RECIPES.

How to Preserve Watermelon Rind.—True economy consists in putting to a good use whatever we have, and not, as many people suppose, in going but half clad, and making meals upon nothing, and having it warmed up for next day. We find the following recipe in an exchange, which is reprinted for the benefit of our lady readers. Of course, we cannot vouch for the truth of the statements made, as we have never tested it in our family. Watermelon rinds are plenty now-a-days and if they can be preserved, we see no reason why they shouldn't be. However, the following is the recipe, read it, and judge for yourselves:

"To a bucket of cold water, put in two handfulls of lime; cut your rind (either watermelon or cantelope—the latter I prefer); let it remain twenty four hours; turn it often from the bottom; after taking it out of the lime-water, put it in cold water to soak out the taste of the lime; change the water often; have some grape leaves and strong alum tea to scald the rind in; after covering the rind with the alum water, place the grape leaves over it, and cover it with a thick cloth, so they may be a good green color; let them boil in this about ten minutes; then drop them in cold water; boil a strong ginger tea, enough to cover the rind well; when you find it strong, drop your rind in it, and let it boil in that until you can taste it through the rind when you break it in two. To every pound of rind allow one and a half pounds of white sugar (the rind you must weigh as soon as you cut it, before you put it in the lime) and sufficient water to allow it to boil a long while; as soon as the syrup commences to boil well, put in your rind, and keep it cooking slowly until the rind will look perfectly transparent; it takes some time to get perfectly done; the syrup, when it is perfectly done, will be as thick as honey."

Best Corn Bread.—I think none of all the good corn bread recipes printed in your invaluable Agriculturist, are quite equal to ours, made thus: Make a thick batter of 1 quart of sweet milk and 1 quart of butter-milk, 1 tablespoonful saleratus and 1 of salt, 1 teacup molosses, 2 teacupfuls of wheat flour (or shorts), and corn meal to thicken it. Bake two hours in an oven a little hotter than for wheat bread.—A loaf still nicer, especially for poor teeth, is made by using half the above quantity, steaming it three hours and then baking enough to just brown the top nicely.—"Laura," Cooper, Michigan.

Brown Bread.—Mix 3 cups corn meal, 3 cups rye flour, ½ cup molasses with a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in it, with a sufficiency of cold water. Bake in a covered dish, about three hours, in a slow oven.—A Friend.

Corn Dodgers.—Salt and scald sifted corn meal. When cool wet the hands in cold water and mould into cakes like biscuits, but not very thick. Bake rather slowly, on a griddle, in hot fat, browning first one side and then the other. Split open and eat while hot, with butter or syrup, or with meat and gravy.—Contributor's name not given.

Meat Balls.—A good way to use bits of cold meat. Cold beef or pork, chopped very fine, put into a dish with an egg to each ½ lb., crumbs of bread soaked and mashed fine, 2 onions [if liked] chopped well; season well with salt if fresh, and with pepper. Make into small cakes and fry in plenty of lard.—M. L. B.

Carrot Sauce.—Scrape and thoroughly clean the carrots, slice in very thin round pieces, boil tender, and then cook dry. For each quart of slices pour over a cup of cream, season with salt and pepper and let them boil up for a moment. Serve hot. Thus prepared they will be relished highly, even by those who do not like carrots any way.—Mrs. M. Ingalls, Muscatine, Iowa.

Claret Wine Stains.—A Wilbraham (Mass.) subscriber says that these may be removed from a table cloth by rubbing the spot, as soon as made, thoroughly with common salt. When washed, the stain will entirely disappear.

To Color Scarlet.—For one pound of cloth or yarn, mix in warm water, ½ ounce cream of tartar and 1 ounce pulverized cochineal; add 2 ounces muriate of tin. Stir until it scalds, then put in the cloth or yarn.—Housekeeper.

Telegraphing.

The arrangements for Telegraphing are far in advance of anything of the kind ever offered to the public. A regular Telegraph Line is connected with the Institution with twenty branch offices in various parts of the city, where public business is transacted, and in which the students of this Institution are permitted to practice. No regular office practice can be had in any other school of instruction in the country, without which no one can obtain a position as a practical operator. Young men are cautioned against the deceptive representations of those who, without any such facilities, pretend to teach Telegraphing.

Patronage.

This Institution is now enjoying the largest patronage ever bestowed upon any commercial school in the State. Over five hundred students were in attendance the first year, and over seven hundred during the past year. The best class of students may invariably be found here, and all its associations are first-class.

Location and Accommodations.

The Institution is located in the most central part of the city, and its accommodations, for extent, elegance and convenience, are unsurpassed. All the rooms have been fitted up in the very best style with

I append the following card from H. S. Fisher, Patentee of my celebrated Spring Top Can:

Caution to Merchants & Tinners.

Since the great success of my cemented paper rings for closing Fruit Cans, some have thought to drift into the same current of success by infringing upon my patent. Some cans longer patented than mine, on which gum had been used under their patent arrangement, are now making their appearance with cemented paper rings, instead of the gum formerly used.

In most cases such infringements take place thro' persons not responsible, who take orders in country stores, while the manufacturers in the cities have for the most part concealed their work. This is to notify the public that the use of cemented paper, pressed upon the top of a fruit can, during the heated state of the fruit, so that when cold it is perfectly sealed, is an infringement upon my rights, unless used upon a can having a cap with my name stamped upon it. Any kind of cement upon this paper, undergoing a process of pressure during the cooling of the fruit, comes in contact with my patents, dated Nov. 12, 1861, Aug. 19, 1862, March 22, 1864. All who manufacture, sell, or use cans with cemented paper, which have not my name upon the caps, are liable for infringement.
