From Peterson's Magazine for September. Apple Jelly .- Cut off all spots and decayed places on the apples; quarter them, but do not parc or core them; put in the peel of as many lemons as you like, about two to six or eight dozen of the apples; fill the preserving pan, and cover the fruit with spring water; boil them till they are in a pulp, then pour them into a jelly-bag; let them strain all night, do not squeeze them. To every pint of juice put one pound of white sugar, put in the juice of the lemons you had before pared, but strain it through muslin. You may also put in about a teaspoonful of essence of lemon; let it boil for at least twenty minutes, it will look redder than at first; skim it well at the time Put it either in shapes or pot, and cover it the next day. It ought to be quite stiff and very clear.

To Pickle Red Cabbage. - Take a firm, fresh cabbage, remove the whole of the outer leaves, keeping the ball entire. Cut it into four quarters, and, subsequently, into strips, and place them on a hair-sieve or a clean, dry cloth, and sprinkle with salt. Let them remain for three days to allow the brine to drain off. After they are thoroughly drained, put them in a clean jar. Take as much vinegar as will cover them, and let it simmer over a slow fire, with allspice, whole black pepper, coarse brown ginger, and a little pimento. When the vinegar is sufficiently flavored let it cool, and pour it over the cabbage in the jar, which must be stopped down for use, and kept for three months.

Pickled Eggs .- At the season of the year when eggs are plentiful, boil some four or six dozen in a capacious saucepan, until they become quite hard .-Then, after carefully removing the shells, lay them in large-mouthed jars, and pour over them scalding vinegar, well seasoned with whole pepper, allspice, a few races of ginger, and a few cloves or garlic. When cold, bung down closely, and in a month they are fit for use: Where eggs are plentiful, the above pickle is by no means expensive, and is a relishing accompani ment to cold meat.

Bread Sauce. - Break three-quarters of a pound of stale bread into small pieces, carefully excluding any crusty and outside bits, having previously simmered till quite tender, an onion, well peeled and quartered, in a pint of milk. Put the crumbs into a very clean saucepan, and, if you like the flavor, a small teaspoonful of sliced onion, chopped, or rather minced, as finely as possible. Pour over the milk, taking away the onion simmered in it, cover it up, and let it stand for an hour to soak Then, with a fork, beat it quite smooth, and season with a very little powdered mace, Cayenne and salt to taste, adding one ounce of but ter; give the whole a boil, stirring all the time, and it is ready to serve. A small quantity of cream, added at the last moment, makes the sauce richer and smoother. Common white pepper may take the place of Cayenne, a few peppercorns may be simmered in the milk, but they should be extracted before sending to table

Telegraphing.

The arrangements for Telegraphing are far in advance of anything of the kind ever offered to the public. A regular Telegraph Line is connected with the Institution with twenty branch offices in various parts of the city, where public business is transacted, and in which the students of this Institution are per mitted to practice. No regular office practice can be had in any other school of instruction in the country, without which no one can obtain a position as a practical operator. Young men are cautioned against the deception representations of those who, without any such facilities, pretend to teach Telegraphing.

Patronage.

This Institution is now enjoying the largest patronage ever bestowed upon any commercial school in the State. Over five hundred students were in attendance the first year, and over seven hundred during the past year. The best class of students may invariably be found here, and all its associations are first-class.
