BUCKWHEAT FLOUR .- J. C. Blymyer & Co., have this excellent breakfast and supper accompaniment on hand at the Logan Mills, and those fond of cakes (and who is not?) will of course make a rush couldn't find it when sober. there to procure the first of the season .--We have tried them, and can testify they sre not hard to take.

NEW LAND TRIAL .- The Supreme Court has ordered a new trial in the case of Wheeler & West vs. John Winn, so that it is not yet definitely settled whether the General is or is not to be "lord of all he surveys." As it is a question in which the public feel considerable interest, Alexander for plaintiff and Reed for defendant, must again put forward their best licks, as the next race will probably deeide the case finally.

THE TURF, FIELD AND FARM .- This is the title of a very handsome paper of 16 quarto pages, published weekly by S. D. Bruce, New York. As the names implies, it is devoted to the above objects .--It is now in the third volume, and there is every reason to believe that it is established on a firm basis. All who are interested in the breeding of horses, in field sports, or who are engaged in agricultural pursuits, will find it a most valuable and entertaining companion. It is entirely free from those disgusting features which mar so many of the so-called "sporting papers." In looking over the numbers before us, we can find nothing, either in the reading of matter or in the advertisements, to which exception could be taken. The paper may be safely taken into the family. The agent, Mr. Richard McGregor, is now in this place. Published by S. D. Bruce, 37 Park Row, N. Y. The price of the paper is $5 per year.

RAILROADS .- The survey for the Middle Creek Railroad, which was commenced from the first bridge up the little valley through Madden's, Muttersbough's and Sigler farms, has been completed. This Sunberry, Pa. line would have to overcome a considerable elevation in the valley spoken of, the summit being 260 feet above the Mifflin and Centre Railroad. The other two routes are to be surveyed-one along Jack's Mountain, and the other up Jack's creek. To the eye, the natural route for s railroad eastward appears to be from the tannery to the hollow near William C. Porter's house, thence up the hollow, parallel with the road, crossing near the schoolhouse, thence round the bluff to the creek, crossing it a little below the high bridge.

Mr. Black and some other officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad, last week 8 months and 15 days. made an examination of the roadbed from Why should we mourn departing friends, Reedsville to Milroy, with a view it is hoped of finishing that portion.

RUBLE AGAIN IN THE FIELD.-The variety of apples published last week as raised by Isaac Aurand, set Mr. John Ruble of Ferguson's Valley to work to see what he could produce on the subject, and ac-dughter of Adam and Martha Holliday, cordingly sent us forty-two kinds. This aged 20 years, 9 months and 10 days. shows that our farmers have been paving more attention to fruit than has been generally supposed, and thereby much enhanced the value of their property. Many of his lot are of large size, and if any one can beat him either in quality or variety, let him call with his specimens. Among so many years of child and girthood among let him eall with his specimens. Among Mr. Ruble's variety are the following : Fall Pound, Penic, Winter Sweet, Winter English Rambo, Red Streak. Winter Black Jack, Winter Strawberry, Filson Red. Green Pippin, Smokehouse, Hoop. Fall Red Coat. Lady Rush, Sweet Vandever, R. I. Greening. Black Bell Flower, Grind Stone, Golden Sweet, Sheep Nose Black Russet. Fall Blush, Yellow Rusty-Coat, Spice, Baurdon, Quince, Tulpehoeken, Romanite. Spitzenberg, Bull Russett, And nine others, for which we have not the names.

The Clearfield Journal says bears seem to be quite plenty this fall, in that county. We understand that four were seen in the neighborhood of Woodland on Saturday, October 20th-one of which after knocking over a dog, picked up a chunk of a hog belonging to one of the Wisers, and made good his retreat. Several bears were also seen in Piketownship within a few days.

A HUMBUG.

HOW often we hear this expression from person reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, a manine cases out of ten they may be right. It is over 19 years since I introduced my medicine, the VENE-TIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country many taking it with great reluctance; but I told then) let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some tores two or three bottles were taken on trial by per sons present. I was by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me. But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two mohths I began to receive orders for more Liniment some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store.-Now my sales are miliions of bottles yearly, and all tor cash. IN MEMORIAM.

A simple note in your paper of last week announced the death upon Sabbath night, Oct. 21st, at a still and holy hour, of PRUE BLYMYER. What a keen dart of sadness and pain did those brief lines send to the us, and who but yesterday, in the lovely days of early womanhood, was with us, traversing the fields and woods of her native place-little did she dream that before this summer, which opened in such beauty and promise upon her, would pass, she would lie in her cold and silent grave. How sudden-how unlooked for-how sad her early fate! So young, so attractive, so hopeful, " To be cut off from the only world she knew, From light, and life, and love, in youth's sweet prime. To those who have known her most intimately and mingled with her most frequently, it seems scarcely possible to real-ize the truth that she is really gone—that her familiar welcome will no more be heard and her expressive countenance no more be looked upon by the fond eyes of affection. To them her loss is indeed irreparable. How loving a sister-how true a friend and how engaging a companion, has been taken from us. But the to her worth cannot be told in words-its best expression is the aching heart-silence and tears. Long as life lasts, will her memory be cherished with mournful pleasure, and her early fate lamented in the loneliness and bereavement of desolate hearts. On Tuesday afternoon, the streets of Lewistown were darkened by a funereal procession attending the last of her upon earth to her long sleep in the Cemetry upon the banks of the Kishaco-quillas. The funeral rites were those of the Book of Common Prayer, and a beauclosed with soothing requiem the sacred farewell over the youthful grave. And not perhaps until that bitter moment of departure, did all realize the depth of their woe, and how sad and final was the sepa-ration that had taken place. Henceforth that grave will be a hallowed spot, and will be the tears that will start many afresh, and the aching memories recalled, as the mourner reads upon the marble ta-blet the name PHUE BLYMYER. Time, too, will be less satisfying, and eternity more precious, because it has become the home of another we so love. And on the great resurrection morn, by the merits of Christ, our Savior, in whose surpassing love out departed sister alone trusted, may she be among the first, in the familiar features she wore upon earth to welcome us to an eternal home, and an unbroken companionship in heaven. J. Lewistown, Oct. 25th, 1866.
