Pudding (Bread and Butter.)-Cut several slices of bread rather thin; butter them on one side: put a layer of them in a pudding pan or dish, and a layer of currants above; then another layer of bread, and so on till the dish is full. Beat four eggs with a little ground cinnamon and nutmeg, also some sugar. Add milk to this, till there is sufficient to fill up the dish .-Then pour it over the bread, and allow it to stand for a time to soak. It will now be ready for either baking or boiling, as directed for bread puddings.

Pudding (a Potato.) - Mix 12 ozs. of potatoes boiled, skinned, and mashed, 1 oz. of suet, quarter pint milk, and 1 oz. cheese grated; add as much water as is necessary to produce a due consistence, and bake it in an earthen pan.

Pudding (a Baked Indian.)-Cut up a quarter of a pound of butter, in a pint of molasses, and warm them together till the butter is melted. Boil a quart of milk; and while scalding hot, pour it slowly over a pint of sifted Indian meal, and stir in the molasses and butter Cover it and let it steep for an hour. Then take off the cover, and set the mixture to cool. When it is cool, beat six eggs, and stir them gradually into it; add a tablespoonful of mixed cinnamon and nutmeg; and the grated peel of a lemon. Stir the whole very hard; put it into a buttered dish, and bake it two hours. Serve it up hot, and eat it with wine sauce, or with butter and molasses.

FOR ALL.

J. IRVIN WALLIS'S New Parlor Heater.

With this Stove two objects are perfectly attained, it is like the Parlor Gas Burner, yet so constructed, that you can throw nearly all the heat up stairs when needed, or turn it down at will; and in regard to economy, it has been scientifically tested, and found that the Russian Gas Burners produce more heat from a given quantity of coal than any other stove in use.
