Democracy Advancing.

Until lately we could not understand how the copperheads intended to fulfil their predictions that in two years negro suffrage would be a fixed fact, but light is breaking, day is dawning, as we now perceive that they are preparing the democracy for a grand change on the nigger question, by which that party is to "turn about, wheel about, and do just so," in Jim Crow style, in order that Sambo's vote may be secured. Democratic candidates for office can therefore govern themselves accordingly, as there is no doubt in • a few years it will be fashionable demoeratically to visit houses of "colored gentlamen,"-the nigger will be droppedto solicit their votes, and perhaps even kiss the baby. The Chicago Times, the leading organ of patent democracy in the northwest, thus takes time by the forelock in this matter, and of course the lesser lights will follow. Here is what it savs :

"The present is a crisis in the Demo-cratic party which has no precedent in its history, as it is a crisis in the progress of the country, which is also without prece-Never before has the Democratic party encountered events so seriously afcting its future vitality as now. Not that it beholds itself diminished in the magnitude of its numbers-for it is numerically stronger than it has ever been before—but that, having been beaten on a great national issue, as to which it believed itself to be wholly right and the opposition wholly wrong, and still so believes, it must nevertheless abandon that issue— for the decision of it is final—and either sit down in helpless and decaying inac-tivity, or strike boldly out upon a new line, selected with peculiar reference, not to things as we would have them, but to things as they actually are, and in pursu-ing which line it shall cease to be a holdback or 'conservative' party, and become, what it was in its palmy days, a progres-sive and an aggressive party. These are the alternatives.

"It will not sit down in helpless and decaying inactivity."

What, then, shall the new line be?-In the first place, must we not cut loose from the administration of Andrew Johnson, and leave that hybrid concern to float on the sea of public comtempt into which it some time since entered, and from

The Middle Creek Railroad. The following article from the Sunbury American shows the importance attached to the construction of this road by the coal interest, and will afford an additional incentive to subscriptions here, where the road ought to be commenced as soon as practicable and put into operation east-ward as far as possible. If, in the mean-time, Treverton, Selinsgrove, Sunbury, or

Northumberland, can present sufficient inducements to make either the terminus, the sooner it is done the better :

has just completed the preliminary surveys for this road to Northumberland, Sunbury, and the Treverton Bridge.

Are our people aware of the vast impor-tance of this work to this section, and of the necessity of making some effort to secure the eastern terminus at this place. which, it is understood, can be accom-plished by liberal subscriptions to the stock?

Rail Roads with four Roads at this place. the Northern Central, Philadelphia & Erie, Shamokin Valley, and (virtually) the Lackawana & Bloomsburg. It will also connect the absolutely inexhaustible beds of the most valuable iron ores in the world, adjacent to its western terminus and the entire line, with the equally in-exhaustible Anthracite Coal fields east of the Susquehanna.

The more valuable of these ores can only be profitably reduced by the use of An-thracite coal—and recent results have established the important and invaluable fact that the Anthracite Blast will produce the very best quality of Iron for any purpose.

Coal will also be required, besides that for manufacturing and domestic purposes, for burning lime for fertilizing 175,000 acres of land along the line of the road. A careful collection of statistics and estimates from persons of reliable judgment and experience in the Iron and Coal interests of the State, leaves no doubt of the fact, that the road, within a very few years after its completion, will transport 200,000 tons of coal per annum. This amount of transportation alone will involve a net profit which will more than equal the interest upon the entire cost of the road. But the road will have, in addition, heavy return freights of ore for eastern furnaces, the immense agricultural products of the rich vallies drained. to supply the non-producing coal regions, a heavy passenger traffic, &c., &c.

It will be a paying investment. Will not those interested in the prosperity of the Borough of Sunbury, the coal region, and this whole section of country, take some interest in the matter and subscribe liberally in aid of the undertaking?— Sunbury American. ----

The Educational Department.

We have for several years devoted considerable space, in fact almost yielded control of it, for the benefit of the teachers of this county, who of all others would be supposed to take most interest in the advancement and continuance of a matter certainly more important to them than to us. We find however that, beyond a few, it is a subject of no apparent concern to the teachers as a body. They, without question, have been benefited the pecuniarily by it, for it must be evident to the most obtuse intellect among them that when they have had the opportunity of presenting claims to an increased compensation, reduction of school terms, and other private interests, to the readers of the Gazette throughout the county, the probabilities are they owed something to its influence. They may not be aware that it costs us money to put educational articles into type, probably forty or fifty dollars a year; they may not know that the space thus occupied could readily year in advertising-yet these are facts which it is time they should know. Although subscriptions to the Gazette are of little account, the profit on them being next to nothing, it would look as if the class we speak of felt interested in an Educational Column, were their names generally to be found on our books, and it would also look as if the advice given and suggestions made were read. But what are the facts? In the principal district, with its dozen teachers, how many are subscribers? One directly, and three or four reside where the Gazette is takeh. In some others, the proportion is greater," but far from general. In times like the present, when it costs us three dollars where it formerly did one in publishing our paper, we cannot afford to be so philanthropic towards a class, threefourths of whom apparently care little or nothing whether such a column is published or not. We have therefore concluded, at the close of this month, to discontinue the Educational Column as a regu-

This Emerick would not allow, but would drive in front of him and thus prevent The distance from Lewistown to Sun-bury will not exceed 47 miles, connecting the Pennsylvania and Mifflin and Center to be fired into the ground for the purpose of frightening his horse so as to run suddenly ahead. Miller and Emerick immediately leaped from their vehicle, seized Mr. Dott's horse, and demanded what he fired his pistol for. Emerick, we believe approached the buggy, when Mr. Dott shot him in the cheek, the ball passing back in the bone to near the ear. He fell and was helpless. Mr. Miller then seized Mr. Dott and drew him from the buggy, Dott in the meantime shooting the buggy, bott in the meantime shooting Miller between the eyes above the nose, the ball passing obliquely through the eye brow and nose and passing out towards the cheek. A hand to hand fight then ensued, in which Dott was somewhat hurt, being the weaker of the two men. He finally cried murder, when Mr. Charles. who all this time had been sitting in the wagon, went back to see what was being done, and parted them, some five or six other men at the same time coming up and assisting him. The parties were all taken to Freeburg, a warrant was issued, Middleburg. He has since been released, on bail we believe. Miller's wound was not serious, but that of Emerick's was a severe one. He will recover.

It appears that several persons from our Bor-ough, Messrs. J. Heister Jones, _____ McCoy and George Freund, who were going on a hunting excursion, stopped there. Whilst there, the old gun was gotten out from a closet and handled by Mr. Frank. It was then laid upon the bar, and the sportsmen left. They had scarcely gotten a hundred yards from the house, when they heard the report of the gun, and hastening back to the house. they found Miss Annie lying upon the floor, killed by the discharge of the gun. It appears that whilst the drover was handling the gun, she was passing through the room, and as she was so doing the gun went off, and the load passing into her head just below the right eye, killed her almost instantly. It is stated, the drover became almost frantic, starting off down the torumite of full general and giving starting turnpike at full speed and giving the alarm at a neighbor's house. Joseph C. ### NOTICE.

The beautiful Piano Fortes of GROVESTEEN & Co. are deemed by all good judges to be the Ultima Thule of instruments of the kind. We cannot suggest what is wanting to make a mu-slcal instrument more perfect, although we are slow to admit that the limit of improvement can ever be attained.

Before they had brought their Pianos to their present excellence, they had submitted them to compe-tition with instruments of the best makers of this country and Europe, and received the reward of merit, over all others, at the celebrated World's Fair. It is but justice to say that the judgment thus pronounced has not been overruled by the musical world.

Still, by the improvements lately applied by them to their Pianos, it is admitted that a more perfect in strument has been made. They have accordingly achieved the paradox of making excellence more excellent. Surely, after this, they are entitled to the motto "Excelsior." nov14-1y

"What next? Can the Democratic parwhat hext? Can the bemocrate par-ty succeed until the negro question shall be gotten out of the way? It eannot.— What next? Is not negro suffrage inevi-table, and is not the quickest way to get the negro question out of the way to get once concede the suffrage, making issue only on the degree to which it shall be conceded? We know that many Democrats have not reaceed this advanced view of the case, and that such still feel greatly inclined to revolt at the proposition of negro suffrage in any degree, but let us tell them that it is always wise to accept the inevitable when the inevitable comes Negro suffrage, we say, is inevitable, and whether it shall be qualified or universal depends upon the promptness or otherwise with which the Democratic party shall move with reference to it. The South will speedily yield qualified negro suffrage upon the motion of the Democratic party; because, if for no other reason, she will soon see, if she does not already see, that if she do not yield it, she will utimately be compolled it, she will altimately be compelled to accept universal negro suffrage.

"It will be upon these questions that the Democratic party will triumph, and it will be by this triumph that constitutional government and our federal system will be preserved."

Truly the self-styled democracy is becoming a party of expedients, ready, like drowning men, to catch at straws. Within the past five years it tried rebellion in the South and found it would not do; it then tried copperheadism in the North, and found that would not do; next it tried Johnsonism and failed, and is now taking soundings for the "nigger!"

A WRONG IDEA.-It frequently occurs in conducting a paper that editors are waited upon and requested to suppress facts or rungors on account of the relatives or friends of unfortunate or guilty persons. In some cases this is all right, but where anything has become a matter of public potoriety through daily papers, we believe the publication of such articles has a better tendency to suppress than to feed public curiosity. In proof of this, we know a case where the most exaggerated stories were set affont and remained the talk for months, every week with a new addition, when had they been made known, people would have read the facts, made their comments, corrected absurd rumors, and the next excitement would have completely overshadowed it in a few days.

Solomon Books, who was crippled some years ago by a railroad accident, has been removed as mail agent on the Pa. R. Road and a copperhead appointed in his place. From the heartless proscription daily manifested, and which seems to be increasing, it is evident that some reforms are necessary in the appointing powers, by which the tenure of office will at least ome secure for one term, with good behavior.

To spare the feelings of bereaved relatives, upon whom this terrible blow will fall with crushing effect, we suppress names of persons and places, only giving such as are necessary to make the account intelligible.

Early last spring, a young lady of wealth and refinement, occupying the highest social position, and endowed by nature with great intellect and beauty, left her happy home to visit an intimate lady friend in Philadelphia. While there she was introduced to the brother of this lady, young gentleman of prepossessing appearance, occupying a position as clerk in a prominent house in the city. The acquaintance shortly ripened into intimacy, and intimacy into crime. Shortly after-wards she returned to her friends, and in May last started to visit a relative, coming to this city en route. While here she was taken suddenly ill, and applying to a prominent physician and former acquaintance was shocked to learn that she was enciente. Her intended visit was at once given up, and she determined to remain absent from her friends until the crisis was past. Securing rooms at a first class hotel she endeavored to live in as much retirement as possible. Wearying of this life at length, she went to Cleveland, stopping at the American House, and thence to Detroit, but finally returned to Pitts burg about four weeks since, and through the mediation of friends obtained admis-sion to the Red Lion Hotel, where she received the kindest attention to the last. Soon after her return she deposited with a prominent broker on Fifth street, $275, retaining a sufficient sum to meet current retaining a sufficient sum to meet current expenses. This money was deposited in the name of Mrs. Nora P. Wallace, the name which she assumed upon her re-turn. Meanwhile she kept up frequent correspondence with her friends at home, representing all the while that she was teaching music in Cleveland, and to complete the deception had her letters mailed and received at that place. By this means her relatives were kept in constant ignorance of her condition, and the first intimation of it received will be the sad news of her death.

On Wednesday evening last she was suddenly seized with puerperal convul-sions, and after lingering in terrible agony until three o'clock yesterday afternoon, death ended her sufferings and remorse. Kind friends who had known her in medical skill of the city was brought into requisition, but to no avail. The Corowas informed of her death, but an investigation convinced him that an inquest was uncalled for. The remains of the unfortunate woman were to-day forwarded to her friends. Thus closes the tragedy of a young life. -Pittsburg Evening Chronicle, Nov. 16.
