either House will admit any reconstructed southerners into the councils of the

It will be remembered that some weeks ago Major Dixon, paymaster, was shot and killed near Alexandria, Va., by Dr. Maddox, of Fanquier county. After the death of Major Dixon, who was one of the staunchest Union men in the county, the ex-rebels determined to drive his unprotected widow from the county of Fanquier, and they proceeded in guerrilla style to burn her house over her head, at the dead hour of night. A kind Providence, however, averted the doom intended, and the fire kindled against her door failed to ignite the house. This attempt was sufficient, however, to drive Mrs. Dixon from her home, and she is again an exile in Washington from her home and from her native State, as she has been during the past five years.

Hews from other Counties.

Snyder County,

We noticed last week the murder of Mrs. Eby, near Middleburg, and we now learn from the Tribune of the 17th, that Peter Eby, the busband of the woman who was murdered, was arrested on Monday evening a week, and is now confined in the jail at that place. Suspicion had been resting on ery officer and private honorably mus-tered out of the service of the United was eagerly watched, as he had been selling various articles from his farm. On Monday evening he came to Middleburg for the purpose of having the necessary papers made out for the sale question suggest to the negroes motives itary bounties. The money borrowed of his farm. We are pained to learn that Mrs. Clara Gregg, wife of Brig-Gen. J. Irvin Gregg, died at her residence at Lewisburg on the 13th inst. She leaves several little children to mourn her loss. Her husband is absent attending to his duties as an officer of the army, stationed we believe in the far southwest.

We are informed that a planing mill is about to be established in our borough. We do not know whose enterprise it is we are to be indebted to for this improvement, but as the enterprise is a fixed fact we congratulate ourselves upon it, and wish the most eminent success to its projectors. Mr. Samuel Parker, a citizen well known in this vicinity, while returning from Milesburg on Saturday evening week, was met on the towpath a short distance above the toll gate by two men who grappled and threw him into the canal. In falling, Parker's grip was so tight upon one of the fellows as to draw him into the water with him. Parker emerged from the other side and left his assailant to manage for himself in the cold bath .- Bellefonte Press.

Communicated Oil Company Meeting. DECATUR TOWNSHIP, Mifflin co., Pa

The citizens of Decatur and neighboring townships met, Jan. 12th, 1866 at Stroup's school house, for the purpose of raising a company to bore for oil in said township.— The house was called to order by John Tay lor, Esq Col. Reed was elected president, and J. M. Mohler Secretary. After some preliminary remarks by different individuals, Mr. Kepler, of Centre county, addressed the meeting, showing the importance of every citizen being interested and aiding in the enterprise.

On motion, the shares were put at $20, and the old subscriptions which had been taken were set aside, and a new subscription commenced. Mr. Kepler, who has leased the territory, offered to give three acres sur-rounding the well to the company as an inducement to take stock. After which, on motion, the following committee was appoint ed to take subscriptions:—Joseph Sigler, Augustus M. Ingram, Joseph Kearns, Abram Mutthersbough, John Taylor, and Thomas Reed-the committee to report to Mr. Sigler, chairman. On motion. adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman of committee. A Capital of $6,000 is wanted. Mr. Kepler, an experienced operator in oil, gives it as his decided opinion that there is oil in Decatur township - has taken twenty shares himself. and in case the company is raised, will send an experienced driller from Venango to oper-This enterprise is one certainly not of local interest, but the entire county and ad jacent counties should be interested in it, take stock and settle the problem at once and forever whether there is or is not oil beneath tho barren surfaces of Mifflin county. Even should it prove a failure the satisfaction of having the question settled, would be worth more than the cost to the several stockholders. W. REED, President, J. M. MOHLER, Sec'y.
