GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE. The Message of Governor Curtin was read in the Legislature last week. It is mainly devoted to matters connected with the late rebellion, in which Pennsylvania took such an active share in suppressing, the facts of which however are famil ar to our readers. This portion we omit for want of room .-The remainder of the message is as follows:

Amount of the public debt of Penn. vivania, as it stood on the 1st day of December, 1864, 839,379,603 94.

Amount redeemed at the State treasary during the fiscal year ending with November 30, 1865, $1,803.245 88. Public debt, December 1, 1865, $37,- 476.258 06. Assets in the treasury, consisting of bonds and cash, amounted to $13,623,-568 14.

By the report of the State Treasurer, it will be observed that the extraordinary expenditures growing out of the war, not refunded by the general government, have been $4,028,627.21.-This includes the direct tax paid to the United States by the State, which is not reimburs; ble. In the balance is included the £671.476 48 paid to the militia, which, with a good portion of the remaining expenditure, is clearly due the State from the general government The necessity for extraordinary expenditures having ceased with the suppression of the late rebellion, measares should be taken to examine our resources, and relieve, as far as possible, the heavy burdens to which our people are subjected.

It has been the habit of late years to appropriate, freely, annual sums for the support of localities; and such appropriations are almost every year inreasing in number and amount .-Houses of Refuge, Institutions for the Deat and Dumb and for the Blind and Lunatic Asylums, - these appear to me to be proper objects of State bounty, because a few of them are sufficient for the whole State, and to leave them to be provided for by the local authorities would, in fact, be to deprive of protection the unfortunate classes for whose benefit they are designed. But mere local charities, however meritorious and effective, should, I think, be left to the support of the benevolent parties who establish them.

It is unjust that the people of the Commonwealth should be coerced to pay 'axes in order that part of the money so raised may be given to the support of local charities, conducted b. private associations, especially when it is remembered that hitherto but a small proportion of the private charities in the State have asked for such appropriation.

I recommend, therefore, that no appropriation be made for charities beyoud the institutions which I have above specified.

The taxes at present laid on corporations are unequal, and to a certain extent thereby unjust. I recommend the subject to the attention of the Legislature, with a view to a revision of the system.

Within a few years acts have been repeatedly passed directing the exrenditure of as much money as may be necessary to effect named purposes, sometimes without clearly designating by whom the money is to be expended or how the accounts are to be examined. This custom is very recent, and has already led to abuses

I recommend that the practice be corrected, and that no appropriation be made without having the exact sum appropriated, the specific purpose to which it is to be applied, and designa ting the officer by whom it is to be expended, and providing that the accounts shall be settled in the Auditor General's office in the usual manner.

Notwithstanding the large expenditures by the State for military purposes since the breaking out of the rebellion, the condition of the treasury is now $2,555,579 12 better than it was then, and I am proud to be able to state further that on the first day of December, 1865, the State debt was $492.938 66 less than it was on the first of January, 1861 These are truly gratifying facts.

Under these circumstances, it may be possible, with entire safety to our finances, to reduce or even repeal the ordinary State tax of two and a halt mills on real estate. The tax of one halt mill laid by the act of May 16, 1861, was by that act expressly pledged for the repayment of the loan of $3,000,-000, thereby authorized, and of course cannot be repealed or reduced until that repayment shall have been made, I recommend this subject to the careful and deliberate consideration and judgment of the Legislature, and if it should be found that the tax can be repealed, I recommend that all such laws authorizing the levying of local taxes on bonds, mortgages, loans, and all property of that kind be also re-
