RECIPES.

To Spice Green Cantelopes. - Lay the fruit in vinegar over night; in the morning weigh your fruit; to every four pounds, add one pound light sugar and one half pint vinegar; spice to your taste, boil your fruit till tender.

Cucumber Pickle .- Make brine to bear an egg, lay in the cucumbers for nine days; then take out and wash them: take vinegar and water sufficient to cover; let it come to a boil; pour it over once a day for three days; after that take pure vinegar, put in a small bit of alum, let it boil with the spice, and pour it over.

[From Godey's Lady's Book for September.]

Oxford Dumplings .- Mix well togeth er the following ingredients: Two ounces grated bread, four ounces of currants, four ounces of shred suet, a tablespoonful of sifted -sugar, a little allspice, and plenty of grated lemonpeel. Beat up well two eggs, add a little milk, and divide the mixture into five damplings. Fry them in butter a light brown color, and serve them with wine sauce.

French Rolls .- Work one pound of butter into a pound of flour; put to it one beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of yeast, one tablespoonful of salt, and as much warm milk as will make a soft dough; strew flour over it; cover it with a cloth and set it in a warm place for an hour or more, until light; flour your hands well, make it in small rolls; bake in a quick oven.

Onion Pickle .- Peel nice large onions, and, when peeled, lay them in a jar; take cider vinegar, place it on the stove to boil, and put into it cloves, cinnamon, allspice, and as many other spices as are liked; when the vinegar is boil ing hot, pour over the onions and leave it stand twelve hours; pour the vinegar off from the onions, heat again to a boiling heat and pour over the onions as before; proceed in like manner till the vinegar is heated and poured over the onions for three times, when they will be ready for use.

French Tea Cakes .- Beat ten eggs to a high froth; dissolve half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar in hot water and let it stand to cool; then put it with the eggs, and beat them for ten minutes; add four ounces of powdered loaf sugar and the same of fine flour; put the mixture in square tins, and bake in a quick oven

Whitewash that will Not Rub Off .-Slake the lime in the usual way. Mix one gill of flour with a little cold water, taking care to beat out all the lumps; then pour on boiling water enough to thicken it to the consistency of common starch when boiled for use. Pour while hot into a bucket of the slacked lime, and add one pound of whitening Stir all well together. A little 'blue water' made by squeezing the indigo bag, or a little pulverized indigo mixed with water, improves it.

To Preserve Flowers .- As much nitrate of soda as can be held between the thumb and finger, it is said, if thrown in a vase of water, will preserve flow ers for the space of a fortnight. This may be an interesting fact for the ladies.

Sweet Corn all the Year Round .-Nearly all the dried corn that one buys has a flavor, when boiled, resem bling soda or pearlash-certainly it has but little sweetness and much toughness. Now, there is a way of preserving corn which is warranted to give 'entire satisfaction.'

Select, in their season, fresh, medium sized ears of corn, strip off silk and husks, then plunge the ears in boiling hot water, leaving them in for only three minutes. Next cut the corn kernels from the cob with a sharp knife and spread them out on flat dishes, taking care not to have the layer more than two kernels thick.

The dishes must then be placed either in a moderate oven (left open) or over the kitchen range on a board shelf which can be arranged over it for the purpose (say 21 or 3 feet over the top of the range.) The contents of each dish must be disturbed occasionally, so as to insure their becoming thoroughly dried. It is well to spread lace or mosquito netting over the dishes to protect them from flies, dust, etc., for sometimes the corn will be two or three days in drying.

When the corn is perfectly dry, tie it up in bags and put it up in a cool, dry place.

In winter, when you wish to enjoy the fruit of this little pains taking, you take out a few handfuls of the corn, wash it well, soak it all night, and the next day boil it till tender, in the same water it was soaked in. About twenty minutes before you take it from the fire, add milk to the liquid in proportion to your taste, and when nearly done, add butter, pepper and salt. A little corn starch, added as thickening, ten or fifteen minutes before taking the corn from the fire, improves it very much. The corn should not be dry when served, but floating thickly in its own stiff broth; and my word for it, will taste as fresh and sweet as any corn fresh grown.

I need not say, that by soaking corn thus dried all night, and also seaking the preserved beans for the same length of time, a delicious winter succotash can be made the next day, as good as ever eaten in summer .- Working Farmer.

Telegraphing.

Telegraphing. The arrangements for Telegraphing are far in ad-vance of anything of the kind ever offered to the public. A regular Telegraph Line is connected with the Institution with twenty branch offices in various parts of the city, where public business is transacted, and in which the students of this Institution are per-mitted to practice. No regular office practice can be had in any other school of instruction in the country, without which no one can obtain a position as a prac-tical operator. Young men are cantioned against the deceptive representations of those who, without any such facilities, presentations of those who, without any such facilities.

· Patronage.

This Institution is now enjoying the largest patron-age ever bestowed upon any commercial school in the State. Over five-hundred students were in atten dance the first year, and over seven hundred during the past year. The best class of students may inva-riably be found here, and all its associations are first-

Location and Accommodations.

The Institution is located in the most central part of the city, and its accommodations, for extent, ele-gance and convenience, are unsurpassed. All the rooms have been fitted up in the very best style with BUSINESS OFFICES OR COUNTING HOUSES, TELEGRAPH OFFICES, STATIONERY STORE

Caution to Merchants & Tinners.

Since the great success of my cemented paper rings for closing Fruit Cans, some have thought to drift into the same current of success by infringing upon my patent. Some cans longer patented than mine, on which gun had been used under their pat-ent arrangement, are now making their appearance with cemented paper rings, instead of the gum form-erly used.

arly used. In most cases such infringements take place thro' In most cases such infringements take place thro' persons not responsible, who take orders in country stores, while the manufacturers in the cities have for the most part concealed their work. This is to notify the public that the use of cemented paper, pressed upon the top of a fruit can, during the heated state of the fruit, so that when cold it is perfectly scaled, is an infringement upon my rights, unless used upon a can having a cap with my name stamped upon it. Any kind of cement upon this paper, undergoing a pro-cess of pressure during the cooling of the fruit, comes in context with my matents, dired Nov. 12, 1861.
