Republican State Convention.

HARRISBURG, April 16, 1867.

The "Republican State Convention" will meet at the "Herdie House," in Williamsport, on Wednesday, the 26th of June next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to nominate a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, and to initiate proper measures for the ensuing State canvass. As heretofore, the Convention will be composed of Representatives and Senatorial Delegates, chosen in the usual way, and equal in number to the whole of the Senators and Representatives in the General Assembly.

By order of the State Central Committee.

The New York Constitutional Election.

The election for members to a constitutional convention for the State of New York came off in that State on Tuesday of last week and resulted in the choice of a majority of Republicans. According to the returns the political complexion of the convention will be as follows:

Democrats, 16
District delegates, 44
Republicans, 84

The "reaction" which copperheads so confidently predicted had commenced in Connecticut, has not extended as yet beyond the limits of the land of wooden nutmegs, but according to the above has rather retrograded, as the Republicans succeeded far beyond their expectations.

Some Difference.

A republican mass meeting was held at Beaufort, South Carolina, on the 15th April, at which B. H. Gleaves, a colored man, presided, delivering an eloquent address from which we quote the following paragraph:

"We rejoice to know that the Great Architect of the universe, the great Jehovah, in his divine wisdom, put it into the hearts of a majority of the American people to elect a man of true republican principles as chief magistrate of the nation, who in good time proclaimed all men free throughout the whole country. And today, the 15th of April, 1867, is the second anniversary of the death of that good man, our much lamented President Abraham Lincoln, a name that will ever be held sacred by all true lovers of Liberty. Yes! my friends, he died a martyr for the cause of freedom. We will therefore prove ourselves worthy by using all honorable means to preserve the Union upon the fundamental principle of the Declaration of Independence, which declares that all men are created equal."

It is somewhat remarkable that in all the speeches and proceedings of the black man South a deep reverence for the Creator pervades every movement, while the sound sense and often eloquent language of the degraded race awaken astonishment, not only among northern men but even with those who but lately regarded the colored man as a brute. In strange contrast with this and hundreds of other speeches made by freedmen, is the following from the Memphis Appeal, edited by Albert Pike, a white rebel, who incited the Indians to rise against the whites during the rebellion, afterwards pardoned by Andrew Johnson, and now spitting forth the demoniac venom of a fiend. In an article on the North, he says:

"Bankruptcy, foreign war, internal hatreds, a hell of fire thinly crusted over, new dissensions, separations, strife, new rivers of blood, repeated decimations, new lightnings of the red deserved wrath of God, the corroding stains of innocent blood upon the soul, the insensible horrid lapse into the most hideous of despotisms, all the Dantesque horrors of the infernal regions that the shades of dead nations, tortured inhabit—all these stare upon them out of the grim silent darkness of the future days."

What Christian man, what honest or decent white man, would for a moment hesitate to prefer the black to the white man in this case? Yet we have men in this county, in this town, who would not hesitate to take the Indian scalper by the hand and feel honored in walking by his side, and at the same time shriek out "nigger" at the humble Gleaves.

From the moment the military reconstruction bill was enforced order and security prevailed through the South. Should the Supreme Court decide against that act, as rebels and copperheads hope, we may look for bloodshed, if not anarchy.

The post office at Lock Haven was robbed on the night of the 26th April.

Forty-four cows were burnt in a shed at St. Louis a few weeks ago.

A number of shad were caught at Newport on the 22d April.

Mt. Union has been incorporated into a Borough.

The store of Cunningham and Carmon, Huntingdon, was burglariously entered on Friday a week and robbed of $25.

Two boys jumped from a coal train at Huntingdon last week. One was badly scared and a little bruised, and the other had a thumb badly injured.

The act abolishing the State tax on personal property and substituting a special assessment on each county did not become a law.

George Weaver, the incendiary, plead guilty to the charge at Harrisburg. While on the way to prison he attempted an escape, but was recaptured.

A law has passed the Virginia legislature levying a tax of 30 cents on the $100, to pay the four per cent. annual interest of the public debt.

The Mobile Advertiser chronicles it as a remarkable fact that a political meeting was recently held there, without a row or the firing of a gun or pistol.

At a fashionable wedding in Baltimore, a short time since, a lady appeared in a dress wholly of tin foil, gored and trimmed, with ear rings and bracelets also of tin.

A daughter of Mr. Bower, aged 8 years, was severely injured near Centreville, a few weeks ago, by a log rolling over her. Wm. Weirick cut himself severely in the knee.

Solomon Brooks, indicted by the postmaster at Harrisburg for stealing a key—a most ridiculous charge—has been acquitted of all blame by the grand jury ignoring the bill.

Senator Wilson addressed some six thousand people, on Monday evening a week, from the Capitol steps in Richmond, the majority of his hearers being colored.

A heavy shock of an earthquake was felt at Kansas City on Wednesday afternoon, but no serious damage was done. A similar shock was felt at Junction City, Kansas.

An old lady, named Mungold, residing near the Penna. R. R. Warehouse, was caught between two freight trains, in the yard in Altoona and instantly killed.

John Coder, a carpenter of Huntingdon, had the ends of his four fingers and thumb, on his left hand, taken off by the machinery at Burchinell's planing mill.

Major Elbow suggests that the Russian Possessions recently purchased might be puttable colonized by draft soldiers, bounty jumpers, and die-in-the-last-ditch rebels.

A despatch from Denver, Colorado, says that Lookout Station, on the Smoky Hill route, was destroyed by the Cheyenne Indians. Three men were murdered and scalped. General Hancock is supposed to be on the war path.

The Dayton, Ohio, Journal of Wednesday says: Yesterday was the fifty-fourth day since Mr. Brown, of this city, tasted food. This is the united testimony of Mr. Brown and his family, who are worthy people.

The Philadelphia Daily News, which has furnished various dishes for democratic consumption during the past year, has come to the conclusion that democracy was the cause of the war, that a party it was detached and corrupt, and that its most favored men are those who have fattened on its destruction.

A proposition has been made that telegraph operators should telegraph the storms and the direction they are taking to all the leading stations, and that cannon be then fired at each county seat announcing the approach of these storms, so that farmers and others could be on their guard.

General Sickles has shown that he is emphatically the right man in the right place, by teaching the ex-rebels that their determination to ignore, on all possible occasions, and in every manner, the existence of a Federal Government, must come to an end. We are told that when the annual parade of the fire department took place in Charleston, on the 28th inst., it had been arranged that there should be no American flag in the procession—a bit of negative treason which was promptly corrected by an order from Gen. Sickles that there should be no further advance without the stars and stripes.

BOOK NOTICES.

The Atlantic Monthly for May contains, among much else that is attractive, the Guardian Angel, part 5, by O. W. Holmes; History of the Sewing Machine—a sketch of the invention of them, the difficulties and delays in securing their introduction to use, and of the changes effected by James P. Barton; Heart and Hearth, a poem, by T. Buchanan Read; the Genius of Dickens, a critical essay, by E. P. Whipple; Germany in New York, by Charles Dawson Shanly; Katharine Morne, part 7, by the author of "Herman; Sorrow, a poem; the Plaintiff Nonsuited; Some unappreciated Characters, a humorous statement, &c. $4 a year, Ticknor & Fields, Boston.

Godey's Lady's Book for May is on our table filled with the usual variety of matter interesting to ladies. The embellishments consist of Play Hours, an excellent design and a first-class steel plate colored Fashion Plate; Patterns in Patchwork; and Sleeping in Church. Descriptions of useful and ornamental articles, with other articles of pleasure and profit to ladies generally. $3 per annum, L. A. Godey, corner 6th and Chestnut streets, Phila.

Beadle's Monthly.—The contents of the May number are as follows: The Crescent City; From Post to Pillar; Ancient Keneas; Who was He; Amor Vinit; New Englandism; Autobiographic Notes; Conversation; Our First Cause; Words of the Whale; Greenblow in Gotham; Words from the People, &c. $3 per annum, Beadle & Co., New York.

The season may be late in presenting its smiling countenance, but not so Demorest's Monthly. It is on hand for May, sublimed with novelties, brilliant ideas, illustrations, poetry, music, braid patterns, dress patterns, architecture, and a host of other valuable matter useful and indispensable to every household. $3 a year. W. Jennings Demorest, 473 Broadway, New York.

The prospects for an excellent crop of wheat, east, west, north and south, are good, and it is hoped the yield will be so great as to defy speculators.

Of the almost innumerable number of preparations in the market for restoring gray hair to its original color, we know of none which gives so universal satisfaction as Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia. We have tried it and found it to restore the color in a truly wonderful manner—as well as to remove dandruff and all itching caused by humors of the scalp. Try it and be satisfied.

There is no reason whatever why grain and flour should be at the enormous prices they are. The control of the markets seems to be in the hands of a few unprincipled dealers in each city, who of course have their tools all over the land. By this means the poor and middling classes are oppressed and robbed most shamefully. Hell must have a special hole for such fellows.

Fairs are now very popular in the South, as a source of raising means with which to furnish material to decorate the graves of the rebel dead. She-secessionists are raising thousands of dollars to be squandered in that manner, while at the same time the people of the North are asked to contribute funds to feed the starving vagabonds who became outlaws with the discharge of the rebel armies.

It is noticeable and suggestive in the reports of the colored mass meetings throughout the South, that they always break up with shouts and cheers for the stars and stripes—"the flag that makes us free." This is a new feature in Southern political meetings, and we fear will wound the feelings and offend the conservative sensibilities of the "reconstructed" chivalry.

Fields of Dock.—The root of yellow dock, so troublesome to farmers, is an effectual alternative and a most valuable medicine. In the neighborhood of Lowell, Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. have planted fields of it, most of which have been cut and dried. It is grown like the carrot or beet, in drills, and its quality or properties have been much improved by cultivation. It is one of the ingredients in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and we are informed, the extraordinary virtues of this preparation are largely due to the extract of this root that it contains. The Sarsaparilla root, used by this firm, is grown on plantations of their own, in Honduras, to secure an article of superior and wholly reliable quality. One of the reasons for the universally acknowledged superiority of their medicines, may be seen in the watchful care that is used in preparing them.—Vermont Statesman.

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruddy complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared but eighteen. When inquired as to cause of so great a change, she plainly told them she used the CARCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any lady's toilet. By its use any lady or gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also, healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. It is said that the Russian Government will receive from the United States a fleet of iron-clads, instead of the stipulated sum of money, in payment for the cession of the Russian possessions in North America.

Joseph G. Matthews, who was convicted at the late term of the Huntingdon county court for the burning of Mr. Goshorn's barn, and shooting two of his horses, was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary—ten years for burning the barn, and two and a half years for killing each horse.

The Hon. A. W. Benedict, Clerk of the House of Representatives of this State, and one of the secretaries of the State Central Committee, died on Sunday, at Huntingdon, of erysipelas. He faithfully performed his duties during the winter, and left Harrisburg at the close of the session in good health, and expected to return in a few days. We were widely known and much respected. It is believed that he started the first daily penny paper ever published in Philadelphia.

Although much difference exists between Andrew Johnson and Republicans on the construction of laws, there is a much greater difference between Johnson and the copperheads. Jerry Black and Buchanan could find nothing in the Constitution to put down a rebellion, while on the other hand Attorney-General Stanberry, in the recent application for an injunction, distinctly stated that the President authorized him to say that although he vetoed the military reconstruction bill, he would faithfully execute its provisions.

Juvenile Tragedy.

A Little Son of Judge Reeves Fatally Shot in a Quarrel with a Playmate. We have received information of a distressing affair which occurred at Somerville, Fayette county, on Saturday evening last. A difficulty occurred between a little son of Judge Reeves, of the Circuit Court, eleven years old, and another lad about the same age, son of Dewitt Mosely. Young Reeves caught Mosely by the collar with the left hand and was about striking him with the right, when the latter drew a revolver, and placing it against Arthur's breast, fired. The ball passed through the heart, and it is supposed through the heart, lodging under the skin in the back. He fell immediately, exclaiming, "I am shot!" and died within a few minutes.

Young Mosely was arrested and had a hearing yesterday before Judges Cox, Tucker and George. A boy named James Bell, about twelve years of age, who was in company with the two boys at the time of the occurrence, was the only witness. After the examination, young Mosely was bound over in the sum of two thousand dollars, for trial at the Circuit Court. Young Reeves is represented to have been an unusual bright boy. Both families are plunged into profound sorrow by the occurrence. When will parents learn to discountenance the carrying of deadly weapons by their children.—Memphis (Tennessee) Post.
