Rosolis .- Put four pounds of the best loaf-sugar into a large porcelain kettle; and pour on it three quarts of water. When it has melted, set it over the fire, and boil and skim it, till the scum ceases to rise. Then add the whites of three eggs, whisked to a froth; and put in the shells also, bro-ken small. Let it again come to a boil. Then take it off the fire; and, when it is only lukewarm, throw in a quart of fresh rose leaves, stirring them well through the liquid. Cover the vessel, and let it stand till next day, till the fragrance of the roses is extracted .-Then remove the first rose leaves, with a skimmer, and put into it a second, and, afterwards, a third supply. When the syrup has a fine rose-flavor, strain it through a linen bag. If not perfectly clear, filter it through blotting-paper, pinned inside the bottom of a sieve. Then add half a pint of spirits of wine, that has been colored red, by infusing in it some alkanet root, tied up in a thin muslin bag. Bottle the mixture; and it will be a delicate liquor. Instead of rose-leaves, you may flavor it immediately, by stirring in a large portion of extract of roses. This liquor can be made very conveniently, where there is a garden abounding in roses.

Nector .- Take a pound of the best raisins, seeded and chopped; four lemons, sliced thin, and the yellow rind pared off from two other lemons; and two pounds of powdered loaf-sugar .-Put into a porcelain preserving kettle two gallons of water. Set it over the fire, and boil it half an hour. Then, while the water is boiling hard, put in the raisins, lemons, and sugar; and continue the boiling for ten minutes .-Pour the mixture into a vessel with a close cover, and let it stand four days; stirring it twice a day. Then strain it through a linen bag, and bottle it. It will be fit for use in a fortnight. Drink it from wine-glasses, with a small bit of ice in each.

Vanilla Syrup.-Put four or five vanilla beans into a very small, clean sauce pan, with half a pint of boiling water. Set it over the fire, (closely covered,) and boil it, till the flavor of the vanilla is thoroughly extracted, and the water tastes of it very strongly. Then take out the vanilla, and strain the liquid. Break up three pounds of the best double-refined loafsugar, and put it into a preservingkettle, with a quart of hot water .-When thoroughly melted, set it on the fire, and boil and skim it well, till the whole is reduced to nearly a quart. Then stir in the vanilla liquid, and let it boil five or six minutes longer. After taking it from the fire, pour it into a pitcher, till it is cool enough to transfer to small bottles. Then cork it tightly, and seal the corks.

It will be found excellent for flavor ing eustards, creams, &c., or to mix with ice-water, for a summer beverage. The extract will be stronger if the vanilla beans are split and cut into pieces before boiling, and tied up in a very thin muslin bag.

AGRICULTURAL.

Night Soil as a Manure.

The use of night soil as a fertilizer has frequently been advocated, but from the following it would appear that it is by no means a safe article .-The Springfield Republican in a recent article on this subject, says:

'Very severe prohibitions have been issued in France, England and Germany, against the use of poudrette, imperfectly prepared, it having been proven by careful experiments that the fcecal matter of sinks cannot be converted with safety into garden manure under five years' careful preparation. Pestilential and other diseases are propagated by vegetables grown in soil thus manured. Yet, it is stated that these death-dispersing deposits are absolutely used in the market gardens around our large American cities in their natural state, and many of the fruits and vegetables so grown can be told by the nostrils or the taste before they are cooked, and in process of cooking. It is the opinion of skillful medical observers, that nearly all the novel diseases which now afflict many American cities, owe their origin to the organic diseased matter taken up by vegetables and fruits grown in soil dressed by the feecal matter of sinks, and transferred to the stomach. Galloping consumption in persons whose families have never been subject to this terrible disease have been traced to the use of vegetables grown by poudrette.'
