Important Law suit.—Heavy Verdict.—The suit of Butler's heirs vs. Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was tried at Middletown, Snyder county, last week, and on Friday evening the jury rendered a verdict of $18,000 for the death of Col. Butler. Mrs. Butler was killed at the same time, and a suit is also depending for her death. A motion for a new trial was made, but this will hardly be argued before next court. The accident, it will be remembered, occurred this side of Lancaster, and from all the information that could be obtained at the time it was difficult to decide what caused it; but from the testimony on the part of the plaintiff it was shown that the cars were crowded, that the train was running at a high speed, and that the sudden turning of the axle and wheels (causing the loss of life) was a rotten tie. There was however much difference of opinion on this point among the witnesses, the defendants having produced several who testified to the ties being in good order.

Passing Through for Virginia.—A Hagerstown paper says:

"Within the past ten days quite a number of Pennsylvanians, hailing from Lancaster, Milford, Huntingdon and Centre counties, have been passing through our town en route for the Valley of Virginia. They come in groups generally of from four to eight, and from here travel by stage or private conveyance to the valley. These men are seeking investments in real estate."

Among others who have recently left is Israel Richwine, who goes to work for Messrs. Watson & Porter, near Lynchburg, Va., making fences on the large farm owned by Mr. W. and farmed by Mr. P.

We take the following rich sketch from the Harrisburg correspondent of one of our exchanges. Major Liggett is well known in this county, and his acquaintances will read his demise and resurrection with interest:

Office Hours Sold.—The appetite for public place is a growing disease among the American people. It matters not how great or insignificant a place may be, it is only necessary to assume that it is vacant to arouse a hungry pack of applicants for its possession. Let me give you a funny little illustration of this fact. The Keepership of the State Arsenal here is a cozy snuggery, paying twelve hundred dollars a year and exacting no labor that soils the hands or wears the brain to fulfill its duties. P. S. Liggett, of Juniata county, is the present incumbent of this place, a jovial, generous, pleasant man, of deep and ardent political proclivities, and of that unyielding Republican stamp which gives him great favor in the sight of his party. Liggett is mortal—Liggett has the asthma—Liggett looks ever in a semi-dying state. On Wednesday last it was rumored that Liggett was dead, when I, half dozen petitions floated through Harrisburg, each borne by an ardent applicant for the place, seeking endorsement as to fitness personal, y, and approval as to claim politically. Liggett's friends looked grave and sad at the loss of so amiable a fellow; when, just as the contest began to grow warm and threatening between the applicants or Liggett's shoes, the familiar form of that worthy official was seen on the board walk of the capital grounds, steadily approaching the Arsenal. Two of the applicants discarded the tall figure, and were almost thrown into spasms with the idea that it was Liggett's ghost. It was no spirit, however, from the spirit land; it was the ubiquitous Liggett himself, not dead, but living, and promising to continue in life upon the old principle of those holding office, that few die and none resign. No one enjoys this joke better than Liggett, who declares with great complacency that he can't believe he is a dead man.

Dr. John McLaughlin, who has been in the army since his trip to South America, paid our town a visit this week. He was stationed at Natchez, Miss., for some time, and has been mustered out, and intends going West to hang out the professional shingle.

Lee.—P. Ort commenced the regular delivery of ice on Monday last, and as the season for warm weather, strawberries, cream and other luxuries is now upon us, everybody of course will want it.

Pastoral Change.—Rev. A. D. Hawn, formerly of this place, having accepted a call from the Lyonsport Presbyterian Church of Williamsport, has tendered his resignation of the charge at Sunbury. The congregation adopted unanimously a preamble and resolutions regretting the change.

The Bankers.—The annual meeting of this denomination will be held at Pipe Creek, Md., on the 11th of June. At the Annual Meeting of 1899, held near Waynesboro, it was decided, "that there be no public preaching at the place where the Council is held," and "that there shall be no boarding tent put up at the place of meeting, to entertain and feed a mixed multitude, as before," but "that the Church holding the meeting shall make arrangements to receive and entertain the brethren and sisters privately."

The crowds that visit Grove's Ice Cream Rooms every evening attest the fact that he makes the best. People will go where they can get "good cats." While he supplies every article of substantial living at his store, his delicacies cannot be beat.

The Stock Freight Train east stops for way passengers. See schedule.

Mr. F. J. Hoffman has a specimen of wheat, obtained last fall from Messrs. Small, of York, which appears to be about two weeks earlier in heading than the crops around it.

A considerable amount of rain fell on Sunday, but the weather is again favorable to the crops.

The enlargement of the Gazette is favorably spoken of by our exchanges, for which they have our thanks. But one don't like our head, and another thinks the paper too broad for its length. Every one who has tasted, as the old woman said when she kissed the cow.

We are under obligations to Hon. D. J. Morrell, Adj. Gen. Russell, and J. A. Ross for sundry public documents.

A heavy thunder storm, with torrents of rain and hail in some places, passed over this county on Tuesday night of last week. It was most violent in the neighborhood of the Seminary.

Sturgis has fitted up his barbering and hairdressing saloon, next to Ritz's drug store, with much neatness, and whoever wears a smooth and easy shave, or hair dressed a la mode, will of course give him a call.

A pocket book containing about $20 in money and some papers of value was lost on Monday morning in Brown or Third street, or from the latter to the water company's lot. A suitable reward will be paid for its return to Russell's Banking House.

The borough authorities gave notice of an appeal on Thursday, last, but a number of our taxpayers in vain sought some one to appeal to. The charter absolutely requires an appeal to be held, and it was decided a number of years ago that no tax could be collected unless it was held.

The search for ores through this and neighboring counties continues with unabated zeal. In Huntingdon a ledge of rock has been discovered with strong traces of lead and silver, which is to be analyzed. In the "gold region" in this county every foot of ground supposed to contain the precious metal has been leased, except where owners have determined to hold on themselves. Whether any will pay, will probably be known within a few months.

Tippett's Harrisburg Steam Boiler works, erected in the spring of 1894, are among the objects which all visitors to that place ought to see. These works are supplied with steam facilities, improved patterns, machinery and tools, and with iron and coal at its doors, can manufacture work very low. The boilers for Baily's Nail Works, Lochiel Iron Works, Harrisburg, and various others, all give perfect satisfaction. A boiler made for the Central Press at Bellefonte, received a flattering notice in the columns of that paper of May 10th. See advertisement.

Dr. Thompson, Surgeon Dentist, has found it necessary to discontinue his practice at other points, the increased business requiring his constant attention at home. He has all the latest improvements in dentistry, by which he is enabled to operate on teeth without those painful resorts that used to render an extraction a subject of dread. Ladies and gentlemen will find for sale at his establishment, near the Red Lion Hotel a FRAGRANT TOILET MOUTH WASH, which cleans the gums, cleans the teeth, sweetens the breath, and makes the mouth a paradise. 54

At H. W. Junkin's Jewelry Store, can be found one of the best assortments of plain and fancy Portmonaies in town. New stock just received. Beautiful Fans, sold cheap—just what the ladies need now. While there, look at the varied styles of Teeth, Nail and Hair Brushes. Combs of all sizes. You will find his establishment full of articles of value and utility.

P. T. BARNUM'S (patent) ELASTIC STRAP and BUCKLES for pants, Vests and Drawers is a little invention which will commend itself to every gentleman who desires good fitting clothes without feeling restrained in his movements, and to persons who wear the straps and buckles from their garments it will be worth double the cost. These straps are very durable, neat, and of a variety of styles, colors and prices, to suit all. An agency for the sale of them here would be very profitable. See advertisement.

Attention is called to the advertisement in another column, of Madame H. A. Ferrigo, of Buffalo, N. Y., the great Astrologist and Clairvoyant. Madame P. can be consulted by letter, on all affairs of life, past, present and future.

Read the advertisement of Messrs. Berger, Shuts & Co., in another column, headed, "Afflicted, suffer no more."

Special Notices.

A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was lately recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse rustic, she had a soft, refined complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared to be eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them she used the CARCASSIAN BALM, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any lady's toilet. By its use any lady or gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from the skin, healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. Prospects of the Crops.

The people are deeply interested in the coming harvest, and, in the midst of present high prices and the impending gloom of a wet, cold and backward season, an assurance that better days are in store and not far off, is like a ray of sunshine on a dark day. We have gleaned the following accounts and promises from the sources named, and which are entitled to credit for reliability.

NEW ENGLAND. The crops in New England give good promise. There was more winter wheat sown last fall than usual, and a lost sowing of spring wheat will help to swell the supply. Main, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut promise more than a usual crop of grain and fruit. The Manchester (N. H.) Mirror says that the rains of this spring have been very advantageous to the soil of New Hampshire. Grass has started finely, and it the rains continue, May will make a crop of hay that will cause farmers and purchasing consumers to laugh. It was five years since the earth was full of water till now, and as a consequence the crops have been light everywhere. The St. Johnsbury (Vt.) Caledonian says the recent rains have made the high price of hay tremble.

NEW JERSEY. This sandy State will be benefited by the rains, and the promise of fruit is good. The Newark Advertiser says that blossoms are profuse, and that although the weather is cold, the only fruit injured, and that but slightly, is the early strawberry.

NEW YORK. The Albany Evening Journal has an intelligent correspondent, who has traveled through several of the central counties of this State, and who reports that winter grains, so far as he has observed, are looking remarkably forward, and of vigorous growth. There was no appearance of its being winter killed. The grass also promises a remarkable yield.

PENNSYLVANIA. The growing wheat in the grain growing sections of this State gives gratifying token of a good crop. The promise has never been better.

OHIO. The Cincinnati Gazette says the new crop of wheat will come upon a market more bare than has been experienced for a great many years. This being the case, it is particularly pleasant to know that the growing wheat in some sections the breadth of land planted was not as large as usual, owing to the great scarcity of seed; but there is, nevertheless, fair average of land under winter wheat, and if the harvest turns out as well as it now promises we shall have a large yield. The crop is of course still liable to suffer, but let it suffice for the present that the prospects are excellent and the season decidedly favorable.

INDIANA. The accounts are not quite as favorable from this State as from other sections, but the indications are by no means discouraging. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer who has traveled over the State, gives as the result of his observations, that the crop will be an average.

ILLINOIS. The Chicago Tribune says the winter wheat is luxuriant and promises a full average crop, which would undoubtedly be larger had it not been for the rainy weather last fall, which curtailed the sowing. The increased breadth of spring wheat, induced by the present high prices, will, however, make up for deficiencies in the winter crop.

The Springfield Register gives a glowing account of the fruit promise in that State. It says apples, pears, cherries, apricots and quinces will be abundant.

MICHIGAN. The accounts from Berrien, Cass, Eaton, Ionia, Washtenaw and Wayne counties, as well as other portions of the State, are that the prospect of a good crop of wheat has not been better for several years. The number of acres sown has been increased and the farmers are very cheerful and hopeful of an abundant harvest.

WISCONSIN AND MINNESOTA. Information derived from intelligent sources in these States indicate a good state of growing wheat and a largely increased crop. The number of acres sown in Wisconsin this year will be at least thirty per cent. greater than last year.

IOWA. The Dubuque Herald of the 9th ult. says: During the past week the farmers throughout the State have been busily engaged in putting in their spring crops. A greater quantity of ground has been sown to wheat this year than at any other season, and thus far promises well for its growth. The scarcity for this valuable cereal during the past spring has taught our farmers a lesson that they will not soon forget, and if they are short again it will be through no fault of theirs. The West Mitchell Press says: Gentlemen who have traveled in that locality say that although the season is backward the winter wheat never looked better. From present indications the granaries of Iowa will be filled to overflowing this fall.

MISSOURI. The St. Louis Dispatch says: "Looking at such prices as $3 85 a bushel for wheat, we may well congratulate our selves upon the prospect of the wheat crop. The fields in this section which were down to wheat last fall look very fine. They are covered with a thick carpet of the rarest verdure, and, if the season henceforth prove favorable, will yield most abundantly, the promise being that the crop will be as superior in quality as it will be in quantity. We have the same report as to the appearance of all the other fall sown grains. There is complaint of a 'backward season,' but there is plenty of
