The Late Legislature.

We took ground several weeks ago that the last legislature had passed a number of wise laws, among which were progressive steps that had in vain been sought before; that the charges by wholesale denunciation were made without warrant, and that we had seen nothing in that body which made it apparent its members were the knaves and fools a number of republican, and of course the whole gang of copperhead, papers held them up to be. Our opinion remains unchanged that these wholesale attacks are ill-advised and ungenerous, injurious to the republican party, and serving only to furnish food for the owls and bats of copperhead malignity and lying to fatten on. If particular members were untrue to their constituents, let them be held responsible by the people that elected them.

One of our most respected contemporaries who takes issue with us, admits that no new evils were practised. The fault of legislation then lies more in the mode and manner of doing business than in general corrupt practice. One great evil undoubtedly is, as has been the case for years, in suffering members to control the entire local legislation of their districts; and in this, we suspect, lies much of the corruption which has been practiced, for in such cases it would only require influence enough with two, three or four members to carry through bills with a snake in every section. This is all wrong, indefensible, and ought to be prohibited for although a member ought to be listened to with deference so far as legislation affects his immediate constituents, yet legislators ought not to suffer such bills to pass without knowing what they contained. But all this can be cured without wholesale denunciation, vague and indefinite charges, and food for that copperheadism which is eager to withdraw public attention from its rebel proclivities during the war. Let it be remembered at the outset of the session, when charges of bribery and corruption were made without stint, not one of the witnesses could substantiate a single assertion that had been published—not one could bring even the shadow of proof. Give us facts, and we will be as ready as any one to condemn faithlessness on the part of public servants.

BOOK NOTICES.

The safe of John Read of Huntingdon was blown open on Friday morning a week and robed of about $100.

The body of Willie Frilling, who was drowned in the river at Sunbury, on the evening of May 9th, was found near Marietta, Lancaster county, on Tuesday of last week.

A very serious accident occurred on Wednesday evening at the Mount Holly paper company's mill, in Cumberland county. Mr. Parker, the foreman of the mill, was adjusting a band on one of the large rolls when his arm was caught between the bands, and the roll, and his body carried around the shaft for several minutes at the rate of sixty revolutions per minute. When assistance arrived and Mr. Parker had been extricated, he had become quite insensible; his arm was terribly crushed, the bone having been fractured in five places. The injured man is about sixty years of age, and the shock to his system has been so great that he is in a very critical condition.

Despatched a Constantinople report that the Sublime Porte has consented to entreat the solution of the Cretan question to a commission of the European powers.

Democrat's Monthly.—This beautiful and favorite periodical comes to us with all the freshness and fragrance of the June roses. It improves with every issue, and we are not surprised that ladies find it the indispensable companion of their working as well as their leisure hours.

Telegraphic Dispatches.

LONDON, June 1—Evening.—A Berlin despatch of to-day reports that the Prussian Cabinet and the government of the Czar have come to an understanding on the Eastern question, and that the policy of either government in the East will hereafter be identical.

Despatched a Constantinople report that the Sublime Porte has consented to entreat the solution of the Cretan question to a commission of the European powers.

St. PETERSBURG, June 2.—The Imperial government has issued a proclamation extending a general amnesty to the Poles engaged in the last insurrection in Russian Poland.

PARIS, June 2.—Extraordinary preparations are being made by the French Government and the municipal authorities of Paris for the reception of the royal visitors expected here during the present month.

The Czar of Russia arrived here to-day from Berlin. It is announced that he will extend his visit to London.

Who appreciates the fact that there is any great importance attached to such a commodity as a PILL? It is generally supposed that you can get a pill to cure the laboratory of Dr. J. C. Ayer and you will be disengaged of the idea, that it is a trifle to make any medicine and adapt it to the wants of millions of men—to adjust it to their needs, and so cure their complaints, as to make them constant customers in all the zones.—Physicians find it requires some skill to adapt their doses to a single patient: ask them if it is not an intricate problem to adjust a purgative pill to the necessities of untold numbers so that it will benefit them nearly all. Dr. Ayer's laboratory supplies 100,000 doses of his Pills per day, or 19,000 a year. Think of that! Eseulapins! Well! may it whiten the head of any man to administer to that amount of suffering, and especially when, as is here evident, everything is done with the extremest nicely and care.—Randolph (Vt.) Statesman.

Odds and Ends.

Andrew Johnson is at Raleigh, N. C. His speeches thus far are each in two lines.

The town of Brunswick, Georgia, is visited with a flea plague. Old Scratch is probably about.

Have any babies been christened in this district after Andrew Johnson? Some grown ones tried to assume the name some time ago, but it wouldn't stick.

Refusing—to hear the editor of the Cambria Freeman talking about legislative corruption! Are bribery, corruption, intrigue, bargain and sale at Tyrone, more honorable than at Harrisburg?

The last three or four numbers of the Indiana Democrat, received at this office, were about as torn and ragged as the democracy of that county generally are the day after election.

The Cambria Freeman says that some of the old State robbers were Mr. Morrell's friends, and have grown fat and saucy. They must have gone through purgatory in order to have reached that point.

The Huntingdon Monitor has subsided from the spasmodic into the lethargic state. Its last intimation is that its democratic friends of Mifflin and Juniata cheated Huntingdon out of a delegate to the State Convention.

President Johnson has pardoned Gayle, the rebel who offered $1,000,000 for the assassination of President Lincoln. Johnson, we verily believe, would pardon the devil if he had a chance.

A fellow with the high sounding name of Snyder has been convicted of rape on a little girl at Lancaster, and sentenced to a fine of $100, costs, and 12 years in the penitentiary.

The republican vote in Kentucky at the late election was the same as that received by Lincoln in 1860. The rebel vote then and democratic vote now are also about the same.

The immaculate Standard don't like our proposal to furnish him with bait should an occasion offer, and calls us thin-skinned. Better that than to be thick-skinned.

A portrait of Andrew Johnson was put up at sale the other day, but not a funeral bust was heard. At last a little boy was induced to bid 5 cents, at which it was knocked down, but on finding what it was knocked down, but on finding what it was was threw it away.

The National Republican newspaper at Mobile has been suspended by the military authorities for advising the freedmen on what occasions they are justified in using firearms. This will please the democracy muchly. On the other hand, however, Gen. Sickles has committed a great outrage on that party by prohibiting the distillation of whisky from grain in South Carolina, giving as a reason that grain is more wanting for food than for the elixir of Democracy.

The editor of the Cambria Freeman's majority in this county, last fall, of which he seems to be proud, was as follows:

16 importations from Clearfield 16 votes
1 railroad gang, imported 18 " "
1 canal gang 12 "
25 weasels in Derry and Gran-ville 25 "
10 Andy Johnson men 19 "
17 barrels whisky 7 "
125 kegs lager 5 "
1 big pile greenbacks 18 "

Johnston's majority 111

It may be as well to state, for the information of those who read articles in the city papers, purporting to give an account of how the bill regulating the closing of taverns on Sundays, sale of liquor, &c., was passed, that they are the production of the Philadelphia Liquor League and are paid for as advertisements. To give plausibility to their charges, they carefully connect the lottery or gift bill for erecting an asylum for disabled soldiers.

Neighboring Counties.

The safe of John Read of Huntingdon was blown open on Friday morning a week and robed of about $100.

The injured man is about sixty years of age, and the shock to his system has been so great that he is in a very critical condition.

Harrison Echart, who was sentenced at the April term of Court, to three months' imprisonment in the county jail, for being implicated in the robbery of Enchelman's store in Perryville, Juniata county, will be released by means of a poker, tearing out the lath between two studs.

Thomas Lloyd Caldwell, cashier of Lloyd & Co.'s Banking House, at Tyrone, died a few weeks ago, after a short illness, of brain fever. He was about 28 years of age.

John Brotherton, Esq., of the Hollings Whig, has been recommended for Bankrupt Register for this district.—Should any of the fraternity break, we hope he will let them down easy.

The Clearfield Journal of the 29th contains no less than eleven notices of robbery, brutality, malicious mischief, horse thieving, receiving stolen goods, &c. Democracy flourishes there, and it must be a paradise for copperheads.

The Bankrupt Law went into operation on the 1st. Under it, imprisonment for debt ceases throughout all the States and Territories. By it all stay laws, preferences, voluntary agreements, and secret attachments are set aside. Five hundred dollars worth of household furniture, the wearing apparel of each family, and such other property as is by law exempted in the different States, can be held by debtors.

Thousands have been changed by the use of the Peruvian Syrup (a protode of Iron) from weak, sickly, feeble creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial. For Dyspepsia and Debility it is a specific.

A TRIP TO EUROPE.

LETTER NO. I.

Talking About it—Preparing for it—Making a Start—Leave-oh!—Sea-sickness—Nothing to Write—Future Letters.

My minister (a young gentleman well known to you) is preparing to go to Europe some time since, that he expected to see Europe from heaven, and would therefore save the trouble and expense it would cost him to see it while in this world. I hope to get a view of terra firma from that elevated position, also, but wishing to make a closer inspection of some of the objects which the old world contains than a "bird's-eye view" would afford, I concluded to suffice myself with a more extended tour, and go to Europe.

Mr. De Soto when he visited the shores of America, sought long and arduously for the "Spring of perpetual Youth," that those who bathed therein might never grow old in appearance. People of our day have in part discovered a substitute for this unfound spring in Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia, a few applications of which gives to white or gray hair that dark, strong and glossy appearance peculiar to youth. Any of our readers doubt this, let them try a bottle and be convinced of the truth of our assertion.
