POETRY. Bringing our Sheaves with Us.

The time for toil has past, and night has come The last and saddest of the harvest eyes;

Lord of the harvest, and my spirit grieves That I am burdened not so much with grain

As with a heaviness of heart and brain; Master, behold my sheaves! Few, light and worthless-vet their trifling weight 3 yards round the bottom, at $1 40 to $3 15.
Our line of Misses' and Children's SKIRTS

For long I struggled with my hapless fate. And stayed and toiled till it was dark and late

Yet these are all my sheaves. Full well I know I have more tares than wheat.

Wherefore I blush and weep, as at thy feet 'Master, behold thy sheaves?'

With evening day upon their folded leaves Can claim no value nor utility— Therefore shall fragrancy and beauty be

So do I gather strength and hope anew: For well I know thy patient love perceive

And though the full, ripe ears be sadly few.
